

Lejeune Yields To Bragg, 27-21

Victory in Last Two Minutes; Maksin Sprints 104 Yards for Score

CAMP LEJEUNE, Oct. 24—The Fort Bragg All-Americans today defeated the Lejeune Marines, 27-21, in the outstanding military game of the year in the South, coming from behind in the last two minutes to score on a 40-yard pass from Roger Mendivil to Fred Bell. Fort Bragg drew first blood when Lejeune punted after the first series of downs and Davidson passed to Ross for the score on the first play. Spencer scored again for the All-Americans in the first quarter on a 48-yard reverse.

The Marines, fighting hard, came back to score in the second quarter and to tie in the third, 14-14, as Frank Maksin went over from the 18.

Fort Bragg again took the lead in the fourth quarter when Meyers scored from the 20. Lejeune immediately regained the lead as Frank Maksin, in the first brilliant run of the game, took the kick-off in the end zone and went 104 yards for the score. Stein converted, making the score, 21-20.

Jim Law, Harold Davidson, and John Meyers were the outstanding backs for the All-Americans, and Frank Maksin was the mainstay of the Marines.

Scores for Fort Bragg: Ross 1, Spencer 1, Myers 1, Bell 1. Conversions: Long 3. Scores for Lejeune: Frank Higgs 1, Maksin 2. Conversions: Stein 3.

Coon and Deer Beware, County's Hunters Warm

With baseball season over, and hunting season officially underway as of Oct. 15, the talk is about the hounds and their quarry at the various twin city sportsmen's hangouts, such as LeRoy McIntosh's service station in Beaufort.

Tom Gibbs has a new tan corduroy hunting hat, "for the first time in 10 years," say the LeRoy's boys, and the coon and deer better beware.

Hunting license dispensers in the two towns report a total of 538 permits sold for 10 days of open season for deer, bear, possum, raccoon, squirrel and wild boar.

Marsh hen shooting was legal as of Sept. 1, the season on doves, open Sept. 16 closed Oct. 5.

The breakdown on licenses sold is as follows: In Beaufort, 131 county hunting, 43 state, 9 combination hunting and fishing and 8 non-resident; in Morehead City, 175 county hunting, 159 state, 31 combination and 2 non-resident.

Hunting sorties from LeRoy's daily and nightly report good bags on coon and deer. Five coons was the tally Wednesday night of last week by Tom Gibbs, T. P. Allen,

First Thousand Permits Issued for Croatan

The first thousand hunting permits for the Croatan National forest have been issued and authorities are well along in the opening of the hunting season, says John B. Fortin, ranger in charge of the Croatan forest.

There has been much hunting in the forest and hunters have been very fortunate, the ranger adds.

Opening day saw the Catfish road, which leads into the center of the forest, looking like a skirmish line, and two more of the forest roads were almost as well manned, says Mr. Fortin.

It was possible along the Catfish road to look down the straight road and see several hunters stationed along the road at the same time.

To date only one forest fire has been started by the hunters, but the Croatan forest has all the forest towers manned and is keeping a close lookout for fires.

Cero Popular With Deep Sea Sport Fishers

Cero, better known as kingfish and king mackerel in some localities, are the principal game fishes being caught in deep sea and Gulf Stream waters here at the present time.

Amberjack and dolphin are still available but good weather for going far off-shore is not always available at this season. The cero or most of them are being caught in the vicinity of Cape Lookout which is well inshore of the Gulf Stream.

The cero run started late and as these fishes have such an important role in angling along the Carteret coast, officials of Morehead City's Boatmen's Association which will award prizes to the winners of the first annual Sports Fish Round-Up to be sponsored by the organization, have extended the Boatmen's Association's contest until and including October 31st.

George Herbert, and Francis Stoy at Crow Hill near Otway. Jack and Hambone, Tom Gibbs' hounds, and T. P. Allen's Blue led the chase.

The same hunters using the same dogs bagged three coons Friday night back of Lloyd Smith's on the North River road, three miles from Beaufort.

Two bucks have been brought back so far by the deer markers who hunt LeRoy's. Allen and Herbert both shot at one which was brought back by a party consisting of Warren Willis, George Herbert, Dick Conway, T. P. Allen and George Herbert last week.

Willie Dickson killed a buck on the Cherry Point road near Cur Creek when a party of 12 went out Saturday night.

Ray Hassell, Dr. Clarence E. Linton and a large party reported seeing nine deer in the open around near Turnpike road but didn't bag one on opening day, Oct. 15.

"Never shoot a doe, but always got her buck," is Tom Gibbs' motto, they say.

Earth's Wobble Recorded In Rocky Mountain Shales

NEW YORK (AP)—The earth's wobbling motion has left its mark in the oil shales of the Rocky Mountains. The wobble is a motion like a top about to stop spinning. The earth takes about 21,000 years for a single wobble. How this motion has recorded itself in the oil shales is told in the latest publication of the Foundation for the Study of Cycles, by Willmot H. Bradley, of the U. S. Geological Survey.

These oil shales are like layered chocolate cake. About every 21,000 years, two layers of cake were formed, one for oil, and one for dry stone.

The timing is not quite that precise, but is so close to the earth's wobble that Dr. Bradley suggests it is not a coincidence. He thinks each double layer of rocks record one wobble, the proof rests mainly on the fact that the climate changes during one wobble. During half of this time the climate, in the American Rocky latitudes, has short, hot summers and winters long and relatively cool. In the other half of this period winters are short and mild and summers long and relatively warm. Dr. Bradley has to explain also the fact that the change from oil to dry stone is sharp. The climate changes, he notes, were certainly not sharp. He recites a little chemistry to show that in spite of gradual climate change, the shift from making one kind of rock to the other might be abrupt.
