CARTERET COUNTY NEWS-TIMES

Carteret County's Newspaper

EDITORIALS

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1958

All Have a Right to Speak

in The News-Times presented opinions of persons who are not completely sold on the consolidated school plan. For printing that story the newspaper has roused the ire of those in favor of the consolidated plan. That plan envisions a high school for students east of Newport River and a high school for students west of Newport River.

The newsstory referred to above has been interpreted by many as the opinion of The News-Times rather than the opinion of certain persons who live in outlying areas of the county.

The opinions of this newspaper, with few exceptions, always appear in this space. If our opinions appear on the front page, they will be labeled "Editorial". The newsstory in question was not so labeled. We are so much in favor of consolidation that we wish the county were composed, geographically, so that only one high school could serve all communities!

The best interests of the county are not served by maintaining little community high schools. But we will not deny the people who are against consolidation the right to express their opinion.

Some of the two-consolidated-highschool folks apparently believe that the front page story posing questions about the consolidated plan was more fiction than fact. We are flattered that they endow us with such "creative ability". Persons in favor of consolidated schools seem to want to kid themselves to say."

Throughout the county, children dressed in Halloween costumes will ring doorbells Friday night as ambassadors of goodwill for UNICEF, the

These ghosts and goblins will be trading "no tricks played on you" if you will treat them to pennies, nickels and dimes for the Children's Fund. This money is used to provide medicine and food for millions of sick and hungry

Sunday Schools are taking an active

United Nations Children's Fund.

children all over the world.

part in the program. The Sun-

day School pupils

will be making

the calls, door to door, with milk

carton containers

or jars for holding

Fund.

Several weeks ago a front page story into thinking that everything's rosy and all they have to do is read in the newspaper every Tuesday and Friday that "two consolidated schools are what is needed" and by some magic, therefore, the county will get them.

A lot of folks want to know more about the "consolidation" plan. We believe that they will get this information if education officials and the County Citizens Committee for Better Schools are aware that some have doubts about consolidation. We're sorry if a newsstory to that effect hurt the feelings of pro-consolidation folks, but many a contest has been lost simply because the loser had kidded himself into thinking he was going to win.

Much more will be said about schools in coming weeks. But all factions should know this: Regardless of our opinion, we will present all sides of the question relating to the school situation. But we can't do this if one faction decides that it is "getting no cooperaion from the newspaper" and therefore is afraid to tell the newspaper its side of the story.

The columns of this paper are open to those in favor of consolidation, those against and those in between. Much good comes from debate. To para-phrase Voltaire, "We may not agree with what you say, but we will defend to the death your right to say it, and as long as you are sincere, honest, and have at heart the best interests of the children, we will publish what you have

Last year two million American youngsters contributed over a million dollars to UNICEF. Transformed by the Children's fund into life-saving medicine and food, each penny meant five glasses of milk or the vaccine to protect a child from tuberculosis; each nickel provided the penicillin to cure a child of yaws, a crippling tropical dis-

UNICEF is also helping in a 10-year

malaria eradication program. In addition, maternal and child welfare centers have been established where long-range programs of health and nutrition

Each Trick or Treat coin more than doubles itself, because UNICEF assist-education are in operation.

Make Her Look Like a Monster! If you are in the last stages of tucouldn't I? (No need to work at berculosis, this is no problem. The cosmetics people will hate you.

have to rush to the cosmetics counters for pale powder base, chalk - white face powder, and oodles of eve make-up, false eve-

lashes, and wispish pink lipstick

But if you're fairly healthy, you'll

The shining goal of every fashion designer and hair stylist apparent-ly is "Make every woman look like a monster.

The sack look was the first to hit the innocent populace. Yet the dress designs weren't satisfied. Women reeled under the innova-tion, but came back, bought the sacks, and didn't look quite monster-ish enough.

So this fall, among other things, it's the "empire" look, a throw-back to styles of the days of Napoleon. This look makes a woman appear to be in the family way. not about six months as did the sacks, but just one break-neck ride away from the hospital.

Now the hair stylists are NOT going to be left eating the dust of dress designers. They have devised coiffures to "match" the ungodly creations for the human form. Not only are wigs, in all hues of the rainbow, on the market, but extra hair pieces are available to make your head look as though it's sprouting horns.

From the carefree Italian style of short hair that looks as though it is combed by an egg-beater, the hair stylists have swung to ultra-formal styles. They are styles that no woman can achieve unless she has a beautician move in with her to comb and arrange her hair morning, noon, and night. Object: make hair look like any-

Captain Henry

Ran into B. G. Foster, the famous bear hunter of Gatlinburg, Tenn., who's down here bear hunting. He and his party shot two beauties before 9 o'clock Friday morning. B. G. said the fur is good and long-will make beauti-

That reminds me of a story hunter, unlike B. G., who about a spends hours telling of his esca-pades. This long-winded one was saying, "As I came around a turn in the road, I came face to face with a 2-foot hear, and a hundred youngster saddle up a horse the other day. J. P. walked up to him and said,

"Pardon me, son, but aren't you putting your saddle on back-wards?"

"Some cowboy you are," the lad retorted. "You don't even know which way I'm headed."

Let this be a lesson to folks who someone pretending to be in need of a handout: are always eager to give cash to A man threw a quarter toward the blind man's cup. The coin missed and rolled along the pave-

Louise Spivey

Words of Inspiration HINDRANCES

Eyes blinded by the fog of Things cannot see Truth. Ears deafened by the din of Things cannot hear Truth. Brains bewildered by the whirl of Things cannot think Truth. Hearts deadened by the weight of Things cannot feel Truth. Throats choked by the dust of Things cannot speak Truth. - Harold Bell Wright

QUOTES

It is better to have nothing to do than to be doing nothing .- Attilus

That you retain your self respect, it is better to displace the people by doing what you know is right, than to temporarily please them by doing what you know is wrong.

Flattery is nothing but soft soap, containing a high percentage of lye.

George Washington wisely said, "Great people are not affected by each puff of wind that blows ill. Like great ships, they sail serenely on, in a calm sea or a great tempest.

It is better to say something good about a bad man than to say something bad about a good man.

The young man who thinks the world owes him a living becomes the old man who blames the world for his failures.

A man's good breeding is the best security against another's bad manners. - Chesterfield

Kindness is the language the dumb can speak and the deaf can hear and understand

Intelligence is like a river . . . the deeper it flows, the less noise it makes.

The final test of gentility is the ability to disagree without being disagreeable.

From time to time the girls in my Sunday School class have brought to the class books, poetry or prose which they had found to be inspirational to share with all of us.

The following poem was brought to us by Linda Burrows. The title nor the author was not included, but it certainly gives us something to think about, as we complain about the things we do not have.

Today, upon a bus, I saw a lovely girl with golden hair

Envied her, she seemed so gay, and wished I were as fair. When suddenly she rose to leave, I saw her hobble down the aisle; She had one leg, and wore a crutch; and as she passed . . . a smile. And then I stopped to buy some sweets. The lad who sold them had such charm,

I talked with him . . . he seemed so glad . . . if I were late 'twould do no harm.

And as I left he said to me: "Thank you. You have been so kind." "It's nice to talk with folks like you. You see," he said, "I'm blind." Later, walking down the street, I saw a child with eyes so blue, He stood and watched the others play; it seemed he knew not what to do. I stopped a moment, than I said: "Why don't you join the others, dear?" He looked ahead without a word, and then I knew . . . he could not hear. With legs to take me where I'd go ...

With eyes to see the sunsets glow . . . With ears to hear what I would know . . .

Oh, God, forgive me when I whine,

I'm blessed indeed. The world is mine.

Comment ... J. Kellum

Advice Poems

In the 19th Century rage for righeousness, a number of poets delivered advice on taking advantage of what opportunities are offered by the moment. In the two poems quoted below, the first is an exam-ple of the preaching type of pronouncement, the second of the story-with-a-moral type. Both are titled, "Opportunity:"

Master of human destinies am L.

Fame, love, and fortune on my footsteps wait, Cities and fields I walk; I pene-

Deserts and seas remote, and,

passing by Hovel, and mart, and palace, soon keener steel --That blue blade that the king's or late son bears — but this Blunt thing!" — he snapped and flung it from his hand, knock, unbidden once at every

or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and gate! If sleeping, wake — if feasting, rise before I turn away. It is the hour of fate, And they who follow me reach

every state

plore -

more.

the girls.

Then came the king's son, wound-Mortals desire, and conquer every ed, sore bestead, foe Save death; but those who doubt

i weaponless, and saw the broken sword, Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden sake of making a clear impression is Edward R. Sill's contribution:

This I behold, or dreamed it in a

There spread a cloud of dust along

a plain; And underneath the cloud, or in it,

A furious battle, and men yelled,

and swords Shocked upon swords and shields.

Wavered, then staggered back-ward, hemmed by foes.

A craven hung along the battle's edge, And thought, "Had I a sword of

And lowering crept away and left the field.

A prince's banner

dream:

raged

And ran and snatched it, and with woe, Seek me in vain and uselessly imbattle-shout Lifted afresh he hewed his enemy I answered not, and I return no down, And saved a great cause that heroic day.

John James Ingalls does not spe-

pitchers in every bedroom.

The next day, after the treaty was signed and mass said by the cardinal, everyone went hunting, returning in time for the banquet. According to George Cavendish, Wolsey's right-hand man, the main course consisted of 100

different dishes. even richer than his King Henry wa

ance means self-help. Each country receiving aid contributes an average of $2 in either money or services for every dollar from the Children's Fund. Participation in Trick or Treat for UNICEF means a better world tomorrow for millions of children.

Summit Conference of 1520

For All the World's Children

ease

(North American Newspaper Alliance)

Summit conferences can be fun while 280 beds, gold or silver wash bowls and they last. At least they once were back in 1520.

the coins. Only those youngsters displaying the emblem shown here will be authorized collectors for the Children's

That was the year Cardinal Wolsey and King Henry VIII of England held open house for royal delegations from France. The purpose was to get the French to sign a treaty of "perpetual peace" - Cardinal Wolsey's idea. Instead of "perpetual peace, ever, the purpose seemed more like per- cardinal, and the banquet he threw for petual drinking, dining and dancing. Both Wolsey and Hepry threw their own parties for the guests, and each tried to outdo the other in generosity. When the Frenchmen arrived - 80 of them with their retinues - they went directly to Hampton Court where share. Cardinal Wolsey was holding his party. He had done over his entire palace new tapestries on the walls, magnifi-

Sou'easter

ful bear rugs. Thus far, the kill has been eight.

that's thing but hair. The harlequin look is "the thing" in the makeup line. The face must be a white, unhealthy pastey look.

While wearing this gook on one's face, to be completely in style, ani mation must be kept to a minimum. Smile at your own risk; never laugh out loud, frown or shout at your peril — the point is to be wispy, delicate and aloof.

If you have achieved all the foregoing, you are, in the eyes of the fashion experts, a strikingly beautiful woman. In the eyes of male associates you'll probably be classified as a monster. I'm a stoic. When it comes to extremes in dress and makeup, I re-fuse to be bamboozled into the crushing rush. But several months

Bill Taft has taken pictures of the beat-up signs on highway 70A that say "Welcome to Morehead City, Speed Limit 35 Miles an Hour". They're a disgrace, he says. ago, I finally succumbed. I inliged in some eye makeup. My big concession to the height of fashion was eye shadow. Reactions: One friend (and she Many people agree. If the signs are not to be repainted, they could really is, she wasn't being catty) concernedly asked me, "How did you bruise your eye?" I grinned bravely and said, "Oh, that's eve shadow." at least be taken down and stored hat's eye shadow." Well, I went home and looked in the mirror a long time. It sort of did look like a bruise. But, undaunted, I vowed to continue. Everybody else was looking, or trying to look, peculiar, so I could look just a little peculiar too, away, and used in the future when wood and posts for signs are needed Mr. Taft also contends that columns on this page are misnamed. Bill Crowell of the Motor Vehicles

blue grease

it, huh?)

eyes last night?"

So on the next big occasion, out comes the eye shadow. I applied it "skillfully", according to di-rections in all beauty magazines.

I thought I got by in fine style

"Eye shadow." "You looked as though you had but the next day a gentleman said to me, "What did you have on your two holes in your head." That did it. The one hole in my head I conceal beneath my hair

But to have people NOTICE TWO holes, that was too much.

me, so I'm just going to keep orbit-ing in my own little realm, in clothes that fit, in hair that's mine

and eyes that gaze through glasses unhampered by false lashes and

The world of fashion won't miss

Department should be induced, says, to give up the title of his column and let me have it, "Free Wheeling with Ruth Peeling sounds so phonetic," Mr. Taft declares. vonder how long it took him to think of that.

censorship board said at Hoddes-don, England recently that American movies were sexier than French films.

"Sex causes us more trouble in mer School.

Well, if the British would just do away with censorship of films as the United States has done, the cen-sorship board wouldn't be bothered. The whole population of Eng-land would be bothered, instead.

At least two of the new model cars bought by county residents have already been dented or bump-ed in some way. As Dr. Larry Moore once said, "No use trying to keen a new car new Best thing

The secretary of Britain's film 1

American films than in films made in France," censor John Trevelyan told the British Film Institute Sum-the Frenchmen topped anything ever seen before, according to Cavendish.

When they left England, the French delegates staggered aboard their ships weighted down with costly gifts, even the youngest page boy getting his

The "perpetual peace" celebrated by all this magnificence was far from perpetual. In a relatively short time, cent new fittings of silks and satins for France and England were at war again.

Carteret County News-Times WINNER OF NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION AND NORTH CAROLINA PRESS ASSOCIATION AWARDS A Merger of The Beaufort News (Est. 1912) and The Twin City Times (Est. 1936) Published Tuesdays and Fridays by the Carteret Publishi 504 Arendell St., Morehead City, N. C. hing Company, Inc. LOCKWOOD PHILLIPS - PUBLISHER BLEANORE DEAR PHILLIPS - ASSOCIATE FUBLISHER RUTH L. PEELING - EDITOR Mail Rates: In Carteret County and adjoining counties, $6.00 one year, $3.50 six months, $1.25 one month; elsewhere $7.00 one year, $4.00 six months, $1.50 one month. Member of Associated Press - N. C. Press Association National Editorial Association - Audit Buresu of Circulate National Advertising Representative Moran & Fischer, Inc. 10 East 40th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of local news printed in this newspaper, as well as all AP news dispatches

Entered as Second Class Matter at Morehead City, N. C., Under Act of March 2, 1878

before my mind ..." A listener broke in, "Say, tell me, did you happen to see my lending you that fifty bucks back in 19632" pictures of my past life rushedbefore my mind..."ment, but the man with the darkglasses quickly recovered it."I thought you were blind," saidthe astonished man."No, I'm not the regular blindman, sir," replied the man withthe cup. "T'm just taking his placewhile he's at the movies." in 19537

THIRTY YEARS AGO The Beaufort PTA held its first meeting of the year. Mrs. F. S. Hildebrand was president, and Mrs. Vera H. Stubbs was secretary.

Beaufort School football team won its first game of the season defeating Washington High 8 to 2.

Superior court Judge R. A. Nunn announced that children outside the Beaufort school district should be dismissed at the end of the eight dismissed at the end of the eight months' term unless payment for them was made to the County Board of Education.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Sen. Bob Reynolds would speak in Beaufort this week.

Miss Margaret Dill of Beaufort and Mr. Robert Lucas of Greens-boro were married Saturday, Oct.

Newport School held a Hallowsen missed and rolled along the pave-ment, but the man with the dark to do is go beat it up all over with a hammer and you'll be all right."

From the Bookshelf

The Dharma Bums. By Jack Kerouac. Viking, $3.95.

Ray Smith is riding a freight out of Los Angeles when we first meet him, the narrator and spokesman for Kerouac, in this new novel by the leading representative of our fictional young Beat Genera-

He is in the company of a "Dhar-He is in the company of a "Dhar-ma bum," a religious wanderer, a man seeking truth; he is one himself; and he will spend most of his time in this story, as he tells it, with the original D. B., Japhy Ryder.

a new and better life. The boys go elimb a mountain, undergo the trials of the wilderness, look down on a promised land, and come out of it grandly self-sufficient, in love with the unsullied air of snow-covered peaks, and scornful of cities, determined to be better men and sit on a rock and meditate themselves into a state of good-ness and grace. Japhy is often seen in the full Japhy is often seen in the full lotis position, that is, crossed legs with ankles on thighs, and telling his juju beads; and there is a whole Oriental ethical vocabulary to which these busy-body truth-seekers constantly revert: Sama-patti, bhikku, Buddham, Saranam, Gocchami, Kwannon, Kasyapa, Ta-thagata, Maitreya, Bodhisativa Ma-hasattva, mandala, sutra, Dipan-kara-indeed when Ray mentions Sinatra, or cheddar, you're caught unwares and think for a moment it's still the higher life instead of a croomer and a cheese. ness and grace. This is more "On the Road," the novel which first called Kerouac to our attention; Ray bums rides on freights, or hitch-hikes, or rides by bus up and down the Pacific by bus up and down the Pacific coast, comes east, goes west again, never stays still. It is pretentious in spots, and silly and inane. But a lively imag-ination, if not a profound one, is at play here, and there is sense behind the excess of posturing. -W. G. Rogers cify the moral character of the o portunities offered. A little less grandiose though extreme for the

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH

The United States Postoffice Department has made an unusual de-parture from its normal procedures.

There is a lot of drinking of Cali-Postmaster General Arthur E. fornia wines, and every now and then the boys turn earthy and com-mon on us, dance in the nude, and Summerfield announced that col-lectors may send for first day cov-ers now for the 7 cent Air Mail Alaska Statehood stamp even indulge in "yabyum," which means in Kerouachese a good time with though a date of issuance has not been decided! But this is in the main a search.

in which prayer takes a part, for a new and better life. The boys been decided! Collectors should send their re-quests with money orders to the Postmaster, Juneau, Alaska. The date of issuance of this stamp is dependent upon the actual admission of Alaska into statehood. This is expected to be sometime in December or January.

Iran has issued a new set picting the portrait of Shah Mo-hammed Riza Pahlevi. The values are 5 dinars, 2 rials, 3 rials and 100 rials. More stamps are expect-ed in this issue and probably will go as high as 200 rials.

Cuba will issue a new set of stamps to honor Felipe Poey, one of the famous naturalists of the 19th century. There will be an or-dinary postage stamp of 2 centavos and airmails of 4c, 8c, 12c, 14c, 18c, 24c, 29c, and 3%c. There also will be two special deliveries of 10c and 20c.

week.

Wiley Taylor Jr. of Beaufort kill-ed a buck with one shot from a German Luger, 9 millimeter pistol.

TEN YEARS AGO Twenty-five thousand dollars in tion. mullet was taken in beach hauls this week.

Mayor G. W. Dill of Morehead Cily was elected to the executive board of the North Carolina League of Municipalities which met recent-ly in Charlotte.

carnival at the school last night.

Mrs. Robert Safrit Jr. of Beaufort was elected PTA vice-director of district 10 held in Beaufort this

FIVE YEARS AGO The B&PW Club would sponsor the 1954 March of Dimes, Mrs. C. G. Holland, chairman of the county Infantile Paralysis Chapter, an-