Chicken Little

Once upon a time there was a tiny, tiny chicken, and her name was Chicken Little.

One day Chicken Little was scratching in the garden where she should not have been, and a bit of a rose leaf fell upon her tail.

"Oh!" cried Chicken Little, "the sky is falling, I must go and tell the king."

So Chicken Little went and she went, and she met Henny Penny.

"Where do you travel so fast, Chicken Little?" asked Henny Penny.

"Oh, Henny Penny," said Chicken Little, "the sky is falling, and I must go and tell the king."

"How do you know that the sky is falling, Chicken Little?" asked Henny Penny.

"I saw it with my eyes, I heard it with my ears, and a bit of it fell upon my tail," said Chicken Little.

"I will go with you to the king," said Henny Penny.

So they ran along together, and they met Ducky Daddles.

"Where do you travel so fast?" asked Ducky Daddles.

"Oh, Ducky Daddles," said Chicken Little, "the sky is falling, Henny Penny and I go to tell the king."

"How do you know that the sky is falling, Chicken Little?" asked Ducky Daddles.

"I saw it with my eyes, I heard it with my ears, and a bit of it fell upon my tail," said Chicken Little.

"I will go with you to the king," said Ducky Daddles.

So they ran along together, and they met Goosey Loosey.

"Oh, Goosey Loosey," said Chicken Little, "the sky is falling! Henny Penny and Ducky Daddles and I go to tell the king."

"How do you know that the sky is falling, Chicken Little?" asked Goosey Loosey.

"I saw it with my eyes, I heard it with my ears, and a bit of it fell upon my tail," said Chicken Little.

"I will go with you," said Goosey Loosey.

So they ran along together, and they met Turkey Lurkey.

"Where do you travel so fast, Chicken Little?" asked Turkey Lurkey.

"Oh, Turkey Lurkey," said Chicken Little, "the sky is falling! Henny Penny and Ducky Daddles and Goosey Loosey and I go to tell the king."

"How do you know that the sky is falling?" asked Turkey Lurkey.

"I saw it with my eyes, I heard it with my ears and a bit of it fell upon my tail," said Chicken Little.

"I will go with you to the king," said Turkey Lurkey.

So they ran along together, and they met Fox Lox.

"Oh, Fox Lox," said Chicken Little, "the sky is falling, and we go to tell the king."

"How do you know the way to the King's house?" asked Fox Lox.

"No," said Chicken Little.

"No," said Henny Penny.

"No," said Ducky Daddles.

"No," said Goosey Loosey.

"No," said Turkey Lurkey.

"Then come with me and I will show you," said Fox Lox.

So he led them all into his den, and there he ate them.

My Pet

I had a dog named "Sam". He was a bird dog. He had a collar. He was white with brown spots. I liked him very much. But he died. He was the first pet I ever had.

Now I have a dog named "Skippy". He is brown and black. His eyes are brown. On cold weather we let him in the house. I like to play with him.

Jaycees Look For Carteret Dairy Princess

Civic Groups Invited To Enter Contestant By Today at 3:30

The Beaufort and Morehead City Junior Chambers of Commerce have elected as one of their activities the sponsorship of the County June Dairy Month program.

Dick Spears and Rufus Butner of the Morehead Junior Chamber, Gregory Warren and James Steed of the Beaufort Chamber, were appointed to represent their respective chambers in working out plans, announces R. M. Williams, farm agent. Assisting with the program are the county farm and home agents and representatives of the local milk companies.

A dairy princess contest will highlight the June Dairy month activities.

The Jaycees in Beaufort and Morehead City invite all civic organizations in the county to enter a contestant.

It would be preferable that contestants be selected in time to attend a training meeting at the Morehead City Memorial Civic Center this afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

A dinner meeting at the Rex Restaurant will be held on the night of June 3, at which time the county dairy princess will be selected. The area meeting will be held at the Tryon Hotel in New Bern Saturday night, June 14, to select the area winner.

The home economics teachers in the county will assist in putting on educational window displays. The milk companies will cooperate by distributing posters and other educational materials in all places of business that handle dairy products.

"One of the most valuable returns that we can hope to accomplish through the June Dairy Month program is the educational value," Mr. Williams said.

A recent survey made by Mrs. Floy Garner, home agent, reveals that many of our people are falling short of the amount of dairy products necessary to maintain adequate nutrition standards.

Dairy products have not advanced in price in proportion to prices of some other food products in relation to the nutrition value for the food dollar spent, she points out.

"Too many people have the feeling that milk is important only as a food for children. Nutritional studies have clearly indicated that milk is essential for people of all ages. An increase in the consumption of milk will result in the improvement of the nutritional standards of the people of any area," the farm agent concluded.

Appointed to handle a Jaycee get-out-the-vote campaign on May 31 were Norris Edge, Herbert Phillips III, Charles Willis, Clifton Lynch, Rufus Butner, Donald Davis, Bob McLean and Paul Cordova.

Soap Carvings are Made By Den 3 of Cub Pack 357

Rotary to Get Scout Charter

District Scout Executive Rudolph Alexander will visit the Beaufort Rotary Club Wednesday. Mr. Alexander will present the club a charter as sponsoring organization of Boy Scout Troop 51.

Scoutmaster John Duncan and assistant Scoutmaster Henry Eubanks will be guests of the club. F. M. Thompson will be in charge of the program.

Gene Smith was in charge of this week's program. He showed a film from Cornell University, on research being done on auto safety equipment.

The film made the point that 80 per cent of the people who died in automobile accidents last year

Cub Scouts Work On Side Show Exhibit

Den 1 of Cub Scout Pack 367, Beaufort, met at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Julius Adair, Wednesday afternoon. After refreshments were served by Phillip Bennett, we had the pledge to the flag.

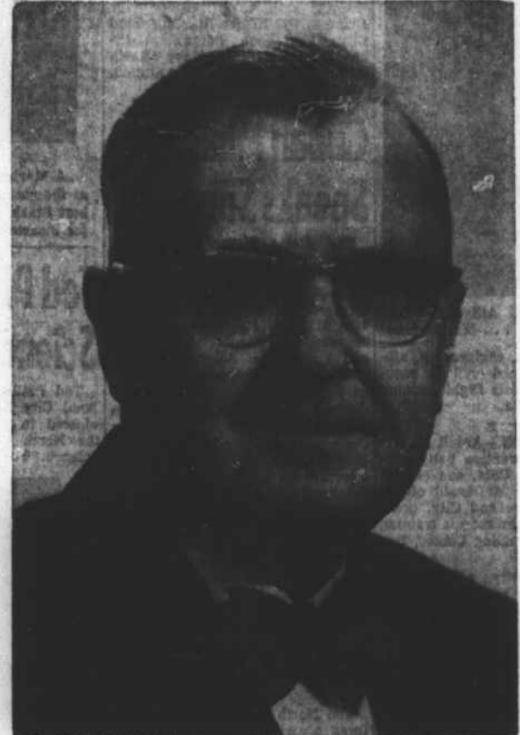

We answered the roll with names of circus animals. We worked on our side show exhibit for the circus scene at the pack meeting.

The meeting closed with the Cub Scout promise and living circle.

would be alive today if they had been wearing safety belts.

Visitors at the meeting at the Scout Building were George Dill and Buck Matthews Jr., both members of the Morehead City Rotary Club.

Judge Luther Hamilton

JUDGE LUTHER HAMILTON is a candidate for State Senator. It is an office of great trust and grave responsibility. The other three are from Lenoir, Craven, and Onslow Counties. Our candidate needs, and should have, the united support of our people.

Serious and important legislation affecting our Port no doubt will be presented to the 1959 Session of the General Assembly. It is vital to the growth and development of our Port that we have a Senator from Carteret County. If you are interested in the industrial development of Morehead City, Beaufort, and Carteret County, and in the welfare and future of our Port, then please go to the polls Saturday and vote for Judge Hamilton for State Senator.
