Miscellaneous Shower Given for Mr. & Mrs. Wade

Mesdames George Snooks, W. J. Laughton, J. G. Bennett and Miss Effie Willis were hostesses last Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Wade. The party was given in the Webb Memorial Civic Center at 7:30 p.m.

A beautiful yellow and white color scheme was carried out throughout the club rooms and refreshments were served from a table covered with an Italian cut-work cloth centered with the punch bowl and surrounded by white chrysanthemums flanked with white tapers in silver candlesticks. The refreshments of punch and cake with salted nuts were served by Miss Edith Broadway and Mrs. Sam Adler.

During the evening Mrs. Wade rendered a lovely solo and Mr. Wade entertained with two selections on the trombone.

Two tables laden with attractive gifts were brought in and placed before Mr. and Mrs. Wade who graciously thanked each guest as they opened their gift.

The hostesses presented the guests of honor with a lovely picture and the school faculty's gift was silver candleholders.

Mesdames Bell and Long Give Party in Newport

Mesdames J. Stancil Bell and C. S. Long entertained informally at a dessert bridge party, Thursday night, November 11th, in the home of Mrs. Bell.

The game rooms were thrown ensuite, and were decorated with giant white chrysanthemums and red and white roses.

On the arrival of the guests a dessert course of block ice cream, peanut butter cookies and ginger ale was served. A patriotic motif was used on the refreshment plate. Miniature American flags were used as favors.

Mrs. W. H. Bell was high scorer for the evening and was given Christmas cards. Mrs. R. D. Garner, the runner-up, was awarded ash tray-table numbers. The door prize Cameo notes, was won by Mrs. Leon Hughes Quinn.

Mrs. Marshall M. Ayscue, president of the Carteret Business and Professional Women's club, and Miss Ruth Peeling, secretary, will attend the annual mid-year council meeting of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs at Southern Pines this weekend.

The sessions, to be held in the Hollywood hotel, will begin tomorrow morning and continue until Sunday afternoon.

Delivering the address at tomorrow night's banquet will be Mrs. Sue Ramsay Ferguson, Taylorsville, former State senator. Presiding at the meetings will be Mrs. Kathryn Shipman, High Point, president of the North Carolina federation.

Mrs. Willie S. Johnson, president of the Clinton Business and Professional Women's club, and sister of Mrs. Ayscue, will preside at the luncheon at 12:30 tomorrow.

Mrs. Rudolph Lucas Wins High At Bridge Club

Mrs. Roselyn Ketter was hostess to the Wednesday evening bridge club at her home on the New Bern Highway.

High score prize, face powder, was won by Mrs. Rudolph Lucas, and second high, shampoo, went to Mrs. Wade Bell.

Five progressions were played at two tables after which the hostess served chocolate covered cup cakes with cokes, nuts and mints. Mrs. Raymond Rogers will entertain the club next week.

Capacity Crowd Attends Electric Cooking School

A capacity crowd packed the Carteret County Recreation center social hall for the Tide Water Power company cooking school Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Luther G. Johnson, whose office is in Wilmington, conducted the school and was assisted by Miss Carolyn Knight, home economist of the New Bern district, and Miss Ethel Hunnicutt, of the Whiteville district.

Three complete meals were prepared during the afternoon: an oven meal consisting of Spanish meal loaf with steamed rice, carrots, bran bread and upside down cake; a cooker meal of savory pot potatoes, onions and spicy oatmeal lamb chops, grilled tomato halves, sliced pineapple and broiled potatoes.

Mrs. Johnson prepared these meals in a minimum of time and gave some valuable hints on the use of electrical appliances—how to get the maximum results with minimum effort.

During the afternoon Robert Anderson, sales manager from Wil-

Bridge Club Meets With Miss Frances Pittman

Miss Frances Pittman entertained her bridge club Wednesday evening at her home on Evans Street. Mrs. Virginia Purfoy received sashet for high score and Mrs. James Macy, Jr., was consoled with guest soap.

Three progressions were played at two tables during which cokes with nuts were served. At the conclusion of the party the everyone enjoyed strawberry short cake.
