

Morehead City Methodists Launch Building Program

First Methodist Church, Morehead City, is beginning a program to renovate its present church school building and to add a large fellowship hall, which will be located on the property now occupied by the Terminal Fuel Oil station, recently acquired by the church.

Archie R. Davis, architect from Durham and a former member of First Church, has been selected to prepare the plans.

The preliminary plans have already been submitted for consideration. Mr. Davis is anxious to design the building for the greatest efficiency and comfort.

On Friday, June 6, C. P. Morris, the conference executive director of the board of education and Mrs. Virgil Queen (the former Frances Sharp of this city), the conference director of children's work, met with the church school officers and building committee to explain the suggested design for the building, so that the present and future teaching standards would coincide with the proposed design of the building.

The proposed building plans will be on display this Sunday for all interested persons to inspect and record their comments and suggestions before the final plans will be authorized and drawn by the architect.

Vacation Church School ended last Sunday morning, June 8, at First Methodist Church with an open house for all parents and church school members. There were 133 children enrolled and 27 adult workers. Perfect attendance certificates were awarded to 105 children. The various departments displayed the hand work the children made during the week.

This morning Friday, June 13, Anna Critcher, director of Christian education at First Church, Kathy Chalk, Nancy Laughton, Anne Herbert, Wayne Economon, and Walter Morris left for Camp Farthest Out, Buies Creek, N. C., to participate in a Spiritual Retreat. They will return Saturday, June 21.

Camp Farthest Out was founded in 1930 by Dr. Allen Clark. It is an adventure in Christian living. Camps are held throughout the country the year round and last a week. The goal of the Camp Farthest Out process is wholeness—the integrating mind, body, and spirit into normal, healthy, joyous, and effective personality. CFO attempts to bring the Spirit of God into all the activities of living—work, play and worship.

Recognized Sunday morning will be Father's Day and Methodist Student Day. The young people who are in high school and who will be at that service are requested to sit together on the pastor's right as he preaches. Young people who are at college, likewise, are urged to sit together in the same group and participate in this service.

News from CEDAR ISLAND

Wayward Wife
Nogales, Ariz. (AP)—A husband informed Nogales police that his wife was drinking at a bar and that she was under age. Investigating officers reported the wayward wife was consuming soft drinks.

To Conduct Revival

A revival meeting will begin at St. John's Chapel Free Will Baptist Church, Stacy, Monday.

The Rev. James Earl Raper, above, of Arcadia, S. C., will be the evangelist. The revival will continue through June 27.

The pastor, the Rev. Winston Sweeney, invites friends of the church and the public to come and take part in the meeting. There will be the gospel message each evening with inspirational and gospel singing.

Newport Rotarians Hear Discussion Of Welfare Work

Rotarian Nathan Garner was program chairman at the Newport Rotary Club meeting at the school lunchroom Monday night. Mr. Garner, a member of the county welfare board, spoke on the welfare program in the county.

Mr. Garner discussed the various services rendered by the welfare department, some of the administrative problems and the financial problems involved in the program.

Rotarian Moses Howard, chairman of the county board of commissioners, discussed the county budget. He said that the welfare budget was only one of several his board had to consider. The problem, as Mr. Howard sees it, is to keep all the departments happy without raising the tax rate.

The Rev. E. Guthrie Brown, Morehead City Rotarian, was a visitor.

Theatres Have Heat Problems

New York (AP) — Putting on the heat backstage during a spell of late spring chill caused problems at two Broadway shows.

An actor in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" brought firemen running when he lit a fire in a dressing room wash basin that sent smoke wafting through the wings.

At "Sunrise at Campobello," the management sent over some electric heaters. It seemed a fine idea until one was plugged in — and blew a fuse. The warmers operated only on alternating current, and the theatre has direct current.

Army Invites Graduates

High school graduates in Beaufort may be eligible to enlist in the United States Army and attend a service school near home, according to Sergeant Yonick, the United States Army recruiter in this area.

A number of Army service schools are operated in the southeast and offer an excellent means for a young man or woman to remain in close proximity of their home towns while in basic training and later in a service school of their choice.

Full quotas are open for students in several schools during the next month.

High school seniors completing their studies this year should contact Sergeant Yonick at the courthouse annex in Beaufort, as soon as possible during June to receive full particulars on an Army school of their choice.

We may not be the wealthiest county in the state, but we can be the cleanest. Don't throw trash out car windows.
