Miss Dora Jean Willis of Atlantic became the bride of Thomas Harold Salter, also of Atlantic, in a candlelight double ring ceremony Friday evening at seven o'clock in the Atlantic Methodist Church.

The Rev. Louie A. Lewis, former pastor, and the Rev. David Lewis, pastor, officiated. Miss Wanda Brown of Stacy, organist, and Mrs. Earl Hanning, soloist, presented nuptial music. Mrs. Hanning sang O Promise Me, I Love You Truly and The Wedding Prayer.

The church was decorated with four large baskets of white gladiolas and greenery against a background of pines. Five candelabras holding white tapers gave the only illumination. Two white wedding bells were hung in the entrance of the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Eugene R. Willis. She wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped sweetheart neckline outlined in iridescent sequins and pearls. Long sleeves ended in calla points over the hands.

The voluminous skirt was fashioned with a draped tunic of lace over three tiers of pleated tulle ruffles and extended into a chapel train.

She wore a two-tiered veil of illusion attached to a cap of lace trimmed with pearls and sequins and carried a white prayer book centered with a purple throated orchid and showered with white carnations and streamers.

Mrs. Winston Hunter Hill was matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown was of pink taffeta with full gathered overskirts of net and chiffon.

The gown was fashioned with cap sleeves and a high front neckline that extended to a V in back. A criss-cross sash of matching chiffon tied in a large bow in back.

She wore a pink gathered net and taffeta headband and elbow length white gloves and carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Styron, Miss Mildred C. Hamilton, Mrs. Gary Morris and Miss Treasure Willis, cousins of the bride.

They wore light blue dresses like that of the honor attendant with matching headbands and elbow length white gloves. They also carried cascades of pink carnations.

Miss Denise Styron, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta and net ballerina length dress fashioned similiar to the bridesmaids, with white mitts. She carried a white basket filled with white rose petals.

Mr. Curtis Lancaster of Goldsboro was best man. Ushers were Monroe Willis, uncle of the bride, Guy Taylor Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, Winston Hunter Hill and John Weston Smith Jr. Master Richard Darrell Willis, cousin of the bride, was page.

The mother of the bride wore a light blue lace over taffeta sheath dress with cummerbund and matching blue accessories and a corsage of white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace over taffeta dress with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will live in Atlantic. For travelling the bride wore a dark green sheath dress with black and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

He added that the present building will not be adequate in three years, and he hoped people would consider that when the new bond issue comes up.

Mr. Tarkington announced that the NEA would present a program, Crowded Out, Sunday afternoon between 3:30 and 4 over the television station. The film deals with the lack of school rooms.

The principal announced that the school had adopted a new grading mark system. A, excellent, will be from 93 to 100; B, good, from 85 to 93; C, average, from 78 to 85; D, passing, from 70 to 78; and F, failing, below 70, for the high school.
