Seniors Shout with Joy When Class Rings Arrive This Week

By BUNNY MOORE

"They're here! they're here!" These were the words the seniors yelled to each other Tuesday morning when it was found that the class rings had arrived. You have never seen such a happy group of people.

By the way everyone was going around showing off his hand, you would think that each had just received a diamond; but I suppose this is just about as exciting.

The Beaufort fans have something to look forward to. On Oct. 12, Beaufort will be host to Farmville. This will be the homecoming game for the Seadogs. This year the school has gone all out for this occasion. There will be a big parade of floats and Miss Seadog will be crowned.

The candidates for the Miss Seadog Contest are as follows: from the Senior class, Dorothy Ransom; the junior class, Patricia Lupton; the sophomore class, Perry Lou Willis; the freshman class, Jennie Duncan, Sylvia Thompson, and Jeanette Ransom.

There are so many beauties it will be a hard decision to make.

The Latin Club held its first meeting Friday morning. The new president, Jackie Wheatly, presided. Sammy Merrill was in charge of the program which consisted of slides of Rome. It was enjoyed by all.

The Juniors are still working on their magazine sale and are doing an excellent job. They have already raised $1,018.63 and are hoping to reach $1,500.00 by the end of the week.

When you think of seniors, you usually think of dignified students. Some of the girls at BHS are different. They believe in going to the fair and riding the merry-go-round, honestly, some people! I am glad all seniors don't act this way.

The Beaufort Seadogs will be playing Camp Lejeune tonight. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. After the game, the FHA will sponsor a dance. Let's all try to attend.
