Methodist Editor Hits Independents Working in Japan

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—The Rev. Walter N. Vernon, a member of the staff of the Methodist Board of Education's Editorial Division, says the activities of "independent" missionaries is causing confusion among Japanese Christians.

The Rev. Mr. Vernon, recently returned from nearly a month in the Far East, defines "independent" missionaries as those not sent into the field by any denomination.

"Major Protestant denominations," he says, "united in Japan several years ago and the union, the United Church of Christ in Japan, seems to be quite successful."

"However, when the 'independent' missionaries come in and establish competing churches it looks like divisiveness to many of the Japanese."

Unemployed Ex-Servicemen Can Now Register for Unemployment Insurance

Raleigh — Ex-servicemen of the Armed Forces who are unemployed may register for unemployment insurance protection under Public Law 848 starting Oct. 22, Chairman Henry E. Kendall of the North Carolina Employment Security Commission announces.

The law, passed by the 85th Congress, provides a permanent unemployment insurance program for the Armed Forces similar to that for workers in private industry and federal employees who became unemployed and who meet the requirements of unemployment compensation laws, said Mr. Kendall.

To be eligible for unemployment compensation, an ex-serviceman must meet the provisions of North Carolina Employment Security Law and certain federal requirements. In general, these provide that a serviceman may receive unemployment compensation if:

He has had 90 or more continuous weeks of service for employment to collect jobless benefits while he is endeavoring to secure a civilian job. Earlier laws covered only World War II and Korean conflict veterans.

Ex-servicemen who wish to apply for benefits under the new law should contact the North Carolina Employment Security Office, 5th Street, Morehead City.

The new law brings under the Armed Forces (or less if discharged because of service-incurred injury or disability); he was discharged or released under consensual days of active service in the

The Christian Viewpoint

Prepared by Department of Bible Presbyterian Junior College, Maxton, North Carolina

There is a difference in the attainments we various people achieve in the Christian life. Some succeed better than others in developing Christian character. Some time the difference is more outward than real, and God, who sees the hearts, may know the high worth of the devotion and usefulness of some people who go unnoticed by their fellowmen.

There is a difference between man and man, and it is perfectly proper for us to honor those whose lives are outstanding in virtue. However, between man and God there is a vast distance. None of us is so good we do not need God's forgiveness and grace.

Suppose two men wanted to take a trip around the world. The fare is $3,000. One man has $50 and the other $150. Neither can make the trip. However, if a friend of theirs invites them to be his guests on a free trip around the world, they can both go. The difference in the money they have does not matter much. They will go because of their friend's generosity.

So, if we go to heaven it will be because of God's generosity, His grace. That grace has been provided in the saving death of Jesus Christ. We must accept God's love and forgiveness.

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life." (John 3:16)

Don't Throw Those Pennies Away!

Folks are asked to start saving pennies now for Halloween night. On that night children will go from door to door "trick or treating" to raise money for "all the world's children".

The project is sponsored in cooperation with the United Nations children's relief fund, known as UNICEF. Funds collected are used to provide medical supplies and food to help governments assure a healthy, productive future for millions of children.

In 1957 UNICEF-assisted projects helped 45 million children and mothers in more than a hundred countries. Disease control programs, maternal and child welfare centers and nutrition programs were financed.

If children in Halloween costume call at your house and they are wearing an orange and black emblem showing a child drinking a glass of milk, the pennies you give them will go to UNICEF.
