Comedy, Western, Elvis Open at Shows Sunday

Ten Thousand Bedrooms, a comedy starring Dean Martin, opens at the Morehead Theatre Sunday and runs through Tuesday. At the City Theatre Utah Blaine with Rory Calhoun will run the same days. Elvis Presley, starring in Love Me Tender, will be at the East Drive-In Sunday and Monday.

The Ambassador's Daughter with Olivia DeHaviland, will play Wednesday at the Morehead. Kelly and Me, starring Piper Laurie and Van Johnson, completes the week at the Morehead.

Alan Freed will Rock, Rock, Rock at the City Wednesday through Friday. A double feature plays at the City Saturday. Passage West stars John Payne. Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are starred in Scared Stiff, the second half of the double feature.

The plot of Ten Thousand Bedrooms revolves around an American millionaire hotel tycoon (Dean Martin), who arrives in Rome to acquire another hotel for the family chain and falls in love with Maria (Eva Bartok). Then he meets her sister, Nina (Anna Maria Albergheggi), and falls in love all over again.

Utah Blaine, stars Rory Calhoun in the title role as a gunslinging range adventurer who rides into trouble just north of the border in the 1870's.

One of the highlights of Love Me Tender is a picnic scene in which Elvis Presley entertains by playing his guitar and singing songs. His numbers in this and other scenes in the picture include the title song, Love Me Tender, Poor Boy, We're Gonna Move and Let Me.

Twenty-one new songs form the basis of a new musical score written especially for Rock, Rock, Rock. In addition to Alan Freed, who needs no introduction to true Rock 'n Roll devotees, the picture features such outstanding personalities as Frankie Lymon, LaVerne Baker, Chuck Berry and a host of others.

The story of a down-and-out vaudeville performer who finds success only when he teams up with a dog, Kolly and Me gives audiences a nostalgic Technicolor-CinemaScope peek into the last great days of vaudeville in the early 1930's.

Captain James Cook, who circumnavigated the globe and claimed Australia for the British crown, was a self-taught student. He borrowed a lamp so he could study navigation, mathematics and astronomy at night.

Medical Society Chairman Pushes Polio Vaccination

Chapel Hill—Dr. Samuel F. Ravenel of Greensboro, chairman of the polio vaccination committee of the State Medical Society, has emphasized that a three-pronged attack is necessary if paralytic polio is to be wiped out in North Carolina this year.

In a special bulletin to all county medical societies, Dr. Ravenel outlined the attack as (1) "enthusiastic pushing of polio vaccination for every private patient by every private physician; (2) constant administration of vaccine in the established, free, public health clinics all over the state; and (3) in the areas which did not undertake such a program last summer an initial, intensive, mass, free, public immunization campaign would probably be extremely helpful."

This campaign would be implemented by the county medical society and would utilize all the resources of state, county and city health departments and every available local aid, he said.

"Any program of immunization which utilizes only the private physician, will, I fear, fail to protect enough of the population," Dr. Ravenel said.

The American Medical Association, the North Carolina State Medical Society and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have combined forces to promote the vaccination of every one from three months to 40 years of age with Salk vaccine by the end of June this year.

"Vaccinate Before Too Late" is the national slogan of the big push to eradicate paralytic polio in 1957.

Organist Plays Hymns At Carolina Bus Station

Walterboro, S. C. (AP) — Bus line dispatcher Howard Wilson offers organ music at the bus station here instead of the usual juke box rock 'n' roll.

Mrs. Leslie Rentz plays the portable organ. She features hymns.

25 Teachers Take Extension Course

Twenty-five teachers, including three from Havelock, are enrolled in the recreational leadership extension course being taught each Thursday afternoon at Camp Glenn School. The instructor is N. M. Jorgenson, director of athletics at East Carolina College.

The senior graduate course gives renewal credit on a teaching certificate. It will continue for eight more weeks. This is the third extension course to be taught in this area this year.

One on elementary science was given at Camp Glenn and the second, on reading, was given at the Morehead City School.
