Garrison Mann, Newport, Now Stationed in Japan

Yokato AB, Japan—Airman Third Class Garrison P. Mann recently arrived in Japan and is assigned to the 56th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Mann, Newport. Airman Mann graduated from Newport High School in 1956.

He entered the Air Force in November of 1957. After completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas, he was selected to attend Reciprocating Engine Mechanic Course at Chanute AFB, Illinois. This course qualifies him to perform engine maintenance on the squadron WB-50 aircraft during his assignment overseas.

Over a period of years, Airman Mann's new squadron, the "56th Weather," has earned the respect of both military and civilians in the Far East. Daily weather tracks and typhoon reconnaissance missions provide information that helps safeguard the lives and property of American and Japanese personnel.

FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY
By Anne Price Morris
Faith, Hope and Charity are three phases used.

They are not to be abused. God gave us those to pattern our life by. Use them wisely and we can say we tried.
