School Bulletin Explains Budget

The November issue of the North Carolina Public School Bulletin explains in detail the budget being requested by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The explanation follows: Funds with which to pay teachers on a salary schedule ranging from $2,900 annually for those holding Class A certificates with no experience to $4,500 for those holding Graduate certificates with 14 years experience were included in the budget request made recently by the State Board of Education to the Advisory Budget Commission.

The sum of $16,495,937 for 1957-58 and $16,883,244 for 1958-59, representing an average increase of 16.09 per cent for teachers' salaries, would be required to meet this request.

An additional $3,306,798 for the first year and $3,390,889 for the second year were requested to pay teachers for an extra week beyond the 180-day term.

For this additional 3.22 per cent the teachers would be required to work five additional days before and after the regular term in planning, making reports, and performing other work required before and after the regular term.

A request of 14.55 per cent was made for increasing the salaries of supervisors. The budget request included 10 per cent increase in salaries for all other school personnel — superintendents, principals, clerical assistants, janitors, property and cost clerks, mechanics—except bus drivers. For these last employees the request was for a raise of $5 a month (22.73 per cent), from $22 to $27.

Increases requested for other items of the Nine Months School Fund budget were as follows: Travel of superintendents, 10 per cent

Instructional supplies, from 75 cents to $1.25 per child

Fuel, 5 per cent

Water, light, power, from $21.50 to $26 per teacher

Telephone, from $2 to $3 per teacher

Libraries, from 50 cents to 75 cents per child

Child health, from $750 per county and 35 cents per child to $1090 per county and 50¢ per child

An estimated amount of $664,650 was requested to provide for the transportation of children in city units living more than 1 1/2 miles from school.

Taxpayer Mistakes Date For Auto Assessment

Birmingham, Ala. (AP) — The angry taxpayer stormed in to protest an assessment of $4,256 on a car that only cost $2,800 "and didn't have any of that extra stuff either."

Bradley Brown, Jefferson County revenue director, says it happens every year. The taxpayer purchased his car April 2, 1956 and this was entered on the assessment form as 4 2 56 and misinterpreted by the owner as being the assessment.

Soil Bank Allotment Set for Leaf Growers

An allocation of $12,695,000 has been made to North Carolina under the 1957 Soil Bank acreage reserve program for flue-cured tobacco.

If utilized fully at the average payment rate of $255.42 an acre, this would be enough money to remove 49,700 acres of flue-cured tobacco land from production in the coming year.

The total national allocation for all types of tobacco is $34,055,000. Flue-cured allocations for states other than North Carolina include $2,344,000 for South Carolina, $1,896,000 for Virginia, $1,834,000 for Georgia, $376,000 for Florida, and $11,000 for Alabama.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson said state allotments were determined "after taking into account state acreage allotments for a particular commodity, land productivity, estimated extent of participation in the program, supply and demand conditions for different classes, grades, and quality of the commodity produced in several states, distance from markets, and historic prices."

There will be no minimum acreage limitations on the amount of land that may be entered in the program except those already in effect for 1957 wheat. There will, however, be maximums.

No flue-cured leaf grower may place more than three acres or 30 per cent of his allotment, whichever is larger in the Soil Bank.

County ASC offices will begin accepting 1957 acreage reserve agreements for corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, and spring wheat "as early as possible in January," Secretary Benson said.

Applications are to be accepted within the prescribed maximum acreage limits on a "first come, first served" basis to the extent county funds are available. Farmers wishing to participate above the maximum acreage limits for a particular crop must indicate this in their original agreement.

If, after the sign-up for a crop has been closed, funds are left over, or can be reallocated from another county or another state, these additional acres will be accepted to the extent funds are available "and within instructions to be issued by the Department (of Agriculture) later."

Deadlines for signing agreements are March 1 for cotton and tobacco.

Antelope Rate Their Own Road

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP) — Most states' traffic woes center around too many trucks and cars, but Wyoming faced a serious traffic problem with migrating antelope. It was simply this:

Federal aid regulations require fencing along highways designated on the interstate system.

The natural migration paths to food and water for southern Wyoming's vast antelope herds frequently cross US 30.

The highway department couldn't get federal aid funds unless the highway is adequately fenced—and the state game and fish department maintained the antelope herd, vital to the state's recreational and tourist economy, would be wiped out if the migration paths were blocked.

The solution: When US 30 is improved to four lanes under the interstate highway program, underpasses will be constructed every two miles along nearly 300 miles of road—just to let the antelope cross.
