

Manly Mason, Broad Creek, Injured In Scuffle, Files Suit for $20,000

Manly Mason, Broad Creek, who was shot in the thigh June 8, 1958 in a scuffle with Ralph Paul, constable of White Oak township, has filed a suit for damages against Constable Paul. The suit requests $20,000.

Mason, in his complaint, says that because of the wound he received, he has been unable to continue his work as a plumber.

The incident occurred on Highway 24, three miles east of Cedar Point. Mason spent four days in Morehead City Hospital recovering from the injury.

The shooting was the outgrowth of an arrest. Constable Paul cited Willie Phillips, Bogue, for speeding. Then he and Phillips went to "Fred Hare's" where Mason was, because Phillips said Mason had his (Phillips) driver's license.

After contacting Mason, Constable Paul said Mason wanted to ride in the constable's car, with Phillips and the constable, to the place where the car, in which Phillips was allegedly speeding, had been parked.

En route, Constable Paul said the two men became unruly, and he stopped the car. A scuffle followed and the officer said Mason tried to take his gun. It was then, the officer continued, that the gun went off, wounding Mason.

Paul charged Mason, following the incident, with assault and interfering with an officer. Phillips was charged with speeding, resisting arrest and assaulting an officer.

Mason waived preliminary hearing in county court yesterday.

Driver Arrested For Hit and Run

Johnny R. Sams, Camp Lejeune, was charged with hit and run, careless and reckless driving, speeding, and driving on the wrong side of the road following a wreck at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident happened on E. Front St., Beaufort, a half mile west of Beaufort Fisheries. Patrolman R. H. Brown said that Sams, driving a 1956 Mercury, collided with a 1951 Chevrolet driven by Allen Stanley Taylor, route 1 Beaufort.

Taylor was backing out of a driveway. He stopped when he got to the street, saw nothing coming and continued backing when the Mercury appeared, whizzing around a curve, struck the left rear of Taylor's car and sped on.

The Mercury was going east. Morehead City police later found the car in Morehead City. Sams was arrested. Two Marines with him were Jack L. Wheeler and Arthur I. Gerheart, both of Lejeune.

Damage to each car was estimated at $100. No one was hurt.

County Official Expresses Thanks

Moses Howard, chairman of the county board of commissioners, yesterday expressed his appreciation to individuals and communities who participated in Pest-Kill and Clean-Up Week this week.

"I received phone calls from persons interested in mosquito control and other expressions of interest in the program," Mr. Howard said.

This week was so designated to make persons conscious of the need for cutting weeds on vacant lots in residential areas and helping, individually, in mosquito control.

"Many persons will be flooding our county next weekend for the Fourth of July holiday," Mr. Howard said, "and the county should look inviting — clean and well-kept. We must take every measure possible to make sure that mosquitoes don't drive the tourists away!"

Newport Scouts Camp at Charles

Seven Boy Scouts of troop 6, Newport, are among the 136 Scouts and leaders at Camp Charles this week.

They are Carl Pruitt, Johnnie Throver, Kenneth Taylor, Richard Reim, Wilbert Mann, Ronald Pringle and Frank Sanders.

Another Boy Scout camp, Camp Croatan, located near New Bern, will open July 6 and operate for six weeks. The camp has a capacity of 150 Scouts and leaders. All periods are now completely filled, with the exception of the first week, which still has 34 vacancies. Applications will be accepted on a first come, first served basis until the period is completely filled, announcements R. G. Barnes, Wilson, chairman of the East Carolina Council camping and activities committee.

Rare Plant Grows in County

Marvin Willis, Smyrna, shows some Venus Fly-Traps he located along the White Oak River Wednesday. Mr. Willis read the article on the rare plant in Tuesday's NEWS-TIMES and declared that he often comes across the plant in this county.

Mr. Willis showed the strength of a trap by ticking the inside of the two fronds with the end of a cigarette. The trap closes, as it would on an insect, and holds the cigarette upright.

Portrait of Morehead City Citizen Unveiled Tuesday

An oil portrait of Dr. James W. Kellogg, Morehead City, who for many years was assistant director of the State Laboratory of Hygiene, Raleigh, was unveiled Tuesday.

The ceremony took place in the laboratory's auditorium at Raleigh. Karen Elaine Kellogg, 3-year-old granddaughter of Dr. Kellogg, unveiled the portrait before an audience of his relatives, close friends and public health workers.

Brief remarks were made by the Rev. Lynn Brown, pastor of White Memorial Presbyterian Church, who presented the picture to Dr. John H. Hamilton, director of the laboratory.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kellogg of Sumter, S. C., parents of Karen, were among those attending the ceremony from out of town. Dr. Kellogg worked at the laboratory from 1908 until his retirement in 1948.

A native of New York state, he graduated from Hamilton College and did post-graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Funds Sought For Two Inlets In Carteret

Senator B. Everett Jordan Monday asked the Senate Public Works Appropriations subcommittee to approve $50,000 for surveys aimed at deepening channels at Drum and Bogue inlets on the North Carolina coast.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) is considering a new rivers and harbors bill designed to offset White House criticisms that have produced vetoes of two similar bills in the past three years.

Jordan's request, in which he was joined by Rep. Graham Barden, would provide $25,000 for a survey of the feasibility of deepening the channel of Drum Inlet near Atlantic in Carteret County to 12 feet. Engineers estimate the cost of the project, if approved at $400,000.

Another $25,000 would be appropriated for a study of deepening Bogue Inlet to provide a 12-foot channel and to create a 12-foot deep turning basin at Swansboro in Onslow County.

The Bogue project would cost an estimated $750,000.

Referee Names Trustee in Bell Jewelry Closing

Gene C. Smith, Beaufort attorney, has been named trustee in the bankruptcy proceeding against B. A. Bell's Jewelry Store, Front Street, Beaufort.

Mr. Smith was appointed by Joseph B. Cheshire Jr., Raleigh, referee in bankruptcy. According to the trustee, debts owed by the jewelry store total $8,367.19.

Creditors have been notified by Mr. Cheshire as to proceedings in the case. Mr. Smith said that an inventory is being taken and appraisal is being made now of merchandise in the store.

He added that the business may be sold as a whole or other means may be taken to liquidate the assets. He said he hoped the matter would be "settled shortly".

At an auction conducted by Sheriff Hugh Salter Saturday, May 10, at the store, certain merchandise items were sold.

Three of eight judgments against the store have been paid, according to records in the office of the clerk of superior court. They are $77.12 to Haviland and Co., $288.90 to Peaslee Gaulbert, and $85.28 to United Glass.

Judgments yet unsatisfied are Marton Freres Inc. $15.33 plus interest from Oct. 31, 1955 plus justice of the peace costs of $6.50; Sherman and Donchi Inc., trading as Bond Diamond Co., $50.56 plus interest and justice of the peace costs, $4.95.

Hampton Roads Paper Co., Inc., $171.64 plus interest from Sept. 12, 1956 and $4.95 costs; W. V. B. Potter, $140 plus interest from January 1958 and costs of $4.95; Atlantic Calendar Co., $94.47 plus interest from Feb. 27, 1958 plus $4.95 in costs.

Robert Oakley, Newport, Found Guilty Yesterday

Robert Oakley, Newport, was given a six-month suspended sentence in county court yesterday on charges of hitting Lloyd Garner in the mouth on the street of Newport several weeks ago.

Oakley was also ordered to pay $10 fine and costs, plus another fine he owes, within 60 days.

Dan Bell, police chief, said Oakley is about 30 years of age and Garner about 70.

Firemen Train at School

Firemen attending the county fire school had a field problem Wednesday night. They dug a pit, filled it with oil and set it afire. Their problem was to get it out as soon as possible. This crew did the job

Centennial Receipts Fail To Match Debt by $4,361.49

Although receipts from Morehead City Centennial events totaled $18,733, that wasn't enough to cover all the debts incurred. Centennial debts totaled $23,134.49, according to Charles Markey, Centennial chairman, and J. R. Sanders, treasurer. Actual cost of staging the week-long event was even more, but many materials and services were donated, Mr. Sanders said.

To raise money to pay off a remaining debt of $4,361.49, the Centennial committee is giving away a color tv set and other gifts.

The prizes will be given July Fourth. In addition to the color tv, there is a fishing rod and reel, transistor radio and electric fry pan.

It was first announced that the Centennial debt was about half of the present figure. Some creditors, when it was found that the Centennial would not pay its own way, offered to cancel their debts.

The lower debt figure announced was minus the cancelled debts. The Centennial committee would, however, like to pay all debts if possible. That's why it is out now to raise $4,361.49.

Donations, since the project to give a color tv started, amount to approximately $700. Everyone who donates a dollar gets either a Centennial souvenir booklet or souvenir coin, in addition to the opportunity to win the prizes.

Outstanding Centennial debts have been itemized as follows: Herald Printing Co. $1,416.88, water parade prizes $900, Grady Rich $240.50, Centennial hats $264.

Atlantic Beach Hotel $212.01, Elvin Inc. $209.40, Morehead City Jaycees $183, Anchor Florist $7.73, Morehead City Floral Co. $16.05, J. L. Crump $35.

Morehead Builders Supply $45.75, Carolina Power and Light $7.37, Sanitary Fish Market $161.60, Capt. Bill's $64.75, Hotel Fort Macon $7.21.

Commercial Engraving $15.00, Walter S. Morris $135.03, News and Observer $90.72, J. W. Bage $64.70, Longley Supply $44.69, Henly Jones $12.50, Hugh Morton $91.87.

Donations toward the Centennial debt, making the donor eligible to win the color tv and other prizes, may be made at Early Jewelers or the Chamber of Commerce office, in the Hotel Fort Macon.

JC Committee Names Morehead Beauty Queen

Mayor Imposes $15 Fine, Costs In Court Monday

Drawing one of the heaviest penalties in Atlantic Beach mayor's court Monday night was Allen L. Crocker, Cherry Point. Crocker was fined $15 and costs for public drunkenness and interfering with women.

Police chief Bill Moore said that Crocker was annoying some women. He was warned by the police to stay away because his attentions were not wanted.

Instead, Crocker continued to bother the women. Mayor A. B. Cooper said he was not going to put up with that sort of thing.

Ronald H. Brewer also paid $15 and costs on a charge of public drunkenness and failing to comply with a suspended sentence.

Raymond L. Leggett, Cherry Point, charged with public drunkenness and failing to comply with a suspended sentence, was fined $10 and costs. The same penalty was imposed on John W. Smith, charged with fighting in public, public drunkenness and breaking arrest.

The Morehead City Jaycees announced that Miss Bonnie Fish will represent Morehead City in the state beauty pageant at Charlotte next month. Bonnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fish, she graduated from Morehead City School in May.

The Jaycees did not have a Miss Morehead City beauty pageant this year, electing to have a committee pick a candidate. Members of the selection committee were P. H. Geer Jr., Herbert Phillips, Dr. Russell Outlaw and Dr. R. O. Barnum.

The committee had not reached a decision at the Jaycee meeting Monday night at the Blue Ribbon Club, but had done so by the next morning.

At Monday night's meeting, Marion Mills was authorized to contact professional entertainment groups in an effort to bring a show to Morehead City. He will report on what shows are available and when at a later meeting.

Floyd Chadwick, external vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of president Jerry J. Willis. He announced that the quarterly board meeting will be Aug. 8-10 at the Cape Fear Hotel in Wilmington.

The club will build benches for the new town park at the high school workshop Monday night after the business meeting. Jaycees worked on the park Wednesday afternoon on a volunteer basis.

Beaufort Rotarians To Install Officers Next Tuesday

The Beaufort Rotary Club will install officers at its meeting Tuesday night at the Scout building. B. E. Tarkington will be installed as president, replacing David Jones.

Other officers are James Wheatley, vice-president, and Dr. W. L. Woodard, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Tarkington was program chairman for Tuesday night's meeting. He had Ed Blair of Vanceboro as guest speaker. Mr. Blair spoke on the expanding frontiers of Rotary.

Visiting Rotarians were Buck Matthews of Morehead City and Larry Payne of Pontiac, Mich. Mr. Payne brought his son-in-law, Bradley Dixon of Cherry Point, as his guest.

Conducted in Beaufort yesterday were hearings by the North Carolina Industrial Commission relative to complaints on workmen's compensation insurance.

The hearings were conducted on the second floor of the Beaufort town hall by Forrest Shuford, deputy commissioner, Raleigh. Testimony is taken and decisions rendered at a later date.

Cases heard yesterday were Jimmie W. Lewis vs. Wilton and Morton, Boyd Denton vs. Globe Automatic Sprinkler Co., Cecil Best vs. Raymond Courtney and C. R. Courtney, non-insurers and North Carolina Pulp Co., self-insurer.

John C. Streete, deceased, vs. National Packing Co., C. D. Mann vs. State Ports Authority, and Mrs. Flora Willis vs. Morehead City Hospital.

The hearings are scheduled where disputes arise between an employer and employee relative to compensation deemed payable by the employee as result of damages or injuries.

Cases scheduled for today which, Deputy Shuford said yesterday, have already been settled, were Harry E. Gillikin vs. Carteret Quick Freezing Co., E. Stamey Davis Sr. vs. State Highway Commission and Mrs. Ollie Wade Davis vs. State Highway Commission.

Hearings by the industrial commission are scheduled in various areas as the need arises. Hearings in this county, prior to yesterday, were conducted in January.

Three Rescued At Cape Lookout

Three men, in danger of being beaten to death by the sea, were rescued from the breakwater at Cape Lookout at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday. Coast Guardsmen stationed at the cape pulled R. E. Riddick, Clyde Jones and L. R. Parker from the water. All were from Bethel.

A lookout at the Coast Guard station saw the men trolling near the breakwater in a 15-foot outboard motorboat. A sudden swell caught the boat and capsized it, throwing the men into the water.

When BMC Harold Yeomans, officer in charge, and SN Clarence Rogers arrived about 15 minutes later, the waves were beating the men against the breakwater. All three were cut and scratched in the chest and stomach from the stones of the breakwater.

The men were taken to Harkers Island. Their boat was recovered, bailed out and towed to the lodge later in the night.

Two Accidents Occur at Beach

Atlantic Beach police investigated two accidents over the weekend.

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Murray H. Scripture, 703 Fisher St., Morehead City, in a 1952 Buick, collided head-on with Kenneth C. Thompson, Graham, N. C. Thompson was driving a 1957 Plymouth.

Police chief Bill Moore said that Thompson was headed toward Atlantic Beach on the Ocean Ridge road. Scripture was headed west. Just as they met on a sharp curve, the steering mechanism on Thompson's car failed and he ran into the Buick.

Damage to the Buick was estimated at $500 and damage to the Plymouth at $200. No one was hurt and no charges were filed.

At 8 p.m. Sunday, Rayford G. Hamilton, Smithfield, driving a 1950 Ford, ran into a parked 1955 Pontiac. Chief Moore said that Hamilton then jumped out of the car and ran. He has been charged with hit and run and no driver's license.

Hamilton was driving a car owned by James R. Dillingham, 204 E. Park Dr., Raleigh. The Pontiac had been parked by Atlas Herbert Jacksonville. The owner was Audrey Elizabeth Taylor, Spruce Pine.

Beach Property Owners Can Get Town Tags Now

Bill Moore, Atlantic Beach police chief, reminds property owners that town tags are available for their cars. The tags are a dollar each and can be obtained at the police station.

A town ordinance requires that all beach property owners obtain a town auto tag.

Youth Rally Scheduled

A youth rally will be held at the Russells Creek Free Will Baptist Church Saturday night at 7:30. All young people in the county are invited.

State Privilege License Penalty Goes on July 1

Effective July 1, 1958, penalty will be due on state privilege licenses for the tax year June 1, 1958 to May 31, 1959, according to John B. Warren, state deputy collector for this vicinity.

Mr. Warren advises that this penalty will be 5 per cent per month for each delinquent month, and urges all taxpayers to file their applications for licenses immediately, in order to avoid penalty.

Applications for licenses should be mailed to the N. C. Department of Revenue, Raleigh, N. C.
