

Beaufort Rotarians Will Entertain District Governor

The Rotary Club of Beaufort will be host Tuesday night to W. Jesse Moye, governor of the 773 district of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 43 Rotary clubs in Southeastern North Carolina. He will address the local club and confer with president Bruce Tarkington, secretary Dr. Warden Woodard and committee chairmen.

Mr. Moye is owner and operator of Oakleigh Farms of Farmville and is member and past president of the Rotary Club of Farmville. He was elected as district governor of Rotary International for the 1958-59 fiscal year at Rotary's 49th annual convention in Dallas, Texas last June.

He is one of 258 district governors supervising the activities of more than 9,600 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 462,500 business and professional executives in 110 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Tarkington asserted in discussing the governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Beaufort because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

During the past fiscal year, 350 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 51 countries and geographical regions, bringing the total number of Rotary Clubs to an all-time high of nearly 10,000. Eight countries were added to Rotary's roster—British Honduras, Eritrea, French Guiana, Laos, Martinique, Papua, Virgin Islands and the West Indies Federation.

How Wise Housewives Fill Market Basket on Budget

By MISS LOUISE

With these cool days, there's little excuse for saying, "It's too hot to cook," so let's give the family a break and come up with some fine meals for fall.

A&P and Colonial stores in Beaufort and Morehead City are going all-out this weekend to make those food dollars go a "fur piece". Here's what a five-dollar bill will buy this weekend at A&P (with 3 cents left over):

Twenty-five pounds of US No. 1 white potatoes, four pounds of apples, 3-pound standing rib beef roast, two 12-ounce cans of whole kernel corn, 24-oz. bottle of syrup, 11½-ounce package of Oreo Creams (the youngsters love these), 46-ounce can of tomato juice, two pounds of carrots, and two 9-ounce packages of frozen french fries. (For other happy-budget items, see the A&P ad on page 3 this section).

A five-dollar bill can play a starring role at Colonial this weekend: It will buy a delicious Carteret grown 5-pound fryer, pound of bacon, 3-pound chuck roast, three cans of tomato soup (10 cents a can), a half gallon of ice cream, 2

This week's Kitchen Cue: Now that apples are on the market at attractive prices, apple pies are in style. To make your apple look crisp and appealing, sprinkle this on top before putting in the oven—Blend together 1 tablespoon of shortening, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons flour and ¼ teaspoon salt. Morehead Theatre Devotes Entire Week to Vikings

By O. J. MORROW

At the Morehead Theatre starting Sunday is The Vikings, starring Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh and Ernest Borgnine and playing for one full week. As is explicitly indicated by the title, the subject matter concerns the life and times of the Vikings, who came out of Scandinavia in the eighth and ninth centuries to terrorize the British Isles and western Europe.

Oddly enough, this is the first major motion picture to make use of this wild and brutal era as material for screen adventure. All of the film was shot in Europe, photographed in Technirama and the lovely, soft tones associated with British Technicolor.

The shooting locales ranged from magnificent Norwegian fjords to the rugged seacoasts of France and Britain. The screenplay by Calder Willingham, is bold and simple in the tradition of so much historical fiction.

Kirk Douglas and Ernest Borgnine are especially effective in their roles, lusty, brawling, cruel, but full of pagan vitality. This picture was previewed at the Victoria Theatre in New York, and the reviewers' rating was excellent entertainment.

At the City Theatre, starting Sunday and playing through Tuesday, is Harry Black and the Tiger, starring Stewart Granger, Barbara Rush and Anthony Steel. Harry Black and the Tiger is a suspense-filled adventure drama of a life-and-death struggle between a determined hunter and an equally aggressive man-eater.

This picture is the first western film produced entirely in India since this nation's independence. In the title role of the hunter, Stewart Granger relentlessly stalks his prey, a man-eating tiger, who terrorizes Indian villagers. Strangely, the two have much in common. Harry Black has a war injury which has made him lame, and the tiger has many battle scars from narrow escapes in the jungle. Both are determined fighters.

For mid-week entertainment the City Theatre presents Cole Younger, Gunfighter, starring Frank Lovejoy in the title role. This picture takes place in 1873 when the infamous Bluebellies of Gov. E. J. Davis rode roughshod over the state of Texas and ruled the land with terror, violence and the six gun.

Lovejoy is seen as Cole Younger,

"She arrested me once already," he sighed. "I told her that it would be nice if we could go to her house and talk it over. And I was so taken by her that she was on the jail elevator before I knew what she was really doing to me."

"She booked me for drunk."
