Jeraldine Hedgecock Becomes Bride of Bertie M. Brooks Sunday

In a beautiful ceremony Sunday at three o'clock in the afternoon in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Beaufort, Miss Jeraldine Hedgecock and Mr. Bertie Monroe Brooks were united in marriage. The Rev. C. Edward Sharpe, rector, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white gladiolas, white carnations, and white daisies.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Joseph House, organist, and Mr. Charles E. Idol, soloist and uncle of the bride, gave a program of nuptial music. Among their selections were O Perfect Love and Cana's Wedding Feast.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace over satin with a lace bodice. The sabrina neckline was outlined with hand-clipped lace hearts and trimmed with sequins. Long sleeves ended in points over the bride's hands. The skirt was tulle with lace panels over the tulle, from the front to the end of the cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a half hat of lace, trimmed with sequins. Nylon-pleated tulle framed the hat. She carried a prayer book showered with miniature carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Thelma Memakis, Morehead City.

Her gown was of pervanche blue crystallette. It was, ballerina length, fashioned with a strapless bodice, princess skirt in front with pleated fullness in back. She wore a matching cape stole.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Allen Hughes, Daisy Brock and Barbara Ann Willis, all of Morehead City. Their gowns were fashioned along the same lines as that of the maid of honor, in powder blue. In their hair they wore matching velvet-covered bands with circular veil, trimmed with rhinestones.

They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and marcelle daisies.

Honorary bridesmaids were the Misses Carolyn Guthrie and Sue Robinson.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his father, Mr. Cecil C. Brooks. Ushers were Billy Crawford and Nelson Taylor Lewis of Raleigh; Jimmy Fodrie, Wilson and Billy Downum, Beaufort.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Hotel Fort Macon dining room. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Madeline Royal of Morehead City and Mrs. C. L. Beam of Beaufort.
