Wed Sunday in Durham

Mrs. John Chaplain Lynch

Watts Street Baptist Church, Durham, was the setting Sunday afternoon at five o'clock for the wedding of Miss Claudette McKay Ellis of Durham and John Chaplain Lynch of Beaufort.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Carroll of Durham and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha Lynch of Beaufort.

The Rev. Fred Barnes heard the double ring vows before a background of palms, woodwardia fern and wrought iron candelabra holding lighted white candles, interspersed with floor baskets of white flowers. A white satin pre dieu completed the scene. Family pews were marked with white flowers and satin ribbons.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was presented by Miss Judith Eckerman, organist, and Mrs. Clifton Lynch of Morehead City, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a dress of pure silk taffeta designed with a fitted bodice, sabinina neckline accented with seed pearls and sequins, and long fitted sleeves ending in calla points over the hands.

The full skirt, accented with chantilly lace appliques, ended in a full court train. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace half-hat embroidered with pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white snowdrift and tiny gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ralph Cannady Jr. of Sumter, S. C. She wore a dress of rose taffeta and lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, sabinina neckline accented with lace, abbreviated sleeves and full skirt.

She wore matching rose shoes and a hat of velvet embroidered with seed pearls and accented with a nose veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of golden rapture roses. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Peters and Miss LaVerne Strickland of Durham. Their dresses and hats were like those of the honor.

Obituary

D. EDGAR THOMPSON Ocracoke—David Edgar Thompson, 56, died in a Norfolk hospital Aug. 21 after a short illness. Funeral services were held at the Ocracoke Methodist Church on Saturday, with Rev. W. W. Clarke officiating.

Burial was in the Ocracoke Community Cemetery. Pallbearers were Malby Bragg, Ed Wells, Charles Ahman, Rudolph Waller, Larry Williams and Wahab Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson moved to Ocracoke from Tarboro several years ago, and about two years ago built a home here. He was a member of the Ocracoke Civil Club and had served as its secretary.

He is survived by Mrs. Thompson, the former Elsie Dunn of Aurora, by his mother, Mrs. Frank M. Thompson of Hickory, and by four brothers and four sisters. Mr. Thompson's mother, though 80 years of age, made the trip all the way from Hickory to Ocracoke with his sister, Mrs. Hazel Parlier and son, Tom, of Lenoir, and were here Saturday and part of Sunday.

Methodist Sub-District Meets at Straits Church

The Morehead-Beaufort MYF sub-district met Monday night at the Straits Methodist Church. There was a total attendance of 194.

Jackie Wheatley led in fellowship singing to open the program. A devotional program was then conducted by the Straits MYF. Miss Dorothy Chadwick spoke on the subject Faith, which is one of the program areas of MYF. The program was very inspiring and everyone felt that it was good to have been there.

After the devotional, the Rev. J. E. Smith, pastor of the Beaufort circuit, led in a discussion pertaining to attitudes in school. Several MYFs presented skits to illustrate such attitudes as cheating, abusing school property, attitudes toward teachers, importance of grades, extracurricular activities, etc.

Some very important thoughts were brought out during the discussion and the subject was very timely since school begins this Tuesday.

Kay Temple gave a report on her week at annual conference session. Her talk was very interesting and made us all wish that we could have gone.

After a brief business session and the MYF benediction, we were served cake and soft drinks by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Straits Methodist Church. The fellowship during refreshments was enjoyed by all.
