Paul-Laughton Vows Solemnized In Formal Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Gloria Faye Laughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Laughton, of Beaufort, became the bride of Harry Allan Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grayden M. Paul, Sr., of Beaufort, in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church Saturday evening at eight o'clock. The Reverend Winfrey Davis, pastor, officiated.

The formal ceremony took place before a background of pine and southern smilax interspersed with seven, 9, 7, and 5 branch candelabra. The altar rail was draped in white and festooned with southern smilax while four floor baskets of gladioli and white chrysanthemums enhanced the beauty of the scene. The columns of the church were also entwined with smilax and pew markers were made of white satin ribbon with carnations and fern.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Charles Hassell, organist, and Miss Bettie Lou Merrill, soloist. Mrs. Hassell played "Clare de Lune" by Debussy, "Through the Years," "Adoration" by Borosky, "Canzonetta" by Hol-laender and "I Love Thee" by Greig. Miss Merrill sang "Because" and "At Dawning." "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as the benediction.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. George R. Laughton. She wore an original gown of candlelight duchess satin with a fitted bodice and sheer yoke with a bertha embroidered in seed pearls. The sleeves tapered to points over the hands. A full gathered skirt extended into of imported illusion and Chantilly lace fell from a tiara of ruffled illusion and lace. She carried an old fashioned nosegay centered with a mass of starlight roses bedded in off-white net surrounded by sprays of stephanotis with garlands of tube roses tied with a large bow and streamers of starlight satin ribbon. In the center of the bouquet was a purple throat orchid.

Mrs. Bonner Willis, Jr., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Hildred Carraway, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Anna Lou Laughton, sister of the bride, Misses Joyce Johnson, Margaret Ann Paul, of Norfolk, Va., Mary Frazier Paul, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Holden Ballou and Miss Eloise Jones, college roommate of the bride, of Oxford. Miss Shelia Jane Laughton, sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor, maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical gowns of lilac taffeta fashioned with off-the-shoulder neckline, a wide bertha with a bow on the left shoulder, fitted bodice and full skirt. Their headresses were tiaras of matching taffeta and they also wore short mitts. Their bouquets were nosegays of small yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with gladioli, tube roses and fern and tied with pastel multi-colored satin ribbon.

Grayden Paul, Jr., of Queens Village, Long Island, N. Y., brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and groomsmen were
