

Good News About

By Harry Venters, 4-H Advisor

I wish more people, both adults and 4-H'ers could have attended this event. I believe that they would really be surprised to see how well 4-H'ers give these "show-how" demonstrations on such a wide variety of subjects.

Demonstrations are an important part of 4-H training. The 4-H'er learns a lot about the subject of his demonstration, and perhaps even more important, he learns to prepare and give an interesting talk. We feel that this is an important supplement to the training received in school.

The 4-H'ers from this county made a wonderful showing in Washington. Most were competing in district competition for the very first time, and will certainly improve each year. While we did not have any district winners, our 4-H'ers won several blue and red ribbons.

Allen and Earl Kelly of Newport won a blue ribbon with their team demonstration on Tobacco Fertilization. Amy Stoy of Beaufort won a blue ribbon with her demonstration on Roadside Vegetable Marketing. Allen and Earl Kelly and Amy Stoy were very close to being district winners. It is unusual to have two blue ribbon demonstrations selected in the same field.

Ray Bowlin, Harlowe community, gave an electric demonstration on How to Make a Time Switch, and won a red ribbon. This was a very interesting demonstration. In case you don't know, a time switch is used to turn an electric appliance or lights on or off automatically at any time you set.

Ann Davis of Davis and Denard Harris of Bachelor won red ribbons in the public speaking contest. They both were very good in this field where competition is keen.

Roberta West of Beaufort and Donna Bell and Lynn Wallace participated in the 4-H talent contest. Roberta (Bobby) was a blue ribbon winner in this field.

Doris Phillips represented Carteret County very well in the 4-H Dress Revue. The judges were very impressed with the workmanship in Doris' dress.

Any 4-H'er planning to attend 4-H Club Week at State College, Raleigh, should notify Mrs. Garner or me right away. The week of July 21-26 is the time. It will be necessary for you to be in 4-H uniform during this week.

4-H camp letters will be mailed very soon. If you are going to camp this year, and I hope you are, please send in your application as quickly as possible. If you are a 4-H'er and do not get a letter, see or write me as we might not have your correct address.

Atlantic Beach Truly Offers The Most in Summer Fun

It's going to be a gala Fourth of July holiday at Atlantic Beach next weekend.

Carteret residents who would like to have some fun before the big holiday can see how to do it on page 8 section 1 of today's paper. Included on that page are coupons which entitle persons to free rides and games at the beach.

Churches and organizations are offered special rates for picnics at the Sound Beach pool from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Floodlights make night swimming a new and happy pastime there.

Adjoining the Sound Beach Pool, just off the Atlantic Beach causeway is the new Oceanarium where four porpoises and 20 giant sea turtles frolic. One turtle weighs 500 pounds and one of the porpoises, caught just several weeks ago in Bogue Sound, is believed to be the largest in captivity.

At the Kiddie Park, next to the Idle Hour Amusement Center, are thrilling rides, just the right size for the little ones - airplanes, roller coaster, ferris wheel, and even live ponies.

At the Amusement Center there are six dozen different ways to spend a day or night. There is bowling, billiards, dancing and fascinating games of skill.

Buddy's One-Stop Beach Shop features an open-air patio overlooking the ocean where the family can relax, sip a cool drink and enjoy the sun and cooling sea air.

At Buddy's you can play Quizzo and on the site of the Ocean King Hotel is New Golf, a miniature golf course where Mom, Dad and the youngsters can try for a hole-in-one.

For those who would like this vacation atmosphere more than for just a week or two in the summer time, there is property for sale at Sound View Isle, property that has a boat channel on one side and street on the other.

You'll have to come and see for yourself. Even Carteret residents will be amazed when they visit Atlantic Beach, see the many new buildings, businesses, homes, new streets and other developments there.

Presbyterian Pastor Announces Sermon Topic

The Blood of the Covenant will be the topic of the sermon by the Rev. A. G. Harris Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Morehead City, at 11 a.m. Sunday. Holy Communion will be observed.

At the 7:30 evening service a recorded discussion on United States economic aid to other countries will be presented. Among the speakers will be Rabbi Theodore Adams, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, and Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg.

Men of the Church will meet at 6:30 Tuesday night with J. C. Harvell.

CP&L Pays Taxes In Carteret Today

Towns and counties in Carolina Power & Light Company's North Carolina service area received checks totaling $1,199,599.47 this week. The checks represent the company's prepayment of property and real estate tax accounts for 1958.

To be paid to Carteret County today will be $15,082; to Morehead City $6,805.12, to Beaufort $2,936.98, to Newport $98, and to Atlantic Beach $245.

The company's total tax expense - local, state and federal levies of all kinds - is expected to reach $17,000,000 this year.

CP&L makes the property tax payments early to take advantage of discount periods. Forty Tar Heel counties and 96 towns are getting checks this week. Seventeen more counties and 80 more towns will get payments totaling $685,000 later this year before their discount periods end.

The company's $1,885,000 property tax payments in North Carolina are more than $70,000 above the 1957 figure. The increase reflects addition of facilities throughout the company's service area, as well as changing tax rates in the towns and counties served.

Duroc Hog Growers Meet At Garner Farm, Newport

The Duroc Hog Association met yesterday at Dick Garner's farm, Newport. Approximately 50 persons attended.

Present were Jack Kelly, extension swine specialist, and Dr. Elliott Barrick, of the animal husbandry department, State College, Raleigh.

A swine judging contest was held. Judges were divided into three sections, women, men and youngsters.

Case Settled

In the case, James R. Sullivan Jr., by his next friend, J. R. Sanders vs. Tom Russell Goins, a compromise was reached in superior court last week. The court approved a settlement of $700 to be paid the plaintiff. Of that amount, $233.33 is to go to Harvey Hamilton Jr., attorney for the plaintiff.

New Tug Launched

Carteret Towing Co. launched this tug, the Charlie, Wednesday afternoon. The tug was launched as soon as the hull was completed. The boat will be finished as she sits in the water.

Mrs. Charlie Piner, wife of Captain Charlie Piner, after whom the tug is named, christened the boat as it slid down the ways. The launching took place in the channel just south of the Beaufort-Morehead causeway.

The Charlie will be a "sister ship" to the tug, Manie. Supervising the building of the tug, which will ply Morehead City harbor, is Elmo Wade.

Linda Salter Wins Case As 'Attorney General'

Linda Salter, Beaufort, new Girls State attorney general, won her first case during Girls State at Greensboro last week. The highlight for Linda's entire week at Greensboro was a mock trial in which she prosecuted a case against a bakery, burlesque show and newspaper.

One of the girls in the burlesque show signed a statement that she kept her beautiful figure by eating the bakery's bread. When the paper ran the statement, they used another girl's picture by mistake.

The girl in the picture sued for damages, saying it hurt her reputation to have her picture in a burlesque ad. Linda collected $6,500 for the injured party.

Linda was elected attorney general of girls state after a spirited campaign Thursday. She did not use posters or other gimmicks, she reported. "I based my entire campaign on public speaking," Linda declared.

Linda went to Greensboro with Anne Taylor, also of Beaufort, and Morehead City delegates Jenny Lou Smithwick and Joyce Styron.

The girls arrived on Sunday and had a lecture on parliamentary procedure Sunday night. The remainder of the week was a maze of activities for the girls. There were countless lectures, business sessions, executive sessions and legislative sessions.

Linda, a rising senior at Beaufort High School, says she plans to go to college and take up law or languages.

Earl Sutton Fined For Whiskey Possession

Marshall Ayscue, county ABC officer, arrested Earl Sutton at Kuhns at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon. Sutton, charged with possessing a small amount of illegal whiskey, paid $10 and costs in county recorder's court, Beaufort, yesterday.

Sutton was found with the whiskey, at a wrecked car back of Sugg's piccolo place, near the Stella postoffice.

Bookmobile Will Travel Monday

Miss Dorothy Avery, director of the county library, has released the bookmobile route for Monday. It appears below. The bookmobile will not operate Tuesday.

Miss Avery announces that beginning July 1, the library, at Broad and Pollock Streets, Beaufort, will be open continuously from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday.

The library during the winter was closed over the lunch hour. On July Fourth the library will be closed.

2:30-2:40 - Mrs. Janie Garner; 2:45-3:15 - Nine Foot Road, Mrs. Alice Simmons; 3:20-3:50 - Nine Foot Road, Mrs. Daisy Cannon.

4-H Advisor Lists Health Winners

Doris Phillips, Morehead City, has been named senior 4-H health queen and Emma Jean Lawrence, Smyrna intermediate 4-H Club member, has been named junior health queen. (See picture of Doris Phillips, page 4, section 2).

Announcement of the winners in the health projects was made this week by Mrs. Floy Garner, girls 4-H advisor. Placing second in the senior division was Serina Davis, Smyrna. Placing third was Barbara Hill, Beaufort.

The following received honorable mention:

Harkers Island - Betty Emory, Lilly Piner, Eileen Rose. Smyrna - Judy Ann Hill, Sherry Gillikin, Janet Noe, Ann Baum, Agatha Lawrence, Elizabeth Pigott.

Camp Glenn - Linda Sue Smith, Phyllis McCabe, Lutie McClain, Ginny Crowe. Beaufort Intermediate - Carolyn Rhue.

One hundred seventy-nine girls were in competition.

Specialist to Visit
R. R. Rich, extension field specialist, Raleigh, will visit dairymen in the county today, announces R. M. Williams, county farm agent.

Four-H'ers attending demonstration day at Washington, N. C., are shown here. The club to which they belong, follows their name. The four girls in the front

of them are Ann Davis, Smyrna, and Amy Stoy, Beaufort; in the "row" behind them are Donna Bell and Lynn Wallace, Morehead City; Ray Bowlin, Beaufort; Mrs. Floy Garner, girls' 4-H advisor; in the back row are Harry Venters, boys 4-H advisor, Earl Kelly, Jenny Lynn Garner, Newport, Denard Harris, Beaufort, and Allen Kelly, Newport.

Newport Boys Go To FFA Meeting

Several Newport FFA chapter members and their advisor, C. S. Long, are attending the 30th annual Future Farmers of America state convention in Raleigh this week.

The convention opened Wednesday morning with registration in Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium and will close today at noon. More than 2,000 delegates are attending the three-day meeting. The delegates, representing the state's 23,086 active members in 448 local chapters, are staying in North Carolina State College dormitories.

The Newport delegation stayed in Alexander Dormitory. Newport boys attending the convention are Ronnie Edwards, Lewis Forrest, Eric Gray, Joe Garner, and Sterling Mann.

Speakers at the opening program on Wednesday included Dr. William Alexander of General Motors Corp. public relations department, Detroit, Mich.; Harold Downing, National FFA president, of Nicholasville, Ky.; Betty Nilong of Lexington, state president of the Future Homemakers of America; and Clarence Chappell Jr. of Belvidere, N. C., 1957 Star Farmer of America.

Jimmy Sinclair, state FFA president, called the convention to order Wednesday afternoon. Election of new officers will come before adjournment today.

During the convention, cash prizes including several scholarships, totaling over $16,000 were handed out to top ranking FFA members who have won major statewide, district and chapter contests during the past year.

Negro Woman Convicted Of Throwing Big Knife

Mrs. George (Naomi) Worthy, Negro, Morehead City, was sentenced to six months in women's prison Monday by Morehead City recorder's court judge Herbert Phillips. She was found guilty of throwing a butcher knife at Mrs. Leslie Wade on June 12.

Mrs. Wade, who operates Lillian's Beauty Shop, swore out a warrant against the woman after the knife-throwing incident. She testified in court that Naomi Worthy threw the knife after being ordered to leave the Wade yard.

Wanted Husband Fined
Wade is the captain of a men-haden boat on which Worthy works. Naomi Worthy, according to testimony, had wanted her husband fired from that job and had been after Mrs. Wade to get Worthy fired.

Mrs. Wade said the woman had brought the matter up several times, always when she had been drinking. Witnesses in the case testified that Naomi Worthy had a quick temper, especially when she was under the influence.

One witness said, "If I had known she was only going to get six months, I never would have testified against her. I wanted her sent up for two days longer than I live!"

The Worthy woman was in county court yesterday to answer to another charge of assault against Mrs. Wade.

Gets 30 Days
Herbert Collins was the only other defendant to draw a jail term. He got 30 days for public drunkenness and resisting arrest.

Two defendants were fined $50 and ordered to pay costs. Each was convicted of carrying and reckless driving. They were Terrence
