Married in Baptist Church

Mrs. James E. Parker

In a double ring ceremony Saturday, Aug. 2, in the First Baptist Church Miss Lois Carol Beeton became the bride of James E. Parker.

Dr. John H. Bunn of Durham, former pastor of the church, officiated at the four o'clock ceremony. White gladiolus and five-branched candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers were used to decorate the church.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. George Mizesko, organist.

The bride entered the church alone. She wore a waltz length gown of lace featuring a fitted bodice with round neckline and narrow lace straps over the shoulders. The full skirt was accented with a satin cummerbund with a small bow on the side.

She wore a shoulder length veil of silk illusion attached to a queen's crown of simulated pearls and iridescent sequins and short white mitts. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white fringed carnations.

Mrs. Kent O. Brown was matron of honor. She wore a street length frock of white embroidered nylon over mist green tulle fashioned with a round neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore matching headpiece with round veil and gloves and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Kent O. Brown was best man for the bridegroom. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Beeton wore a blue embroidered linen dress with white accessories and a corsage of peppermint carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a flowered print nylon over taffeta dress with black accessories and a corsage of peppermint carnations. After greeting guests in the vestibule of the church, the couple

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beeton. She is a graduate of Morehead City High School and is employed at Morehead City Hospital.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Georgia Parker. He is a graduate of Morehead City High School and Chowan Junior College. He will enter Appalachian State Teachers College in September.
