

Beaufort Seadogs to Play Host to Havelock Rams

Both Teams Enter Game With Winning Records

The Beaufort Seadogs will play host to the Havelock Rams tonight at the Beaufort field. The Seadogs, coached by V. M. Morrison, have come a long way from the green sophomores that greeted the new coach on the first day of practice.

Coach Morrison says he is well pleased with the way the team is developing but that inexperience is still an important factor in every Seadog game.

In discussing last Friday's 57-0 romp over Vanceboro, the coach said, "We still don't know how good — or bad — we are. It will take a few games to see what other teams have before we can tell."

"Havelock has a good team, according to all reports, and the way we stacked up against the Rams may be a good indication of our strength. The Rams beat Camp Lejeune 13-6 in their first outing."

Seadogs Block Well

"Our downfield blocking was one of the strong points of our attack last week. On several of our touch-down runs there were three or four defensive players on the ground downfield."

"The Seadog blockers had good position but they lacked the crisp blocking I hoped to see. They put their men down but not the right way. By the end of the year I want this team to be blocking with precision — not a man out of position and every man putting a defensive player on the ground."

"Beaufort defensive play was pretty good against Vanceboro but it could have been better," the coach continued. "Here too the Seadogs lack experience. It takes lots of practice to play good defensive ball."

The coach said he was satisfied with the way Gordon Becton was kicking extra points. Becton hit on only one attempt last week in his first efforts.

Makes One Mistake

"Gordon tried those extra points without much practice at all and he came close on all of them," the coach explained. "He was looking up as he kicked the ball and that one mistake cost us three or four points."

"Now that we have a good place for him to practice a little bit, I think he will hit for a very good percentage," Coach Morrison said. In practice Tuesday Becton hit on 90 per cent of his extra point attempts.

The coach predicts that Pud Hassell will be punting the ball for a 50-yard average by the time he is a senior. Hassell, a sophomore, has won the punting job and is getting off good kicks consistently in practice.

Since he punted only once in the Vanceboro game, Hassell still rates as an inexperienced punter. He has been looking good, though, and should fulfill the coach's prediction.

Starting Lineup

The Seadogs came through the Vanceboro game without injury and Coach Morrison says he will stay with his same starting lineup. The starting offensive eleven will have Calvin Jones and Becton at the ends; John Smith and David Willis at tackles; Joe Powell and Gray Simpson at guards; Dallas Willis and Lonnie Dill alternating at center; Hassell at quarterback; Ernest House at fullback; and Eugene Roarty and Eddie Taylor at halfbacks.

Defensive specialists include linebacker Denard Harris and tackles Allen Autry and Fred Hooper. They will go into the game for offensive players.

Guion Dudley, who earned a letter at halfback last year, has decided to play and is working hard for a starting berth. The coach says Dudley still has a lot of work

Queen Street Knights To Play Williamston

Tyrone Ellison, Queen Street Knights quarterback, crosses the goal line for a touchdown against Rich Square last Saturday night. Tomorrow night Ellison will direct the Knights against a visiting team from Williamston.

The Queen Street Knights will play host to Williamston tomorrow night on the Beaufort field. The Knights, who trounced Rich Square by a 45-0 score last week, will be going after their second straight victory of the year.

Coach S. H. Barrow says he will probably stick with the same starters he went with against Rich Square. The Knight backfield of Tyrone Ellison, James Hardesty, Ray Fenderson and Toby Fenderson was quite impressive in last week's game. The Queen Street line played a top game against Rich Square and the coach says he had no complaints with the general play of the line.

Williamston will come to town with a big, fast team with plenty of experience. They took a licking from the Knights last year and will be out to turn the tables this season.

The game will begin at 8 p.m. The mosquito truck will spray the field prior to the game.

JC's to Repair Old Bleachers At Ball Field

Louis Russell, co-chairman of the Morehead City Jaycee football committee, announces that all the bleachers at the football field will be repaired and painted before the first home game next Friday night.

Mr. Russell reported on the activities of his committee at the Jaycee meeting at the Blue Ribbon Club Monday night. He said that the new ticket booth has been finished and is ready for use.

Construction on the restrooms is nearing completion. He reported that valuable material and plumbing supplies had been donated and that $700 in cash had been sent in.

Mr. Russell and the Jaycees express their appreciation for the gifts that have made the construction possible.

Two new concession stands have been started and will be ready for the first home game. The present stand on the north side of the field is still in good shape and will also be used.

The Jaycees have sold $480 worth of program ads so far and the programs will go to press next week. Ticket sales are behind expectations, so the club will have representatives in town tomorrow selling season tickets.

President Jerry Willis reports that the club helped send Miss North Carolina to Atlantic City for the Miss America contest. Individual members of the club sent congratulatory telegrams. Mayor George Dill sent a telegram on her arrival back in Greenville.

Dick Spears was appointed chairman of the Jaycee fire prevention week program. He announced the dates as Oct. 5-11.

Morehead Eagles to Travel To Cary for Game Tonight

The Morehead City Eagles will use a single wing offense when they take the field at Cary tonight. The Eagles have always had several single wing plays (they used three against New Bern last week) and the change from the T is going smoothly.

Coach Norman Clark made the change for several reasons but the more important were the facts that the Eagle line can be more effective with two-on-one blocking and that the Eagles have no one who can fill the shoes of Gerald Jones.

The T formation needs two strong, fast halfbacks such as the Eagles had in Jones and James Guthrie. With Jones out of the lineup, opposing teams can concentrate on Guthrie and make things rough for him.

Guthrie at Tailback

With a single wing, Guthrie will play tailback where his ability can be better utilized. Freddie Oglesby, of course, will be running from the fullback position.

Jackie McQueen will start at wingback where his speed can be used on reverses. Ted Garner, promoted this week to the starting lineup, will open in the blocking back role.

Garner looked good playing in last week's game against New Bern and earned a starting berth the hard way. He is only a sophomore who saw limited experience last year.

Starting Linemen

The starting offensive line will have Mokey Lassiter at center. James Leight and Leslie Nelson at guards, Lynnwood Durham and Jerry Garner at tackles, and Jim Lawrence and John Baker or Gary Walters at ends.

Coach Clark has made an effort to bolster his defensive team by putting Oglesby and Danny Grayshock in as defensive ends. New Bern showed the weak spots in the Eagle defense and now the coach is working overtime figuring ways to plug them.

He figures the Eagles will hit Cary on the rebound. Cary lost a 26-6 decision to Tarboro last week and will be trying hard to break into the victory column. The Eagles, too, should be anxious to score a victory over their upstate rivals.

The Eagles will play their first home game of the season against Swansboro next Friday night. The Pirates will come to town with the same team they had last year and should give the Morehead City eleven a rugged game.

State Wildlife Expert Gives Hunting Outlook

North Carolina hunters will again enjoy a long hunting season with liberal bag limits during the 1958-1959 season. The shooting started Saturday when the season on doves opened statewide. Hunting of some kind will continue through Feb. 14, 1959, when the season on rabbits, quail, and wild turkey closes.

The general hunting picture in the Tar Heel State is good. The waterfowl situation is somewhat discouraging, but fluctuations in the waterfowl populations must always be expected.

North Carolina game is plentiful despite constantly increasing hunting pressure and a gradually diminishing habitat. Through cooperation with farmers, sportsmen, and organized groups it has been possible to maintain an abundant supply of game despite detrimental factors.

Doves—Another bumper crop of doves in the Atlantic States will make possible a five-day bonus for dove hunters this year, with the bonus days divided between the early and late segments of a split season.

The first season will end Oct. 4 with a daily bag of ten birds and a possession limit of 20 after the first day of shooting. Shooting hours are from noon to sunset.

The second segment runs from Dec. 10 through Jan. 15, with the same bag limit and shooting hours. Best hunting will be in piedmont counties in the early season, and in the coastal plains during the second segment.

Marsh Hens—As in the past there will be far more sora, rails, and gallinules than there will be hunters to partake of the harvest. The season began Wednesday and will end November 18, with shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Fifteen rails or gallinules will be allowed daily, singly or in the aggregate, with 30 in possession. The limit for sora is 25 daily or in possession.

Woodcock—The Woodcock season opens Thanksgiving Day, November 27, and continues through January 5, with shooting hours the same as for marsh hens. The limit will be four daily, eight in possession. There is little apparent change in Woodcock populations over last year.

Waterfowl

The outlook for goose hunting is about the same as last year, reflecting little change in the goose population. At press time, however, it appeared that there would be a reduction in the bag limit for diving ducks due to a poor crop of birds in the northern nesting grounds that feed birds into the Atlantic flyway. The shortage of birds is especially significant among the diving ducks such as canvasbacks and scaup. The shooting season will be only 60 days this year compared to 70 last year.

Beaufort Seadogs In Three-Way Tie For Coastal Lead

Beaufort, Farmville and LaGrange are tied for the lead in Coastal Conference football standings. Each team has won one game. Vanceboro has lost one to Beaufort, and Contentnea has lost to Farmville and LaGrange.

Jasper L. Lewis, LaGrange, conference secretary, has announced the results of all games played by conference members last week. They follow: Beaufort 57-Vanceboro 0; Farmville 39-Contentnea 6; Havelock 13-Camp Lejeune 6 (non-conference); Mt. Olive 14-LaGrange 6 (non-conference); Williamson 19-Robersonville 0 (non-conference); and Benvenue 12-Ayden 0 (non-conference).

Games scheduled for tonight follow: Ayden at Vanceboro, Havelock at Beaufort, Robersonville at Contentnea, Farmville at Nashville, (non-conference) and, LaGrange at Jones Central (non-conference).

Marine Jailed To Await Trial

Thomas A. Beaver, Camp Lejeune, is in jail under $300 bond awaiting trial in Morehead City recorder's court Monday. Beaver is charged with registering at a motel for immoral purposes and stealing a tv set from the room.

Beaver's alleged partner, Margaret Vadese of Durham, has been convicted on the first count and bound over to superior court on the theft charges. She appealed her conviction and posted a total bond of $600 for both cases.

The woman was tried in July but Beaver was thought to be out on maneuvers at the time. The provost marshal office at Camp Lejeune turned him over to the Morehead City police Wednesday.

Monarchs to Begin Grid Season against New Bern

The W. S. King Monarchs will play their first football game at 3 p.m. tomorrow when they play host to the J. T. Barbour High School of New Bern. The game will be played at Camp Glenn.

The Monarchs, coached by John Thompson and Randolph Tootle Jr., will have a big team but one with no experience. The coaches say that the team has good spirit and wants to win.

Since the Monarchs have never played before, Coach Thompson has gone solely on what he has seen in practice to select a starting lineup.

Thompson gives the following offensive lineup: Billy Hester, center, Chaneer and Curley Becton, guards, King Quick and Power Dennis, tackles, Mott Hester and Dewey Yancey, ends, William Adams, quarterback, Curtis Davis, fullback, and Henry Dudley and Edward Gibbs, halfbacks.

The coach says he will work out a defensive eleven using some of the offensive players and perhaps a few defensive specialists.

Thompson predicts a good game and says his team is expecting a good crowd for the contest. "Since this is the first game ever played by the Monarchs," he says, "I want everybody to come out and see the boys in action."

BROAD CREEK

With a touch of fall in the air, what could be more enjoyable than an old-fashioned fish fry? Especially when you fry 'em right on the bank of the creek from which they were caught.

That's what the families of the Broad Creek Home Demonstration Club say, for they had their annual fish fry in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart late Saturday afternoon.

There were about fifty who enjoyed a delicious outdoor meal. Mrs. Stewart's mother, who is an invalid, was brought out in her wheel chair where she enjoyed the company of several other elderly ladies (the oldest being 88) while the younger women arranged the food on the tables. The men busied themselves taking turns frying fish.

There were swings, slides, and the like for the youngsters and weiners to roast over the coals of the fire when all the fish were fried.

Mrs. Floy Garner, home agent, and Mrs. Nellie Parker and families were not present, the only blot on an otherwise perfect family month meeting of the Broad Creek Club.

Fishing Report Features Oddities, Great Struggles

Oddities and great struggles between man and fish have accented fishing since the weekend. Bill Fox called with the story of an angler who was fishing in the surf with a Hopkins lure and pork rind, caught a 3-pound king. Another fisherman caught a 5- to 10-pound octopus aboard Daneo.

Raymond Duke, in a grim 1 1/2-hour battle with a shark on 35-pound test line and a Penn 350 reel, landed the 9-foot monster, with Ray Davis and Hubert Falcher presiding over the gaff.

Next pier down, at the Triple-Ess, Woodie Wilson fought a shark for 1 1/2 hours, finally lost him when the big fish went under the pier.

For the information of ocean pier anglers who aren't shark enthusiasts, spots at night have been excellent, with blues, spots and pompano fair to good during the day. Reports are still scattered in sound and river, but David Carden of Newport, who's a gray trout specialist, has been going out nights near the beach bridge, and reports a gradual increase in grays, along with some blues and pretty good numbers of fall spots.

Mrs. Henry Holt took her first fishing trip in the boat named for her, Lora. Her party, Mr. and Mrs. Van Martin and Charlie Laughinghouse, caught 22 blues in a half-day.

Edna had 33 blues and 10 spanish; Harriet L. II, 33 blues and mackerel; so the inshore outlook is still good.

The Goulds brought in encouraging catches for the folks who are eagerly waiting for kings—19 aboard Mattie G and 16 aboard Harriet L II — both half-day catches. A couple of days later boats in the Dolphin fleet were catching enough kings to make it worth while — 10 to 14 per boat, along with other offshore fish.

On the subject of baits: Bill Fox, of course, has been carrying live shrimp since midsummer, and expects to enlarge his live bait facilities by spring.

Thompson's pier has had live bait for some time, with the emphasis on live blues for king mackerel fishermen. Now M. L. Snipes at the Triple-Ess has his live-bait tank in operation. Triple-Ess, Sportsman and Fox's, and possibly others, have bloodworms, so the bait situation is improving rapidly.
