November will see the realization of a long cherished dream of many persons in Newport. Many of these persons had great faith in that dream, while some were almost like doubting Thomas.

When the doors of the beautiful new sanctuary of the St. James Methodist Church open for its first service many of those persons will realize that "All things are possible with Him," for whom it was built.

How Wise Housewives Fill Market Basket on Budget

One of the most delightful of hours is the late afternoon tea time and one of the things that can make it special is the fruit tart. The apple tart fills this tasty role to a T.

By MISS LOUISE

Shoppers who have started their grocery marketing recently at the leading A&P and Colonial food stores wonder how they can get such values! The answer lies in the store's volume, experience in merchandising and advertising products in a way that makes it convenient for the housewife to sit down with the newspaper and make out her shopping list.

Every good housewife knows that planning makes her dollars go farther. That's why she enjoys shopping at Colonial and A&P, the stores which make it easy for her to do that planning.

Here's what $5 will buy at A&P this weekend: four grapefruit, four frozen pot pies (turkey, beef or chicken), head of cauliflower, two 10-ounce packages frozen green beans, 1-pound roll of pork sausage, pound of A&P coffee; two 12-ounce cans Mexican; two 17-ounce cans Green Giant large green peas, eight 16-ounce cans pork and beans, 24-ounce bottle Kaffir syrup and a pound of Bartlett pears. Change? Yes, indeed, 2 cents.

The beef specials are worthy of note at Colonial this weekend. Your $5 there will buy a 4-pound rib roast, five 10-ounce packages of frozen strawberries (this is a good time to stock your freezer with strawberries), 5 pounds of sugar, 7 pounds of Winesap apples (in bulk) and for that Halloween snack, a half-gallon of cider.

Change? You bet. Two cents. You'll find it easy to make out the shopping list to fit your family and budget by referring to the food ads in today's paper.

Here's a variation on the good old apple pie theme—apple custard tart. It calls for canned apples, but since there are such fine fresh apples on the market now, they could be substituted if you pre-cook them to a "soft firmness" before putting in the tart shell.

Apple Custard Tart Tart Shell: Cream together 1/4 cup butter and a 3-ounce package of cream cheese. With a wooden spoon, blend in 1 cup sifted flour; don't overwork dough; it will be crumbly.

Pat evenly into 9-inch pie plate, covering pie-plate rim and crimping edge by pinching dough together at small intervals or scalloping with little finger of one hand and thumb and forefinger of other. (Dough will shrink during baking but come up just high enough for filling).

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 18 to 20 minutes. If crust edge gets too brown toward end of next baking, put a strip of foil around it.

Pie Filling Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, 2 whole eggs, salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (use half a lemon for rind), 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) sliced apples (well drained).

Method: Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolk, then whole eggs and a dash of salt, the lemon rind and nutmeg. (Don't worry if mixture looks curdly.)

Arrange drained apple slices in partly baked Tart Shell; spread creamed mixture over apples. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 5 minutes; reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake 20 to 25 minutes longer. Serve warm.

Kitchen Cue: Potatoes for french frying will cook in less time if covered with boiling water and dried quickly.

Man Evades Ticklish Situation in Eatery

Richmond, Va. (AP)—The Richmond News Leader reports this one:

A man was eating beans and hot dogs in a restaurant. His fork cut into a hot dog, but the end circled off his plate and into the open handbag of a woman at the next table too engrossed in conversation to notice.

What to do? Apparently the social arbiters had never anticipated this. After a bit of hesitation the man left without telling the woman.
