

Golf Club Obtains 30-Day Option On Property at Crab Point

The Morehead City Country club has obtained a 30-day option on a piece of property at Crab Point belonging to Dave Battle Webb, Morehead City.

John Crump, Warren Beck and Robert Banks were appointed by President John Morris at Monday's golf meeting as a committee to have a surveyor make a contour map.

Ellis Maples of Raleigh is scheduled to look at the property and give an estimate on cost of laying out a course.

M. T. Mills, W. J. Blair and I. E. Pittman were appointed to handle funds. On the membership committee are Bud Dixon, J. C. Harvell, L. V. Jenkins, Dr. Russell Outlaw, Banks, H. Earle Mobley, D. G. Bell and Bernard Leary.

Grover Munden is chairman of the publicity committee and serving with him are Dr. Outlaw and Miss Ruth Peeling.

Dr. Morris planned a luncheon meeting for presidents of all the civic organizations in Morehead City to ask their help in the membership drive. This meeting took place yesterday at the waterfront cafe.

A list of the clubs and representatives invited follows: Alfred Cooper, Atlantic Beach; Grover Munden, publicity; Warren Beck, secretary of the golf club; Jimmy Wallace, Jaycees; D. G. Bell, chamber of commerce; Miss Peeling, Business and Professional Women's club; Joe DuBois, American Legion; Paul Jones, Elks; Mrs. E. A. Council, Woman's club; George McNeill, Rotary; Oscar Allred, Lions; Mrs. Marion Mills, Junior Woman's club; Harvell, merchants association; James B. Willis, Masons; R. H. Dowdy, Emeritus club.

Agreement was reached to have shares in the club remain at $100 each but a person may buy any number.

The next meeting will be at 4:30 p.m. Monday at the civic center.

Two Ships Dock Tuesday At Morehead City Port

Docking at Morehead City port Tuesday were a transport and a tanker. The transport was the Sanborn, APA 193. It picked up Marines for maneuvers near Camp Lejeune.

The tanker, the USS Morris Hess, from Texas City, Texas, discharged its cargo of fuel oil and returned to Texas City.

Due today is the tanker USNS Peconic. It will pick up jet fuel for the Navy.

Golf--A Community Asset

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on establishment of a golf course in a community. The articles are written by Dr. John Morris, president of the newly organized Morehead City Country Club. This organization is working now toward building a golf course in the Morehead City area.)

Thousands of young men learned the game.

Indoor war work also brought many new converts into golf as an entertaining and healthy change of activity from factory jobs.

Today the wartime influences are reflected in the greatest wave of play the game ever has known. High schools, colleges and golf practice ranges are bringing into golf constantly increasing waves of players.

The result is that a small town that does not have a golf course today is not keeping itself attractive to its younger people or providing its middle-aged men and women with a community recreation asset they'll appreciate and support financially.

The new golf club in the larger city is so financed and has so much expert talent personally available that its particular needs for guidance in the earlier stages are readily supplied.

There are a number of successful nine-hole clubs in towns of 3,000 population, so it may be safely said that the normal town of this size having no golf course needs to take prompt action. Among the benefits of installing a golf course are:

- (1) Providing play facilities that add to the attractions of the community as a place to live.
- (2) Community advertising — there is no "dead town" with a "live" golf course.
- (3) Self-financing, not only of the golf course but of a community park in addition, if the enterprise is properly planned, constructed and operated.

In the case of towns having less than 3,000 population, there are many instances where a golf course is desirable. Wherever the resort business is either established at present or may be developed, it will be found that a good golf course will draw profitable business with an added income that extends far beyond the limits of the course.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Baily reports that the seniors have started to work on the annual play entitled, "Her Emergency Husband." This is a superlative three-act farce by Jay Tobias and will be given April 4 in the Morehead City school auditorium. Casting has begun and practice will start the first week in March. The play calls for 11 characters, six women and five men.

After the basketball game Saturday night the boys' and girls' Hi-Y gave a dance at the American Legion hut honoring the guests from Southern Pines. Cookies, sandwiches, candy and soft drinks were served in the lobby. Music furnished from a victrola in the dance hall varied from square dances to waltzes. The festivities drew to a close about twelve o'clock.

A state-wide school debating contest of the North Carolina High School Debating union will be held March 28. Morehead City will hold a dual debate with the Farm Life high school of Vanceboro, with each school sending its team on the negative to debate against the other's affirmative. The query is: "Resolved, That All American Citizens Should Be Subject to Conscription for Essential Service in Time of War."

Those interested in this debate are James N. Willis, Robert Adams, Tommy Bennett, Edna Midgett, Bobby Matthews, Ann Carlton, Vernon Guthrie, Luetta Lewis, Hilliard Eure, Jackie Taylor, Henry Scott and Ann Garner. Material on the debate has been passed out to one senior class and one tenth grade so far. When the other classes receive it, there will be more pupils interested. From all these pupils there will be four chosen for the teams — two on each side.

The Morehead City chapter of the FHA held its monthly meeting Tuesday. Plans were made for a mother-daughter banquet to be held March 4. Further plans were made for those working on chapter degrees. Mention was made of the State convention to be held in Raleigh and the advisor, Mrs. Cordova, reminded them of the coming election of officers.

The boys Hi-Y had a combined weiner roast and hayride Monday night. They met at the civic center and the 26 present along with the advisor Mr. Staton went to Core Creek.

That's all for now folks — see you Tuesday.

... bye now ...
