

Beaufort Seadogs to Invade Morehead For Annual Battle for Mullet Bucket

Beaufort Eleven Looking For First Win Since '51

The annual battle for the Mullet Bucket is scheduled for eight tonight with the Morehead City Eagles playing host to the Beaufort Seadogs. While the Eagles will be slight favorites, coaches Norman Clark and Hugh Gordon have warned the Morehead City players that Beaufort will be one of the toughest teams they have faced.

The Seadogs, riding a four-game win streak, are fired up for the contest. The Eagles, anxious to hang a defeat on their rivals, are also ready to go all-out on the field tonight.

The Seadogs will be trying for their first victory since 1951, when they clobbered the Eagles by scores of 21-0 and 6-0 in the two games they played that season.

Though the Eagles have dominated the series for the past six years, the Beaufort fans are certain that a victory over the Eagles is possible within a year or so—quite possibly this year.

The Seadogs and Eagles have identical 5-2 won-lost records. The Eagles have lost to New Bern and Wallace while the Seadogs were losing to LaGrange and Havelock.

Havelock is the only common foe the teams have met. The Seadogs lost a 13-7 decision to the Rams but the Eagles rolled to a 27-0 victory over the same team.

The Beaufort line, if weight means anything, is in for a rough night. The Eagle forward wall averages 190 pounds per man from end to end. The Seadog line averages out at 157 pounds per man.

In the middle of the line is where the Eagles have the biggest advantage. In center Bob Willis, 230, and Guards Mokey Lasitter, 205, and Leslie Nelson, 200, the Eagles have an average of 212 pounds.

The Seadogs will counter with center Lonnie Dill, 135, and guards Joe Powell, 140, and Gray Simpson, 150. Their average weight is 142, 70 pounds per man less than the men they will face.

The tackles and ends are more evenly matched. Eagle tackles are Lynwood Durham, 200, and Jerry Garner, 165; the ends are John Baker, 165, and Jim Lawrence, 160.

Seadog tackles are John Smith, 160, and David Willis, 171; the ends are Gordon Becton, 180, and Calvin Jones, 170.

Starting backs for the Seadogs average 155 pounds. They are quarterback Butch Hassell, 155, halfbacks Eddie Taylor, 140, and Guion Dudley, 165, and fullback Ernest House, 160.

The starting backfield for the Eagles will average 168 pounds per man. Starters will be quarterback Jackie McQueen, 155, halfbacks James Guthrie, 175, and Ted Garner, 155, and fullback Freddie Oglesby, 185.

Beaufort coach V. M. Morrison declares that his players are undaunted by their lack of weight. The team that wants to win the most and hits the hardest will win—that is the belief Coach Morrison has instilled in his players.

After scouting the Seadogs in their victory over Ayden last week, Coach Clark declares that the Beaufort line is an aggressive unit that is in the game every minute. "They never let up," he said, "they are dangerous and we know it."

Fans attending the game can expect a wide-open affair with both teams chunking the pigskin with abandon. Last week, for instance, the Seadogs covered 99 yards on two consecutive pass plays.

Hassell will do most of the passing for the Seadogs while McQueen and Guthrie will probably share passing chores for the Eagles.

The only regular on either team who will miss the game is Beaufort halfback Pud Hassell, who has a cast on his right ankle. Dudley, who has moved into Hassell's starting berth, was a star in the Beaufort victory over Ayden last week.

This will be the last game of the year for the Eagles. The Seadogs will play host to Swansboro next week in their final game.

Seadogs Tied For Third Place In Conference

The Beaufort Seadogs moved into a tie for third place in the Coastal Football Conference Friday night when they defeated Ayden, according to standings released by conference secretary Jasper Lewis.

Mr. Lewis released the standings, results of games played last week and tonight's schedule.

Last week's results follow: LaGrange 20, Farmville 0; Havelock 12, Robersonville 7; Contentnea 39, Vanceboro 6; and Beaufort 27, Ayden 0.

The following conference teams will see action tonight: Havelock will be at Farmville for a conference game, Ayden will play host to Tarboro for a non-conference tilt and Beaufort will be at Morehead City for a non-conference game. LaGrange played at Robersonville last night.

Dunn, Tyler to Square Off Tomorrow for 18-Hole Round

By BEN HOGAN

The southpaw terror, L. G. "Juice" Dunn, is touted to trounce Horace (Arnold Palmer) Tyler tomorrow afternoon over the Morehead City Golf and Country Club's tough 18-hole course.

Up from the bottom depths of the duffer class in less than four years Dunn stroked himself into the championship flight in qualifying rounds five weeks ago.

Only ten of Morehead City Golf Club players made the championship flight entitling them to play for the high honor of club champion.

Warren Beck, defending club champion and a superlative golfer, was, of course, one of those who qualified for the flight.

And, to the surprise of everyone Beck was one of the two top golfers to wither under the relentless fire of Dunn's flashing clubs, the other, the Baron of Beaufort, W. H. (Piggy) Potter.

Tyler, to gain his right to play Dunn, met and defeated the relatively easy touches, Jerry Whitfield and Wayne Thompson.

Dunn, obviously, has come up the hard way, Tyler, just as obviously, the easy.

Marion Mills smugly sits on the sidelines awaiting the outcome of the Dunn-Tyler match, Mills having established his finalist role by defeats over Dick McClain, Si Adams and Jim Connor.

Mills will play the winner of the Dunn-Tyler match to determine on whose shoulders will be draped the club champion mantle.

Of the two flights, under championship, Walter Morris won the first flight by defeating Dave Munden in the finalist round after a battle that extended over 21 holes.

In the finalist match of the second flight, Robert Seamon was the winner over Walter Morris Jr.

In the famous "Big Storm of 1913" on the Great Lakes, waves were 35 feet high.

15 Women Participate In Ladies Day Activities

Fifteen women participated in ladies day activities at the Morehead City Golf and Country Club Tuesday morning. Nine women participated in a nine-hole tournament.

Mrs. Wayne Thompson and Mrs. D. J. Eure tied for low gross in A flight with scores of 50. Mrs. Eure had the fewest putts with 15. Mrs. James Connor won B flight with a low gross of 51. Mrs. R. M. McClain had the fewest putts, 16.

Six Eagles Will Play Last High School Game Tonight

Six Morehead City Eagles will suit up for their last high school game tonight when the Eagles play host to the Beaufort Seadogs. Halfback James Guthrie, fullback Freddie Oglesby, tackles Lynwood Durham and Jerry Garner, defensive specialist Danny Grayshock and reserve guard Dennis Munden will be in uniform for the last time.

Guthrie, a strong candidate for All State honors this year, has been the sparkplug of the Eagle attack. In his three years on the varsity, Guthrie has scored an amazing total of 274 points.

Guthrie's father, Edward Earl Guthrie, reported this week that his son has received a letter from Duke inviting him to discuss an athletic scholarship after the season. Several other schools, he said, have expressed an interest in him.

Oglesby, voted the most improved player on the team last year, has developed into a hard-running fullback who has been a real asset to the team. Oglesby began his career as a tackle but shifted to the backfield last year.

Not only on offense, but on defense as well, Oglesby has been a stand-out in his three years on the varsity. He has been the big man when the Eagles needed that short yardage for a first down when the going was roughest.

Durham has earned the respect of coaches and players alike for his all-out play in the line. The big tackle has been the mainstay of the Eagle line this year and was an important cog in the Eagles championship line last season.

Switched to center linebacker this year during the second game of the season, Durham has accounted for countless single tackles and assists. He is in on over half of the tackles made while the Eagles are on defense.

Garner, the other starting tackle, has played football for only one year. He came out for the first time this fall with little knowledge of the game and no experience.

He was expected to be a weak link in the forward wall but after the first game of the season he proved that he was one of the best defensive players on the team. His offensive play has improved and he will be a hard man to replace.

Danny Grayshock, who reported late this year, has been on the team for three years. Due to his aggressive play, the coach uses him almost entirely on defense.

Grayshock is willing to plow through blockers to get to the ball carrier and that is what it takes to make a good defensive player. He was once described as the "toughest man, pound for pound," that a coach could ask for.

year of football, has been a dependable reserve, always ready to get into the middle of the scrap. In junior varsity action, Munden has been an outstanding player in the line.

While the Eagles will miss these players next year, Coaches Norman Clark and Hugh Gordon have a number of sophomores and juniors coming up who will step into starting positions with ease. According to the graduating players, the Eagles will be better than ever next year.

Dom Will Fill Mullet Bucket

The Mullet Bucket will be filled with hamburgers for members of both teams after tonight's game between Morehead City and Beaufort. The bucket will be filled by Dom Femia at Dom's Lunch, 18th Street, Morehead City.

At one time Dom filled the bucket for members of the winning team but in recent years he has filled the bucket to overflowing and invited both teams to come for free hamburgers and soft drinks.

The Mullet Bucket, originated by the Morehead City and Beaufort Jaycees in 1950, has become an institution. It has the distinction of being the only trophy at either school that is too big for the trophy case.

Between games the bucket is stored at THE NEWS-TIMES office for safe keeping.
