Conservation Notes

After Harvest, Plant Food Must Be Put Back in Soil

By M. H. OWENS
A harvested crop removes a great deal of plant food from the soil. This has to be replaced if continued good crops are to be realized. An excellent way of providing some of this plant food, as well as improving your soil, is by planting a winter cover crop, especially crimson clover.

Perhaps a better plan would be to seed this land in small grain followed by lespedeza to provide both winter and summer grazing. Soybeans are soon going to shed their leaves. You can seed crimson clover in these fields before the leaves fall. The falling leaves will furnish cover for the clover seed to germinate.

Many farmers in the county are planning to seed a grass or legume on their farm for winter and spring grazing and a green manure to be turned under as well as to provide winter cover.

For tobacco, a good plan is to work out a rotation of fescue planted in small grain followed by tobacco the next year. Several Carteret County farmers are planning to follow this rotation. If you cannot do this, perhaps the next best thing would be to seed ryegrass or a small grain on the land to be planted in tobacco next year.

M. H. Owens

Corn harvest is progressing rapidly now. When you pick your corn, why not seed crimson clover, with ryegrass or small grain? This will provide very good late winter grazing. Perhaps a better plan would be to seed this land in small grain followed by lespedeza to provide both winter and summer grazing.

If you have a need for drainage work or woodland that is in need of improvement, now is a good time to get this done.

Many conservation practices are so important the government will share the cost. You can get information on this from the county ASC office.

Let's get our conservation jobs completed this year as soon as possible.

Store Takes to Tent
Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — A supermarket burned down and one week later reopened in a huge tent pitched on the parking lot of the burned store. Launched with clowns and other circus atmosphere, the store under canvas went on a 24-hour-a-day schedule pending completion of the new building.

County Scouts Lead Council In Competition

The Carteret Boy Scout district is leading the East Carolina Council in the annual President's award competition. The award is given each year to the district showing the greatest success in volunteer leadership, training and in getting Scouting skills to boys.

A point system has been devised whereby the districts may be scored on the basis of increase in membership, rank advancement, increase in adult workers, training programs and other Scouting requirements.

District Scout executive Rudolph Alexander has released the following report on the growth of this district in the past six years:

The number of Cub packs has increased from three to 10; the number of Scout troops has increased from 10 to 14; total units in the county have increased from 14 to 25.

The number of boys participating has grown from 342 to 515; the number of adult leaders has increased from 127 to 258; subscriptions to Boys' Life, the official Boy Scout magazine, have gone from 52 to 231.

The number of boys in summer camp has climbed from 27 in 1956 to 95 this summer. Money raised in 1955 came to $2,091. Last year $2,444 was raised. The goal for this year has been set at $3,500 by district finance chairman Bob Howard, Morehead City.

Mr. Howard will spearhead a one-day campaign on Oct. 7 in an effort to raise the entire amount on that day.

Boon to Sleepy Heads

Hilliards, Ohio (AP) — For one week, anyway, any late-rising student from Hilliards High School could simply wrap his bedsheet around him and head for class. That was Latin Week, when most of the student body wore sheets in the style of the togas worn by Roman citizens.

School Committee Chairman Speaks To Morehead Lions

Dr. M. B. Morey, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, discussed plans for a new school at the Morehead City Lions Club meeting Thursday night. The club met at the Hotel Fort Macon dining room.

Dr. Morey said that 330 students in Morehead City were being taught in temporary or sub-standard rooms. He said that his committee proposes the construction of a consolidated school west of Morehead City. The school most favored is a campus-type plant.

After the program, the Lions conducted a brief business session. They voted to give $10 per month to help support a blind case worker in the county.

O. J. Morrow was authorized to send out letters in the Be Thankful You Can See drive. Each letter contains stamps for which the club hopes to receive donations.

Final plans for Saturday's White Cane sale were discussed.
