

Ray Montford Sent to Jail

- Driver Loses License For Drunk Driving
- Three Convicted On Whiskey Counts

Raymond Montford was sentenced to three months in jail after he entered a plea of guilty to public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and being a public nuisance in county recorder's court Thursday.

Judge Lambert Morris gave James W. Morgan a suspended sentence and ordered him to pay $100 and costs for driving drunk and driving after his license had been revoked.

Johnnie and Rosalee Sharpe paid $25 and half costs each for possession of non-taxpaid whiskey. Annie Teel paid costs for the same offense.

Others who paid costs follow: William Arnold, no drivers license; Gioacchino A. Papa, no registration for his car; George Murray, following too close; and W. L. Taylor, passing a bad check. Taylor also had to make the check good.

Four defendants forfeited bonds. They were William Marbley, violation of fishing laws; John S. Murphy, no license, driving on the wrong side of the road and running a stop sign; Thomas Haye, driving too fast for existing conditions; and Ernest Morris, public drunkenness.

Charges that Jimmy J. Talbert passed a bad check were dismissed. Also dismissed were charges that William Arnold, Jerry Brown and Charles Culpepper had used loud, profane and vulgar language in public.

There were 76 cases continued.

State Building Shows Increase Over Last Year

Raleigh — August building permits were more than $1,000,000 higher than in the same month last year in 30 Tar Heel cities of more than 10,000 population, the state department of labor reported today.

Labor Commissioner Frank Crane said the 30 cities reported permits totaling $14,091,617 last month. This was an eight per cent increase over the $13,013,350 reported for August 1957.

Crane said the cities reported permits totaling $120,378,491 in the first eight months of this year. This was 25 per cent above the $95,968,825 total recorded for the same period last year.

City totals for August 1958 were as follows: Albemarle $46,700, Asheville $309,000, Burlington $502,960, Charlotte $1,319,498, Concord $97,900, Durham $333,318, Elizabeth City $18,400, Fayetteville $345,507, Gastonia $551,550.

Rocky Mount $210,728, Salisbury $83,325, Sanford $110,300, Shelby $97,890, Statesville $253,425, Thomasville $49,330, Wilmington $549,140, Wilson $806,167, Winston-Salem $1,433,882.

Figures for the first eight months of 1958 were as follows: Albemarle $653,300, Asheville $4,076,645, Burlington $3,057,886, Charlotte $17,589,604, Concord $657,700, Durham $8,169,116, Elizabeth City $104,610, Fayetteville $2,755,856.

Gastonia $3,603,025, Goldboro $1,146,185, Greensboro $18,902,565, Greenville $3,457,995, Henderson $546,680, Hickory $1,439,825, High Point $5,840,507, Kinston $1,904,631, Lexington $1,361,951, Monroe $621,800, New Bern $1,056,281.

Town Board

2300 block between Evans and Arendell Streets was approved.

Buildings and grounds commissioner Jasper Bell reported that the city park at Camp Glenn is still being improved. He said that Morehead Block and The Co. had given him 100 blocks to use along the edge of the street to keep people from driving on the grass.

Commissioner Bell reported that the Lions Club was working on restrooms at the park.

The board agreed to grant commissioner Bell's request for two street lights to be installed at the park.

Capt. Charlie Piner was appointed harbor master during the meeting. Captain Piner had expressed his willingness to serve at no cost to the town.

Others present at the meeting were commissioners S. C. Holloway, and Ted Garner, town attorney George McNeill and Garland Scruggs, who observed the meeting as a visitor.

Civil Defense Planner Holds Meeting Here

Maj. Ronald E. Smith, Civil Defense area planner, met with the Morehead City town board and other interested parties Thursday night in the municipal building. The meeting was requested by Morehead City Civil Defense director Delfido Cordova and Mayor George Dill.

The purpose of the meeting was to determine the jobs of the different people who had been appointed to Civil Defense positions in the city. Mayor Dill said, "Here we have appointed a lot of folks to jobs and nobody knows what they are supposed to do."

The mayor pointed out that the town was more interested in natural disaster than in atomic attack. Dr. Ben Royal predicted, "After that first explosion it will be everybody for himself and the devil take the hindmost."

Major Smith explained that Civil Defense is primarily interested in military attack. "In case of a natural disaster such as a hurricane," he said, "the local Civil Defense unit assists the Red Cross."

Mayor Dill said the Red Cross surely needed some help because for two days after hurricane Hazel hit in 1954 the town was the only organization to take care of persons evacuated from low areas.

"We bought groceries and milk for babies—you never saw so many babies," the mayor said. "We bought milk by the truck load but the Red Cross couldn't repay us."

"The Red Cross would have given those people rations for the days they went hungry once they got here and fed them up to date but there was no way for the town to get its money back," he concluded.

After a discussion of the state Civil Defense mechanism, Major Smith gave Mayor Dill a copy of an organizational book giving the jobs of Civil Defense officials in a county system. He said the county and town systems should be similar.

Attending the meeting in addition to the ones already listed were Morehead City commissioners G. E. Sanderson, Jasper Bell, D. J. Hall, S. C. Holloway and Ted Garner, town attorney George McNeill, town clerk John Lashley, transportation director Garland Scruggs, Atlantic Beach Civil Defense director J. A. Savage, Atlantic Beach police chief, W. W. Moore, Beaufort commissioner Gerald Hill and Beaufort town manager Dan L. Walker.
