THE GARDEN BEAUTIFUL
 Whence came this garden beautiful,
 With the sweetened air of the rose,
 Where the trembling wing of the
 songster rests,
 And my heart oft comes for repose?
 'Twas here at night the Master
 came Lonely and grieved was He;
 "Father if it be thy will,
 Let this cup pass from me."
 And now where once he prayed alone,
 And tears of sorrow fell,
 There blooms the olive and the fig,
 The rose and asphodel.
 And here alone I come at night.
 And search the garden through:
 I know He left some word for me
 And left a prayer for you.

HAYES ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO N. C. DEMOCRATS

He Demands That Overman Speak on Issues; Many Attend Rally Here

(Asheville Times)
 Charging that the Democrats have been stricken with "stage fright" during the final phases of the campaign, Johnson J. Hayes, of North Wilkesboro, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, speaking before a large assemblage at the county courthouse Monday to bring forth their candidate, Senator Lee S. Overman, incumbent in the United States Senate, for a few speeches during the drive so voters may hear what he has to say on the issues.
 "Chairman Dawson," he declared "is struggling mightily to put up the gaps in the Democratic fence in this election." He declared and in putting forward Robert R. Reynolds as a warj HRDLUSHRDlan,"HRD as a speaker he is "hoping that he can persuade the 91,000 Democrats who voted for him in the primary to follow him back into the fold to vote for Senator Overman. It has been only four months since 'Bob' was convicting the 91,000 Democrats that North Carolina needs a new senator. But they will not be as easily converted as 'Bob'. He thinks this display of loyalty will serve him when he seeks another nomination, but the 'gods' have decreed other wise. The fireman, engineer and conductor of the Democratic machine will laugh at 'Bob' when he tries to come back."

Scores Overman's Silence

"Will Bob's supporters follow him for Overman?" the speaker asked. "Why should they? They didn't want him in the primary; has he said or done anything since that time to change them? He has not made a speech. He has not given out an interview to the press outlining his position on any question. He does not seem to be interested in the voters at all."
 "Some people want to know where Senator Overman is. Why is he silent? Has he been censored so that he is not permitted to do or say anything? Have the voters seen or heard from him since the primary? It is a sad commentary on the electorate of North Carolina is a candidate, who manifests such gross indifference to the votes can secure a majority of the votes." Referring to the fact that numerous Democratic speakers and leaders are in the midst of the campaign, Mr. Hayes said: "Overman, where art thou? What art thou doing for Democracy in this election?"

Charges Election Frauds

North Carolina Republicans will not only demand a "fair" election next month, said Mr. Hayes, but they will resort to every legal remedy to "rectify election frauds." "If an election is not to be fairly conducted and held," said "why go through the mockery and sham of it? Why not relieve the officials of committing these wrongs in the sight of God and man?"
 "If the conscience of the state is dead" Mr. Hayes said, "but I don't believe it is—some candidates will be compelled to answer contests in Congress. We not only demand a fair election, but we shall resort to every legal remedy available to rectify election frauds. We prefer honest election and no contest after the election, but free men can not afford to sleep when the sacred rights of a free and untrammelled ballot are ruthlessly ignored."

Smathers Speaks

Captain Kenneth Smathers, Republican candidate for the national house of representatives from the Tenth Congressional district against Zebulon Weaver, Democrat, incumbent, made a brief address before Mr. Hayes spoke.
 George M. Pritchard, congressional chairman for the Republican organization in the Tenth District, presided at the meeting. Mrs. R. J. Tighe, chairman of the Republican women's organization in this section, in a short address, declared the Republican party is gaining steadily in voting strength.
 In introducing the principal speaker of the evening, Mark W. Crown said Democrats in large numbers are getting tired of present election methods and many of them have reached the point where they will vote the Republican ticket in order to purify the ballot.

It has generally been conceded that it costs from two to four cents per mile to drive over hard-surfaced than unpaved roads.

There are no grades on the entire transcontinental Lincoln highway which the average car cannot climb. Compression should not be used on long down grades.

Will Erect Memorial to "Father of Good Roads"

Joseph H. Weeks, "the real father of good roads in Pennsylvania," who established the first comprehensive system of highways and who was the first president of the Keystone Automobile club, is to be honored by the erection of a $35,000 memorial in Swarthmore.
 Funds for the memorial are being raised through the efforts of the Keystone Automobile club and by popular subscription. The club has purchased a plot of ground triangular in shape at Baltimore avenue and Chester road, in the center of which it will erect a memorial monument, the center feature of which will be a bronze plaque containing a relief map of the state highway system established by the Sproul act of 1911, which act Mr. Weeks was instrumental in having written upon the statute books.
 The memorial will be in the nature of a small park, in the center of which there is to be a sunken terrace circular in form and at the bottom of which the plaque will rest. It then can be viewed from every angle. Mr. Weeks died in 1919, and plans for the memorial have been considered ever since that time.

Built 5,900 Miles of New Roads During 1925

Motorists will have about 5,900 more miles of concrete road to travel over during 1926 than they had in 1925. Added to the 31,700 miles built in previous years, there are now approximately 37,600 miles of concrete on the highways in the United States outside limits of incorporated cities and villages.
 The building of 5,900 miles of concrete highways in a single year establishes a new record and along with the improvement of many other miles of gravel and grading was no small job for the road builders. It involved the use of tremendous quantities of materials and the employment of a great army of workers.
 A feature of the past year's highway construction activities was the efforts of the road builders to inconvenience the motorists as little as possible. In every way the policies of the state highway departments were to serve the highway user.
 More attention was paid to detours around construction jobs. They were kept in good condition and were carefully marked so that the motorist could reach his destination with the least inconvenience.

Billions for Roads

Road-making plans for this year in America will call for the expenditure of nearly $1,250,000,000, which will exceed the amount thus spent in any previous year. It had been thought that fine progress had been made in the creation of great thoroughfares, but it seems that the soil has merely been scratched. As a result of the motor industry all the country is pledged to a program of road building that will ultimately link up virtually all the cities of the nation.

Closed Cars Displayed In Colors

The Charlotte Ford dealers will display for the first time Ford closed cars in three attractive colors: Fawn Gray, Highland Green and Royal Maroon.

A choice of the three colors is available on the coupe-tudor sedan or the fordor sedan; giving closed car buyers a most unusual selection.

The world-wide reputation which Ford cars enjoy today is the result of fundamentally correct design, quality materials—and more than twenty years of careful manufacturing.

Throughout all this time it has been the aim of the Ford Motor Company to make every Ford car a testimonial to Ford quality.

Ford cars are easy to drive—quick in traffic and inexpensive to operate. They can utilize driving and parking space that longer cars cannot be maneuvered into—a fact that is increasing in importance as traffic on the Streets and highways becomes more congested.

It has always been a Ford policy to provide transportation at lowest cost and while such desirable features as starter, balloon tires and now a selection of appealing colors are now standard equipment on all closed car models, special equipment which is often wanted by some purchasers, but which would have to be paid for by all if adopted as standard, is not included in Ford car prices. Any of this equipment can, however, be purchased at extremely low cost by the owner who seeks to individualize his car.
