FabFish Banquet Scheduled For Tomorrow at Biltmore

The officers and weighmasters of the Fabulous Fishermen met Friday afternoon to determine the season's trophy winners. The trophies are being engraved for the presentation tomorrow. Fabulous Fishermen and their wives will gather at the Morehead Biltmore at 6:30 p.m. for a turkey dinner.

Following are the trophy winners and the pier or boat from which each catch was made: blue marlin, C. L. Safrit, Salisbury, Dolphin; sailfish, G. I. G. Palmgren, Rocky Mount, Mary Z. Amberjack, S. R. Peebles, Winston-Salem, Harriet L II; wahoo, W. N. Gay, Akron, Ohio, Dolphin; tarpon, Chester Johnson, Morehead City, Sportsman Pier.

Bluefish, Tony Cavelle, Charleston, W. Va., Bunny Too; false albacore, tied, Mrs. Margaret Wiebe, Brooklyn, N. Y., Gulf Breeze, and Reid B. Smith, Winston-Salem, Dolphin; dolphin, G. T. Tyndall, Stonewall, Bunny Too.

Tuna, Dr. John Glasson, Durham, Bunny Too; sheepshead, tied, Henry A. Walker, Kinston, Mom and Pop's and Ashley V. Lilly, Cherry Point, Thompson's Pier.

Flounder, Ray Monteith, New Bern, Thompson's; channel bass, Dan Ward, Goldsboro, Thompson's speckled trout, Rev. W. E. Thompson, Tarboro, Thompson's.

Pompano, R. E. Massengill, Clayton, Thompson's; sea mullet, tied, T. C. Ewell, Portsmouth, Va., B. J. White's and Mrs. Nellie Sneathly, Haw River, Thompson's.

Fishing will have its definite ups and downs for the remainder of the fall, but there will be many days of excellent fishing such as Friday, when drift fishermen from B. J. White's reported a total of 199 flounder.

On Saturday, in spite of a day that ended in a dismal rain, king mackerel fishermen had all they wanted of 16- to 20-pound kings.

A summary of the year's events: bookings last spring were far ahead of previous years, but the weather didn't cooperate. Fishing didn't really get underway until June because of extremely cold water.

Red snappers this year were virtually destroyed. Sea bass and porgies from the headboats were uncommonly good all season. Cobia fishing was terrific for a long period (a couple of 40-pounders were picked up offshore only last week).

In June the headlines read "New Marlin Grounds?" Later there was no question mark, for Morehead City blue marlin became the talk of the east coast. In our first season of marlin fishing, 28 were caught in less than 6 weeks.

Ocean pier fishermen caught onto a new gimmick this year: float fishing with live bluefish for king mackerel. By mid-August over 120 had been caught from the four piers; when the fall kings moved in the score zoomed up.

This reminds us of the first tarpon, caught in early July, an 87-pounder measuring nearly 6 feet. Schools of hundreds have been sighted; many were hooked.

Sailfishing was better than average. This was partly due to the heightened interest in billfishing caused by the discovery of rich marlin grounds.

Drift fishing for flounder was excellent. Inshore fishing for blues and Spanish was erratic through most of the season, although some terrific catches were made.

Restaurants have had the best season ever, and there have been
