TWO CASES

(Continued from Page 1) automobile, an act which incited her husband to spring from the other door to take issue. Attorney C. R. Wheatly, Jr., exhibited an enlarged photograph in evidence of injury to Mrs. Baber's arm allegedly caused by Corporal Spruill. Mr. Baber said that he also had been treated roughly by being handcuffed too tightly, when he was arrested.

Corporal Spruill said on the stand that he had requested Mrs. Baber to step out of the car, that he had not touched her, that both had been drinking, and that he had arrested Mr. Baber when the latter grasped his arms.

Cases were continued until next week against J. C. Skinner, charged with possession and transportation of a small quantity of non-taxed whiskey. A. N. Dean, operating a tractor with a harrow on a public highway; Levi Wilson, charged with breaking and entering the storehouse of Eddie Collins.

F. A. Stogner, driving without proper plates; Guy Dudley, charged with appearing in public drunk and Kenneth Lund, E. S. Pou, E. G. Barbie, V. G. Herring, J. C. Whaley, Jr., R. E. Beard, Leroy Guthrie, and D. L. Stallings, speaking.

In other cases heard Tuesday, George Warren paid $10 and court cost for driving without a license. Charges against him of theft of a car, drunken driving, careless and reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident at 8th and Bridges street in Morehead City two weeks ago, were dropped due to lack of evidence.

Mr. Wheatly, representing Mr. Warren, pointed out that the state was going on "assumption and supposition," and that neither Patrolmen Hubert Fulcher or Murphy Jenkins, who had arrested Mr. Warren 35 minutes after the accident, had seen anything relating to the charges.

Robert E. Heffner paid $100 and court costs on the charge of driving at 75 miles per hour. Francis J. Creedon paid $25 and court costs for careless and reckless driving. Sidney Thomas paid court costs for overloading his truck.

W. O. Cox, Jr., had his license taken away for 12 months and paid a $100 fine plus court costs on a drunken driving charge. J. B. Dixon paid court costs for allowing a minor to operate a vehicle.

Thomas C. Shoe was fined $10 and court costs for failing to stop at a stop sign. D. G. Guthrie and J. J. Jones paid court costs for driving with improper lights.

A. R. Nolle paid court costs for driving without proper plates. Sam Loftin was fined court costs for public drunkenness. Leon Weiss, Rose McLean, Robert E. Munford, L. A. Willis, A. C. Malpass, J. A. Miller, and C. E. Coyton were fined $10 and court costs for speeding, and G. X. Rious paid court costs for operating a vehicle with improper brakes.

Perhaps the biggest feature of their shop is the metal plating tanks now being installed. When finished in about a month, they claim their shop will be the only privately-owned job-plating shop in the eastern part of the state. Being added now are the copper, nickel, and silver plating ovens and to be added later, cadmium and chrome ovens.

Most of the metal plating done now is being sent to Norfolk, Baltimore, and Atlanta.

PARAMOUNT

(Continued from Page 1) good places he has missed. To use an old editorial form, we include in this particular editorial case includes a wife and four children) can testify about the dining room at the new Carolinian at Nags Head. Aycock Brown, who covers the Carolina waterfront and needs sustenance in the process, sends in both praise and a huge bill of fare from the Blue Ribbon Club near Morehead City on Route 70. There are other places but there are certainly not enough of them. It may be that the North Carolina vacationist only wishes a diet of coke and hot dog or is contented with a steady succession of greasy fish and greasy ham. There is at least a possibility, however, that the best of the tourists, ready to leave behind him most profit to the resorts, might like something a little better.

Its a fine thing to have water festivals and parades, symphonic dramas, maybe even dog track races at our coastal resorts. But a little better food would not hurt. The sad truth is that North Carolina with all its beauties and facilities remains largely a gastronomic desert. If it is really and truly interested in building a good and enduring vacation business, Variety Vacationland has got to provide some variety and quantity in the food it offers the vacationists. And at present it is doing a mighty poor job.

GIRL KILLED

In its investigation, the jury went both to the Jacksonville hospital and the scene of the tragedy. Coroner Lewis said.

Funeral services for the child were conducted at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Eureka Methodist church, Goldsboro.

Robert Saffrit's Allied Ceremonies at Faison

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saffrit, Jr., Ann street, Beaufort, and family, spent the weekend at Faison where they attended Sunday the ceremony dedicating a memorial to founder of the town, Henry Faison, one of Mrs. Saffrit's ancestors. Mrs. Saffrit, the former Elva Faison, lived at Faison until 1932 when she became the wife of Robert Saffrit and moved to Beaufort. The stone memorial to Henry Faison, founder, and his wife, was donated by John Sprunt Hill, of Durham, industrialist and philanthropist, who was born four miles from the site of the dedication.

More than a hundred descendants of Henry and Diana Griffin Faison, with townspeople, and friends, attended the program of dedication in the First Presbyterian church.

The memorial was formally presented by Mrs. K. R. Faison, president of the Faison Community foundation and was accepted for the town by Mayor L. D. Croom.

18 Service Club Members Attend Doggie Roast

Eighteen attended the Carteret County service club doggie roast and hamburger fry Friday night at Core Creek. A business meeting in the community building followed.

The next meeting, at which the club will be guests of Bernice Tallman, will take place at 8 o'clock Thursday night, June 17. R. M. Williams, county agent, showed two reels of movies after the business session.

Herbert Colenda to Take Part in Dress Parade

Herbert Fentress Colenda, of 702 Bridges street, Morehead City, will participate in a Navy dress parade to be given on Freshman field, Duke University by the R.O.T.C. unit at 4:30 today.

At the ceremonies, awards will be presented to those N. R. O. T. C. members who have attained outstanding proficiency in training.

Morehead City Firemen Answer Two False Alarms

Morehead City firemen were kept busy last night, and this morning answering two calls, one at 12:55, the other at 4:10 early this morning.

Andrew Bell drove the 750 gallon pumper both times. The first call was a false alarm pulled at box 46, 25th and Arendell streets; the second was an alarm turned in at box 15, 4th and Arendell streets. Firemen were called to put out a truck fire when the wiring ignited. Only damage was to the wiring.
