CITATION

This Sunday will be "Jack Gardner Day" in Morehead City as the team of that town take on Marshallberg in a Tidewater League contest in Wade Brothers ball park. Tomorrow the two teams will meet on Marshallberg's home diamond.

A number of Morehead City fans have organized to honor their slugging centerfielder and manager in pre-game ceremonies Sunday in recognition of the bang-up job that Jack has done for the club this season.

Gardner, besides covering the outfield like a hawk, has been slapping the ball around at a 400 clip. A good slugger and a "clinch" hitter, he has a large number of extra base hits and few home runs to his credit, and a fat runs-batted-in record to boot.

Batting in the number three slot in the Morehead batting order, Gardner has become the most feared batter in the league, and is often passed intentionally by opposing pitchers in order to avoid pitching to him.

Gardner is followed in the Morehead batting order by left fielder Joe Hill, former manager of Newport, and shortstop Footsy Palmer, state college star athlete who set an intercollegiate punting record in football last year. This trio is the dangerous "Murderers' Row" of an already slugging batting order.

Gardner assumed his managerial duties sometime in June after Moose Teeney, then manager of the club, decided to step down in favor of a younger man and a playing skipper.

Attesting to both his playing ability and his field leadership, the Morehead City team is now sitting in first place, leading second-place Swansboro by a half game. These two teams will apparently battle it out down to the wire for the league championship, with Marshallberg assuming the "dark horse" role.

Aside from these three teams, no other combination in the league appears to have even an outside chance to win league honors. In fact, the remaining five teams are playing a brand of ball well below the 500 percentage mark.

The fans who intend to honor Gardner are going around to the various merchants in Morehead City for gifts and donations which will be presented to Gardner before Sunday's game.

The movement is apparently a spontaneous one on the part of the fans. Prominently mentioned in the activity is Jack Roberts, who has been seeing many of the town's businessmen in regards to the various gifts.

Official capacity of the newly-enlarged Orange Bowl stadium is 60,132 seats.

Klontz One-Hits Wildwood Team

In the lone Salt Water League contest over the past weekend, Havelock whitewashed Wildwood behind the one-hit pitching of Klontz, 11-0.

The only safety off Klontz came in the second inning, when R. Davis hit an infield roller down the third base line and beat the throw to first base by a whisker. After that scratch single, Klontz kept the Wildwood diamondmen totally handcuffed for the remainder of the one-sided battle.

Charles Stuart pitched for the Wildwood team and allowed only eight scattered hits, but six errors at crucial times by the shaky defense behind him made the game a lopsided affair.

An error by the shortstop with the bases loaded in the third inning permitted three runs to score and set up another, opening the flood gates for the Havelock entry. Scoring two more in the sixth and five in the eighth, Havelock completed the bombardment.

Tom Dick caught for Wildwood, while Hopkins called the signals for Klontz.

Leading the Havelock attack offensively were Carden and Klontz, each with two hits in three times at bat.

Two Teams Keep Undefeated Slates

The ranks of the undefeated in the Carteret Softball League were whittled down to two Wednesday afternoon when only the Morehead City Lions Club and the Morehead City Jaycees could keep their respective slates clean.

The Lions Club soundly trounced the Morehead City Fire Department, 13-3, at the Beaufort ball park. "Naughty" Willis hurled for the victors, while Louis Hensen and Jim Smith tried to quell the booming bats of the Lions Club for the firemen.

The Jaycees blanked the previously undefeated Morehead City Technical Institute combination, 4-0, with Sam Guthrie doing the whitewashing job. Gene Hampton and Merriell constituted the battery for the losers. George Howard starred for the Junior Chamber by banging out three hits, including a home run. The game was played at Wade Brothers ball park, Morehead City.

In the lone other league contest Wednesday afternoon, the Beaufort Oddfellows came to a 9-9 standstill with the Tide Water Power company team in an eight-inning contest played at the section base diamond. Regulation time for Carteret Softball League games is seven innings. The game will be replayed today in Beaufort.
