Church, State Agree To Keep Sabbath Holy

PRAGUE—(AP)—State authorities and Catholic church officials have come to an agreement that members of the church would not be required to serve in volunteer labor brigades and battalions that work on Sundays on building projects, in mines and industry, and in forestry work unless they are called out in emergency.

The question was a sore point because the administration called for workers to come out on Palm Sunday for a national volunteer work day. In Bohemia and in Moravia the workers turned out, some Catholics among them, but the clergy was distressed. In Slovakia because of the religious holiday, the national volunteer work day was postponed until after Easter, but church and state officials began a series of conferences on the program. Catholics will be permitted to work on Saturdays of other weekdays instead, under the new agreement.
