New York (AP)—A number of prominent players have banded to learn Shakespearean acting style on Broadway this season under the direction of Richard Burton, British star of the Old Vic company and veteran of performances at Stratford-upon-Avon.

Burton, currently appearing in "Time Remembered," is tutoring the group one afternoon a week. Members later are to enact scenes from the bard's repertoire.

Included among those studying are Sam Levene, starring in "Fair Game," Tony Perkins of "Look Homeward, Angel," Roddy McDowall of "Compulsion," Josephine Premice of "Jamaica," Susan Strasberg of "Time Remembered" and Maureen Stapleton. For most of the band, the study is their first workout with Shakespeare.

Hippy Hips, Phone Talks, Elvis Bother Teen Girls

By VIVIAN BROWN
What's your problem? If you're a typical young modern you must have one, judging by the number of dilemmas that come via the postman.

There's that old problem—weight—and one girl writes:

"Every girl I know wears shorts. My parents say I am too hippy to wear them. They think they should be worn only by skinny girls. What can I do as I look out of place with the group when they are all wearing shorts and I must wear a skirt?"

Answer: The popularity of Ivy League stripes may solve your problem. Perhaps your parents would not mind you wearing striped shorts that should make you look slimmer. If dark stripes are at the hipline and lighter ones toward the center you may be able to pull off the camouflage very nicely.

Boy-girl etiquette is another problem that bothers a girl. So along comes this missive: "A boy calls me up in between dates. My parents say that I spend too much time on the phone talking to him, that he will not need to date me at all if he knows everything I do and have been thinking."

Answer: Your parents may be right about the boy losing interest. A boy likes to feel it is difficult to corral a girl's attention. If you give of your time so freely, perhaps he will move on to another telephone number. On the other hand a boy may be unable to date you more frequently because of lack of funds. In that case he may very well want to talk to you in between times. It would be a good idea to make sure that you are not KEEPING him on the phone, however. Some girls get into a comfortable position at the phone and then just hate to give up.

Few Draw All Benefits Law Allows, ESC Says

Raleigh—Exhaustion of benefits is being watched carefully by the Employment Security Commission's Unemployment Insurance Division as an index to the extent and degree of seriousness of unemployment in North Carolina, says ESC Chairman Henry E. Kendall.

Employment Security records disclose, however, that the average claimant falls far short of exhausting his benefit rights, even in periods of economic recession. Of the 176,500 workers drawing a first check in 1957, only 32,400—18 in each 100—drew the full 26 weeks of potential entitlement.

The average number of weeks paid per new claimant was 9.9 per cent; more than 4,500 filed an initial claim but resumed employment before receiving a payment.

Payments for 1957 to insured workers under the state program totaled more than $33.4 million, with the average weekly payment to the totally unemployed averaging $18.37.

Under North Carolina law, a worker may receive his benefit check up to 26 weeks of total unemployment in his benefit year. Depending upon the amount of his available wage credits, the worker can qualify for a weekly insurance benefit amount ranging from $11 for wages of $500, to $32 for wages of $3000 or more during the base period. This formula provides insurance benefit amounts in proportion to the wages paid the individual worker during his base period.

Figures show that 3,797 unemployed North Carolinians exhausted their benefits during January,

Shy Actor Begins Career As Lonesome Entertainer

New York (AP)—Art Carney started his acting career as a lonesome entertainer.

"I was too shy to go out for the high school drama society," admits the longtime television comic, who is now starring in the Broadway drama, "The Rope Dancers."

"Because of my timidity, I began developing solo stuff." His talent at imitations finally won Carney a break in show business and, he adds, "Gradually I got over the shyness."

An increase of 20 per cent over the same month last year.

After an individual exhausts his benefits, he cannot file another application until (1) he has finished out his benefit year (a 52-week period), and (2) had earnings of as much as $500 in the two quarters immediately preceding the earlier claim, Mr. Kendall explained.

Money is another worrisome subject for students. A sophomore writes: "How much allowance should a 19-year-old girl be entitled to?"

If parents have the funds, it is up to them to set their daughter's allowance. It should be determined too, on whether books, clothes and sundries must be taken out of it. If parents are scrimping to send their offspring to school as it is, the student should try to work in off-time so that complete dependence is not on the parent even for books and other necessities. Some parents do not wish to confess money problems to their young people, but it should be obvious.

Elvis Presley has become a bone of contention in some circles it seems, and a number of letters such as this one, point up the troublesome aspects of liking the singer.

"Just because I like Elvis Presley two of my best friends have circulated a rumor that I am immature and stupid. What should I do?"

Answer: The courage of your convictions is all you need. There are probably many other Elvis followers who will gravitate to your bandwagon if you take a stout stand.
