She said she had seen him receive money weekly from a local slot machine dealer, and another character, who reputedly ran a house of prostitution, bought all the food for the week.

Frank Costello, later in New York city, claimed that it was the late Huey Long who paved the way for Costello slot machines. He testified that Long sought his advice on how much revenue the slot could raise if it "legalized" slot machines. Costello sent Dandy Phil Kastel to make a survey. Long was assassinated shortly after, and the state never got into the slot machine business, but Costello and Kastel did.

They created a virtual slot machine monopoly in New Orleans, with profits that ran into the millions.

Such organizations always need "characters" to help them. We questioned one such character, 212-pound James Brocato, who calls himself Diamond Jim Moran. Brocato likes to bedeck himself with diamonds. He confided to a committee investigator that he even had a diamond pendant attached to the zipper of his trousers.

State Produces Holiday Turkeys

If you want a North Carolina-grown turkey for Thanksgiving, you shouldn't have any trouble finding one.

Farmers of the state are producing some 727,000 turkeys this year. This is a record number and more than double the 360,000 birds produced in 1948.

Turkey specialists at State college say one reason for the increase is that turkey, once known as a Thanksgiving treat only, has now become a year-round dish. Instead of sticking to just roast turkey, housewives are turning to such added delicacies as turkey fryer, turkey roll, and turkey steak.

To meet this year-round demand, farmers are now growing turkeys on a year-round basis.

Until a few years ago, growers started all their poults during four or five of the spring months. Each year they have started their birds days at Mrs. Herrington's home here. They will return to Norfolk Thursday.

The Mary C. Millis circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Christine Carroll. Mrs. Gerald Merrill, chairman, presided over the business session. The circle voted to serve as a sponsor for one of the newly-organized Brownie troops and Mrs. Charles Hill was appointed to serve on the troop committee as a representative of the circle. The December meeting of the circle, which will be at the home of Mrs. Merrill, was changed from the first Tuesday to the third Tuesday and will be in the form of a Christmas party.

After the business session, Mrs. George Pollard, jr., led the program. The group sang "What a Friend," after which Mrs. Pollard read the Scripture. Mrs. Zeb Mauney read the meditation on friendship and led the group in prayer. "I've Found a Friend" was sung, after which the meeting was adjourned. The hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Harry Livingston, served refreshments of strawberry short cake and coffee.
