Publishers Will Hear Director Of Ports Tonight

Of Ports Tonight North Carolina's new state ports director, D. Leon Williams, will make his first "public appearance"; tonight when he addresses the Eastern North Carolina Publishers Association at the Hotel Kinston, Mr. Williams said he has re-reelved numerous requests to make aid.

mr. Williams said he has re-ceived numerous requests to make talks before groups but he was hesitant to accept until he became better acquainted with the North Carolina ports picture. Mr. Wil-liams assumed the North Carolina position in April. Mr. Williams will meet with the steam and the spectral position in April. Mr. Williams will meet with the spectral position in April. Governor Hodges has announced that President Eisenhower has al-located to Federal Civil Defense Administration an additional sum of $750,000 for stream clearance work in the 1955 hurricane disaster area of North Carolina. This is the allocation the governor has been seeking for several months in ac-tive follow-up with the FCD.

4-H Church Sunday will be ob-served in Carteret County May 18. An excellent suggested service has been prepared by our 4-H'ers. They are Eddie Lynn Garner, Chairman, Jo Ann Kelly, Becky Sanders, and Jenny Lynn Garner, all from the Newport 4-H Clubs. Mrs. Madge Reynolds, Adult Leader, helped them plan the program. We hope that 4-H'ers in every community will present this special program in their churches throughout the county.
