New Tricks with Corned Beef Hash

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
Quick, and economical too, are main dishes made from canned corned beef hash. Good-tasting besides, I'm glad to say, because corned beef always seems to me one of the meat products that takes best to canning.

Pictured here is a main course. Their dancing is like jitterbugging. Corned beef hash. Add canned peas and chili sauce and the main part of the dinner is put together in no time. Besides the quickie quality of this meat and vegetable course it recommends itself by feeding eight people for about a dollar.

To make the meat and potato loaf, press two 16-ounce cans of corned beef hash into a loaf pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for about 30 minutes. Unmold the loaf by loosening edges with a spatula and turn out onto serving plate. Garnish the loaf with chili sauce and onion rings and your family will love it! When it comes to serving the peas save all their vitamin content by draining the liquid from the can into a small saucepan. Boil the liquid rapidly so that it's reduced to about one-fourth cup, then add the peas, reheat quickly and serve.

Here's another way of utilizing corned beef hash and peas by combining them with cooked noodles. This makes a most attractive casserole dish, and since it's good "fork food" you may want to use the recipe for a buffet supper. Add a salad bowl of greens, coarsely shredded carrots and a tangy French dressing and you'll have an inexpensive main course everyone will like. An easy dessert for this menu would be fresh pears and white cheese with lots of good strong coffee.

CORNED BEEF HASH BUFFET CASSEROLE

Ingredients:
1 No. 2 can peas (2 1/4 to 2 1/2 cups), milk, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons enriched flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup grated cheese, 1/4 teaspoon tabasco sauce, 2 cups cooked noodles, 1 one-pound can corned beef hash.

Method:
Drain peas; measure liquid and add enough milk to make 1 1/2 cups. Melt fat in saucepan over low heat, add flour and salt and blend well. Add a few tablespoons of the liquid mixture and stir until smooth; now add the remaining liquid. Stirring constantly, bring to a boil rapidly. Remove from heat, add grated cheese and tabasco sauce and stir vigorously so cheese melts. Place 3/4 cup of the cooked noodles in the bottom of a pan about 6 1/2 x 10 1/2 inches or into a large casserole. Add a layer of peas, hash and cream sauce; repeat layers until all ingredients are used ending with hash in a border around the edge. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for about 30 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note:
It will take about 1 cup dry

Long Distance Worries

DENVER (AP) — The gent who telephoned Police Dispatcher James Lindsay from Mary, Ky., sounded pretty excited. He had been talking with his Denver girl friend by long distance, he said, when he heard "sounds like a brawl." Maybe his g. l. was in danger. Lindsay did some investigating and reported back that it was just one of the girl's male relatives who had been celebrating something or other in noisy but harmless fashion.

Home Hints

By Ruth Current
State Home Demonstration Agent
Oven meals are fuel savers and with a little care in selection of foods which require the same temperature many appetizing menus can be planned. When such an oven combination of foods has been found, write it in a notebook for future reference. If this is done each time one plans a different combination of food, much time will be conserved.

Many homemakers have adopted the plan of distinguishing favorite recipes by filing them on cards of some special color.

When trying a new recipe for the first time, it is a good plan to tabulate its degree of popularity with stars. One star may indicate that it is good; two stars, very good; three stars, excellent.

If no sure whether the baking powder you have on hand is still fresh, it may be tested in this way: Mix one teaspoon of baking powder with about one-third cup of hot water. If the mixture bubbles energetically, the baking powder is still active and can be used safely. If it does not bubble at all, the baking powder has lost its strength and should be thrown away.

In washing fine china, use a mild suds comfortable to the hands. Never use scouring powders or steel wool on dinnerware as these may damage the glaze. Raised decorations and embossing may be cleaned with a soft brush. Rinse with hot, not boiling water. Dry with a lintless cloth.

Ordinary dishes should not be subjected to extremes in temperatures as this treatment may crack the glaze. When warming dishes, never put them in a hot oven instead use very hot water.
