Morrow-Davis Nuptials Performed Tuesday at 4 in Methodist Church

Amid a color scheme of pale yellow and blue, the marriage of Mrs. Maxine Guthrie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Guthrie, to Mr. Odis Jackson Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Morrow of Adamsville, Ala., was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Franklin Memorial Methodist church.

The Rev. A. L. Reynolds, pastor, assisted by the Rev. W. D. Caviness of High Point, former pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with yellow and blue gladioli with a background of greenery. The organist, Miss Enid Rose, presented a program of music before the ceremony and Miss Mary Laura Guthrie, soloist, sang Because, The Sweetest Story Ever Told and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of light blue taffeta with an overskirt of chantilly lace. The ballerina length dress had three-quarter length sleeves and a high collar. She wore matching accessories.

Her veil was of bridal blue illusion lace which fell from a halo cap. The bride carried a white satin prayer book topped with a yellow orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Walton Hamilton of Wilson, was her only attendant. She wore a pale yellow ballerina length dress with matching accessories and carried a nosegay of blue and yellow carnations.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Willis O. Morrow of Birmingham, Ala. Ushers were Walton Hamilton of Wilson and Beaufort, and William Roy Hamilton of Beaufort. Ring bearer was little John Thomas Davis, son of the bride. He wore a white suit.

The mother of the bride wore for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of beige linen with orchid accessories and yellow carnations. The parents of the groom were unable to attend.

The bridal couple were entertained at a cake cutting Monday night in the civic center. Mrs. Nick Galantis presided over the bride's

Nina Bette Rouse Becomes Bride Of Joseph Price, Morehead City

The marriage of Miss Nina Bette Rouse of Morehead City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leethur Carr Rouse of Grifton, to Mr. Joseph Fleming Price of Morehead City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Eugene Price of Grifton, was solemnized by candlelight in the Beth-El Christian church near Grifton Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The Rev. Paul Parker of Hookerton, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Alfred Bartlett of LaGrange was the pianist and played nuptial music preceding the ceremony. Aviation Cadet Richard Miller of Stallings Field, Kinston, soloist, sang The Sweetest Story Ever Told, Through the Years and The Lord's Prayer. The last was used as a benediction.

The church was decorated in green and white. Potted palms, myrtle and fern formed a screen of greenery for arrangements of snapdragons and feverfew. White candles in seven-branched candelabra blanketed the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Elbert T. Rouse of Bailey, wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon tulle and chantilly lace over bridal satin. Crushed nylon tulle was at the top of the strapless lace bodice, over which was a brief lace jacket which had long tapering sleeves and a tiny standing collar.

A gathered lace ruffle fell over the bouffant tulle skirt. Her elbow length veil of French illusion was attached to the back of a bonnet-effect hat trimmed with orange blossoms, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a purple-throated white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Jean Jackson Smiley of Kinston, cousin of the bride, was the bride's only attendant, and she wore an aqua strapless ballerina length dress with a matching stole. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Her headdress was a ruffled bandeau the same color as her dress and she wore matching mits.

The bridegroom had as his best man his nephew, Mr. Bernard McLawhorn of Grifton. Ushers were Messrs. Luther Pittman and Glyn Price of Grifton.

Mrs. Rouse, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue nylon dress with blue and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of dusty rose crepe with navy accessories and her corsage was also of white carnations.

Mrs. Price is a graduate of Contentnea high school, Kinston, and the Memorial General hospital school of nursing, Kinston. She is now a member of the Morehead City hospital staff.
