A report from the ways and means committee showed that $207.00 had been sent to the Grand Secretary to apply on the hospital building fund for the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. This sum was a result of a supper given in August and Evening of Fun party given in September. Incidentally, those who missed the party missed one of the most amusing events of the year. Plan now to be present at the next one.

A letter from Mrs. Gladys Tingle, chairman of the Octagon county committee urged members to get in their contributions for the Rainbow Assembly Group at Blowing Rock. The Chapter was asked if it would be host with Beaufort to the Grand Matron on her visit tentatively set for January 13th and was requested to exemplify balloting at the District meeting to be held in Vanceboro in January.

Mrs. Cooper turned the gavel over to Mr. Matthis who expressed his pleasure in being present and then reviewed Chapter obligations and stressed the importance of remembering those obligations at all times.

Mrs. Matthis complimented the Chapter on the work, thanked it for the corsage presented her and expressed her pleasure in meeting with the Chapter. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Cooper and Mr. Matthis after which the Chapter was closed in ritualistic form and a social hour was enjoyed in the reception hall which was decorated to carry out a hallowe'en theme with jack 'o' lanterns and streamers in hallowe'en colors. Everyone who didn't go to the Larry Clinton dance last Wednesday night is probably very sorry now. The music, outside of the fact that there was a little too much brass, was very good. And the singer, boy! was she good. She could sing the boogie like nobody's business. With the exception of a few intermissions, we really steadily from 9 to 1 and we really hated to leave. I sure hope we have many more of these famous name bands at our Recreation Center. They will surely draw big crowds!

HERE and THERE

With F. C. SALISBURY, Morehead City

After three weeks absence from the city, enjoying a vacation trip, we have been browsing about to see what has transpired during that time.

Out at Stroud's Food Center we find that all of the stalls of the former Morehead Motors building have been converted into store spaces.

First to occupy one of these converted stalls was Blanchard's Electric Service. Next door we find a business called The Yardstick. This business has been opened by a party from Cherry Point. Dress goods and other material by the yard is featured by this firm.

The next two stalls have been combined by an archway and is to be occupied as a drug store in a few weeks. To the north of the main building two stalls have been combined and will be occupied by the Double XX Auto Parts concern which at present is located on 8th street next to the A. B. C. store.

Northern yachts have started their annual southern trek. Last week at the Gulf dock the handsome 87 foot yacht "Nambay" tied up for a few days on its way to West Palm Beach.

The story back of the owner of this yacht, D. E. Taylor, reads like a Horatio Alger "success" story. Mr. Taylor was born and raised at Sea Level where his parents live today. His early life was spent in that community but as a young man he left this small fishing village to make his way in the business world.

Mr. Taylor became associated with water shipping interests until today he is the head of one of the largest steam ship lines on the Atlantic coast as well as being connected with large manufacturing interests. Mr. Taylor makes his home at West Palm Beach. There are several other Taylor boys who have made a success in the commercial and industrial field.

Should you land a large fish and do not have a scale handy to weigh it but do have a tape measure you can get its weight within a few ounces by the following method as given us by Harold Willis.

Measure the fish about its thickest part or girth, square this measurement, multiply this figure by the length of the fish and divide by 800. For example: Say the fish has a girth of 20 inches, length 20 inches—20x20 is 400x20 is 8000 divided by 800 gives you 10 pounds. Sounds easy, try it some time and see if it works out.

LeRoy Guthrie, veteran taxi operator, will soon have all of his taxi cabs equipped with two way radio telephones. The system will be of the Motorola make.

A suitable building for the housing of the equipment for transmitting and receiving is being built on the plaza in front of the Stroud's Food Center.

An operator stationed in the main building can be in constant radio communication with any of the Seashore taxis, transmitting calls while route, that in many cases will give quicker service, for the driver will not have to return to his station for orders.

Mr. Guthrie states that he plans to extend taxi stations at several advantageous points about the city, giving his patrons more prompt service. Should one care to talk to a driver of a cab over their home or business phone, a call to the transmitting station will connect one's phone line with the radio telephone which will be picked up by the driver either at his stand or while enroute.

With the growing demand for taxi service, Mr. Guthrie is out to give the public the best possible service by the installation of this modern communicating system.

The large concrete block building at the corner of 18th and Bridges street recently completed and owned by G. W. Huntley, of Beaufort, has been taken over as a show room and garage by the Mobley Buick Company. This concern is headed up by parties from Kingston who have entered this field in the sales and service of Buick automobiles.

A session of Federal Court opened in New Bern yesterday with Judge David E. Henderson of Asheville presiding. Twenty-seven jurors from Carteret county were drawn for this session of court. This was more than half the entire list of jurors drawn from the seven counties of this district.
