

Dr. Ellen Winston of Raleigh Addresses Local Woman's Club

Dr. Ellen Winston of Raleigh, state commissioner of public welfare, spoke to the Beaufort Woman's Club Thursday evening at the Inlet Inn.

Guests were county commissioners and their wives, members of the welfare board and county welfare staff, and other persons interested in the public welfare program.

Dr. Winston discussed the financial program of state welfare, which includes old age assistance, aid to disabled persons and aid to dependent children. She gave statistics on the number of people helped in each category and the average amount of help they receive.

She also outlined the non-financial program. Included in this division are the child counseling service, adoption service, foster home program for youth and aged, legal aid for the needy and welfare department psychologists.

She mentioned the children's clothing closet, which is a project of the Junior Woman's Club, and the help-at-home project, a project of the Woman's Club.

Dr. Winston holds degrees from Converse College, Woman's College in Greensboro and the University of Chicago.

A question and answer period followed Dr. Winston's talk.

Miss Georgie Hughes, county welfare superintendent, recognized those present who worked with the county department. Mrs. Charles Davis, president of the club, recognized club members who had been active in welfare work.

Mrs. W. N. Gilchrist, general chairman, announced that the Old Homes Tour would be held June 18. Miss Geraldine Smith is in charge of the morning tour of historical points in and around Beaufort and Mrs. Ernest Davis is in charge of the afternoon tour, which includes the art show, a visit to Ann Street Cemetery, the relics exhibit and tour of at least four homes.

It was announced that a preliminary tour would be run Sunday, April 20, at 2 p. m. for club members. Tickets will be one dollar per person. Mr. and Mrs. Grayden Paul will guide both tours.

Mrs. Graham Duncan reported that her committee had looked into the possibility of putting shrubbery along the new highway approach. She said that the present plans call for grass to be planted, but the club would be contacted when planning time came.

A buffet dinner was served prior to the meeting. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and white flowers.

Dr. Winston received a pink camellia corsage from the club.

Casual Living Saves Money

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—The trend toward more casual living is cutting down the percentage of the family dollar going into apparel.

According to Athelene Scheid, clothing specialist at University of Minnesota's Institute of Agriculture, expenditure for clothing by both urban and farm families has declined about 8 per cent in the last nine years.

With more of the family money going into home ownership, Miss Scheid reports, many families are merely replacing articles of clothing rather than increasing their wardrobes.

Price increases for clothing have been light during the last five years, she adds, compared to those for other goods and services.

The consumer price index for apparel rose less than 1 per cent in the past year, while prices for family living as a whole rose 3.4 per cent. An exception, however, was footwear — which increased 11.7 per cent in the past five years.

Miss Scheid forecasts another increase in shoe prices in 1958. Prices of girls' and women's apparel are expected to remain about the same, but most men's and boys' clothing probably will be more expensive, she says.

Increased labor costs, Miss Scheid continues, may result in fewer manufacturers producing lower-priced lines of women's coats and suits, with selling emphasis on higher-priced merchandise.
