Clayton-Rhodes Vows Spoken In Newport Methodist Church

The Newport Methodist Church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday afternoon when Miss Eleanor Dale Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Rhodes, of Newport, and Daryl Vincent Clayton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl V. Clayton, of Williamston, were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed at five o'clock in the afternoon by the Reverend J. M. Jolliff, pastor.

Pine and ivy were used to form a woodland background for the ceremony and the chancel was covered in ivy interspersed with white carnations. White tapers in candleabra and floor baskets of chrysanthemums were used also in the church with lighted candles in the windows. Pew markers were tapers with ribbons and white flowers.

Prior to the ceremony Mr. Fred Prescott, pianist, played "Romance" by J. Sibelius, and Garland Morris, soloist of Atlantic, sang "Through the Years" and "At Dawning." "The Lord's Prayer" was used as a benediction.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a cocktail dress of white faille which featured a tucked waist, cap sleeves, hooped skirt with scalloped hemline and a bustle effect bow in the back. She wore matching gauntlets. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations centered with a purple throated orchid and tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Ramona Rhodes, sister of the bride was maid-of-honor. Her dress was fashioned along lines similar to those of the bride in mint green and her headdress was a small hat of faille. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Richard West, wore an identical dress of dusty rose with matching gauntlets and head-dress and carried a nosegay of American Beauty carnations.

The bridegroom chose Clayton Sledge, of Weldon as his bestman. Ushers were J. D. Woolard, Jr., and Reginald Griffin of Williamston.

Mrs. Clayton, the bridegroom's mother, wore a gray crepe dress with blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Clayton is a graduate of the Newport High School and also of Louisburg College where she majored in a medical secretarial course. Prior to her marriage she was employed by Dr. B. F. Royal and Dr. John Morris in Morehead City.
