

CHEVROLET AUTO STORY APPEALS

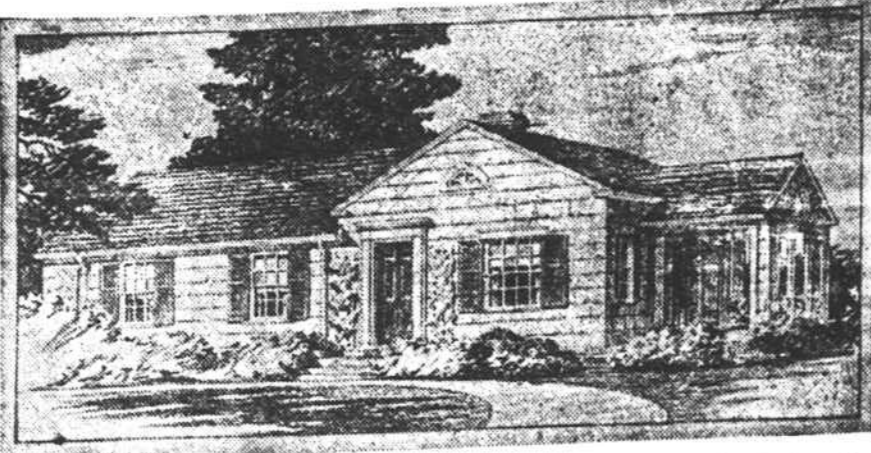

The automobile has invaded another realm of the horse, the dangerous game of "bulldogging" steers which has been popular in the Lone Star state ever since the vast herds of cattle first roamed its prairies.

The stunt was successfully performed recently for the first time by a daring cowgirl at the rodeo held at Bandera, Texas.

Crouched on the running board of a Chevrolet touring car, she rode in pursuit of a wild Texas steer. A group of yelling cowboys mounted on horses joined in the chase. The drive of the Chevrolet adroitly avoided a frenzied charge when the steer suddenly stood his ground and attempted to gore his pursurers.

The car then whirled in a swift circle and ran alongside the galloping steer. The cowgirl leaped from the running board to the animal's shoulders, locked one arm about his neck and threw him to the ground. She suffered no injury.

Veteran cowmen in Bandera county, the heart of the western ranch country, declare that "bulldogging"

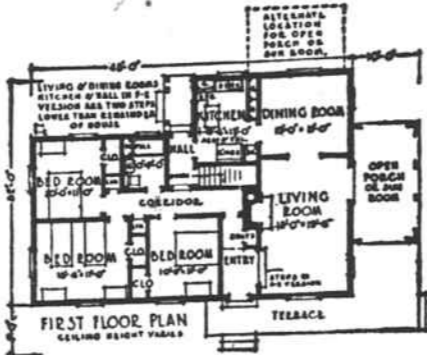

THERE is much to be said in favor of the one-story dwelling, and when the floor plan is as expertly arranged as in this Colonial bungalow the usual objections of lack of privacy and long distances to walk, are avoided.

This house may run either lengthwise or across the width of the lot. The exterior is of stained grey shingles with either a green shingled or tiled roof. The trimmings should be white and the shutters green to harmonize with the roof.

The three bedrooms are well shut off from the rest of the house. The large open porch or sunroom can be made to open off either the living or dining room. The kitchen has the desired built-in features, including the useful breakfast nook.

The cost of this house can be materially reduced by omitting the basement and allowing space on the main floor for a small boiler room. The walls and roof also are sheathed with celotex to keep the temperature at comfort point the year round.

It Pays to Watch Your Step When You Buy Ballons

Pathfinder Ballons are made and guaranteed by the largest manufacturer of quality tires. They're a safe and sane solution to your equipment problems AT A MIGHTY LOW PRICE.

Come in and let us quote you on your size.

Unknown brands are risky "bargains" in any type of tire—but especially so with Ballons.

Ballons work at lower pressures. They've got to be flexible. And it takes good materials and the highest degree of manufacturing skill to combine flexibility with strength in a tire carcass.
