Mrs. C. L. Beam
... in county government

Among the Carteret Business and Professional Women's Club members who are observing National Business Women's Week this week are six who own, either in part or wholly, their own businesses; two school teachers, a director of nurses, welfare supervisor, laboratory technician, two registered nurses, dietitian, editor, bank official, office workers and accountants, as well as homemakers.

B&PW requirements are that at least 75 per cent of each club group shall be actively employed in a business or profession. The remainder may be women engaged in the profession of making a home and rearing a family.

Women interested in becoming a member of the B&PW Club are invited to contact Mrs. Clem Johnson, membership chairman, at 6-5164 or 6-3232.

The club meets each fourth Tuesday at 7 p.m. for a supper meeting.

Boy Scouts Will Deliver CD Handbooks Tomorrow

By JOHN VALENTINE
Civil Defense Director

Tomorrow the Boy Scouts will be passing out Civil Defense Handbooks in all communities in the county. This is part of a nationwide program in connection with Civil Defense and Mobilization, and the handbooks are for the information of each household as a guidance during times of emergency which may occur.

This will include first-aid treatment along with other important information. This literature should be read by every householder and retained in a place where it could be referred to in an emergency.

The County Civil Defense and Mobilization Organization appreciates very much the quarters given them for operations by the county board of commissioners, as well as the $200 which will be of great assistance in putting this space into use. We will soon receive some general office equipment which is very necessary for the proper operation of Civil Defense activities.

These quarters will serve as the Control Center in the County during any natural disaster or national emergency, both for Civil Defense and Mobilization and the Red Cross.

Mr. George Taylor of Beaufort has been appointed to fill the position of control center officer. Mr. Harry Hill of Beaufort has been appointed to be in charge of the Transportation Evacuation of Civil Defense. Mrs. Bill Hildebrand will be in charge of Administration and Personnel. Assisting her and inan advisory capacity will be Miss Mamie Godwin and Mrs. Alban Richey.

Civil Air Defense, represented by Lt. Col. J. A. Brennan, Lieut. C. Blockard, and T/Sgt. Daniel F. Soschie, conferred with the county Civil Defense director yesterday, reviewing the Ground Observation system.

The Civil Defense director would be very interested in discussing with anyone the possibility of their assisting in this portion of the Civil Defense and Mobilization program.

Attend Meeting

County farm agent R. M. Williams and soil conservationists Maynard Owens and Howard Garner attended a soil and water conservation session in Jacksonville Wednesday.

Oyster Outlook Fair, If Helene Did Little Damage

What does the oyster season look like?

Dr. A. F. Chestnut, director of the Institute of Fisheries Research, UNC, Morehead City, says that before Helene, it looked like a fair year ahead for the oysterman—as good as last year if not better.

How much damage Helene may have done to oyster beds has not been determined.

The meat of the oyster seems a bit better than usual for this time of year, Dr. Chestnut added.

The season opened Oct. 1.

The fire alarm whistle that sounded Tuesday afternoon in Morehead City was caused by workmen clearing broken tree limbs off the alarm lines.

Newport Rotarians Meet in Morehead

The Newport Rotary Club visited Morehead City for a meeting at the Rex Restaurant Monday night. Guest speaker for the dinner meeting was Capt. Richard Robinson, Cherry Point.

Captain Robinson is in charge of the ground control approach unit of the air tower. He discussed the equipment used and the responsibilities of the men who work under him.

Visitors at the meeting were Bob Howard and T. D. Lewis, both of Morehead City.

Taken to Hospital

Jake Young, 72, employee at Wallace Fisheries, was walking west of Morehead City in the vicinity of the Blue Ribbon Club at 7 p.m. Monday when he became ill. He was taken to Morehead City Hospital in the Dill ambulance.

Two Negro Boys are Charged With Assault on White Youth

Two Morehead City Negro boys were tried Monday for assaulting a white boy from Beaufort. Charges against Nathaniel Reese and Freddie Washington were heard by Morehead City recorder's court judge Herbert Phillips.

Washington was sentenced to 30 days but he appealed the judgment and posted a $50 bond to appear in superior court. Reese was already under a one-year suspended sentence and on two years probation. Judgment in his case was continued a week so his probation officer can come to court.

According to testimony the incident took place in front of Dudley's place in the colored section of Morehead City Saturday night. Johnnie Owens was giving some Negro boys from Beaufort a ride home from a ball game and they wanted to stop at Dudley's for soft drinks.

While Owens was sitting in front of the place in his car, he testified that the two boys assaulted him and tried to pull him out of his car. The affray was stopped before he was seriously injured.

William Ford Adams, Morehead City and Thomas M. Chunn Jr., Beaufort, were convicted of forcible trespass and were fined $50 each and were ordered to pay court costs.

Lets Minor Drive
Len Finer, Morehead City, was fined $35 plus costs for public drunkenness and allowing a minor to drive his car. Glen Manning was remanded to juvenile court on charges of driving without a license.

He requested a jury trial and posted a $50 bond. He was charged with disturbing the peace. Harold Lee Baker, Williston, paid $15 and costs for having improper brakes and running a stop sign. He deposited his license with the clerk for six months.

Those who paid costs follow: Luther M. Smith, Morehead City, running a red light; George Roy Jones, Morehead City, speeding; Curtis Bell, Morehead City, assault; Benjamin F. DeLoach, Morehead City, public drunkenness; and William C. Trustley, Bayboro, running a stop light.

Forfeit Bonds
The state elected not to try Charles N. Killmon, Morehead City, charged with simple assault. Two defendants forfeited cash bonds. They were Ralph Gaskill, Sea Level, charged with public drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and William H. Hockaday, Cherry Point, charged with the same offense.

Cases were continued against the following: W. H. Weeks, H. R. Blake, Layton D. Norris, Joseph Morgan, Mabel Horton, Wayne Earl Thompson, George Wallace Jr., Clem B. Gaskill, Preston Murdoch and Evie M. Taylor.

Arrest Made
Marshall Ayscue, county ABC officer, reports that Harry Lynch, North River, was apprehended Saturday night and charged with carrying a small quantity of bootleg whiskey. Lynch at present is under suspended sentence on a conviction in county court a short while ago.

Scout Troops Can Win Tickets to Grid Games

Rudolph Alexander, district Boy Scout executive, announces that any troop or post that recruits five new boys or three adults between the first of last month and next Wednesday will be eligible to attend a college football game.

The Scouts will have a choice of three games. They are: East Carolina vs. Randolph Macon at Greenville on Nov. 15; University of North Carolina vs. Wake Forest at Chapel Hill on Oct. 25; and Duke University vs. North Carolina State College at Durham on Oct. 25.
