JAKE SCHAEFER LEADS CUEISTS

In Averages He Is Even Superior to His Father.

The leading billiard player in the world at present is Jake Schaefer; that is, billiards as American, Spanish, Japanese, German and French play it. Young Jake was asked whether he is a better player than his famous father was. He shook his head—not in negation, but to signify he didn't know. "Hard to say," he interjected. "I never saw him play a great deal of billiards." "The answer to that," offered Maurice Daly, who was standing by, "is in the averages. Young Jake has made better ones than his father ever did." Young Jake plays the same flexible, delicate stroke for which his sire was noted, plays the ball just as close and has a touch equally exquisite and light. He plays the same system, yet is more like Frank Ives than his father was, which is to say he studies his shots more carefully. The wizard was more likely to be careless.

There was a don't-give-a-darnness about the elder Schaefer, such was his confidence in his execution to make the next shot, and the younger Jake is more accurate in landing on the second ball. He, like Ives, is almost perfect in getting to the second ball. Naturally, being more studious at the table, young Jake wouldn't count quite so fast. He is taller, more graceful, but can't reach any further, for Jake, the wizard, though a small man, had a wonderful reach. He was a more versatile billiardist than his son, solely because he played more kinds of billiards—18.2 and 18.1 cushion carems, the new en-tinged corner game, and was a brilliant three-cushion player. No doubt, young Jake would do any of them as well if he had to.

There are few cases of a son inheriting a gift to such a marked extent.

Sporting Squibs

Bombay boasts of a fine new horse racing track with a stand seating 20,000.

Jim Riley, hard-hitting first baseman of the Mobile club of the Southern league, has been sold to Dallas of the Texas league.

The New York public is holding a voting contest to select the "worst back." One suggestion is the winter back on the Kentucky derby.

One of the old-time football series will not be renewed next fall as Williams college will meet University of Pennsylvania instead of Columbia.

Stanley Ketchel was one boxer who often found it difficult to get bouts, as promoters and managers feared he would kill opponents in the ring.

Manager Wade Killefer of Seattle, announces the signing of Ole (Swede) Johnson, former Hollywood high school pitcher, to an Indian contract.

Binghamton of the New York-Pennsylvania league, has traded Pitcher Ed Hill to Nashville of the Southern league for John Newell, also a pitcher.

An Indiana paper says that on a bad road the most necessary spare part to carry is a good temper. Still it doesn't always get the car out of the ditch.

Perhaps the most coveted trophy that accrues to the winner of the woman's tennis championship is the unofficial but autocratic privilege of setting the styles in woman's sport garments.

Open Golf Champion

Willie MacFarlane, national open golf champion, announces that he will defend his title in the national open tournament to be held in July over the Sotelo club course, Columbus, Ohio.

How to Waterproof Clubs

A new process for treating wooden golf clubs makes them waterproof and extremely hard, says Popular Science Monthly. Heads of seasoned persimmon wood are subjected to a vacuum that extracts every particle of air and moisture from the wood, which then is impregnated with the newly discovered chemical. The club heads then are dried and hardened. Clubs treated in this manner are said to have greater driving power than other wooden clubs and not to shrink or expand with varying atmospheric conditions. Inserted face plates are not required, since the chemically treated wood is itself harder than fibre, bone or ivory.
