Legal Notice on Bond Issue Appears Today

Appearing in the legal section of today's paper is the notice of the intention of the county to borrow $2,500,000 to construct schools. It refers to a "six-month" school term because that is the way the state constitution is drawn. Bond attorneys say that is the way the notice must be worded.

Waterways Work Approved

Commissioner Harrell Taylor announced yesterday afternoon at the county board meeting that a meeting will be held Friday at the Sea Level Inn to collect information on waterways projects in this area.

He said that the Corps of Army engineers will conduct a hearing in December on the Pamlico Sound to Beaufort harbor area and all side channels. The county board endorsed improvements to the waterway on both old and new projects.

At the request of Marvin Willis, Smyrna, the board agreed to sell 15 acres of property in Straits township for which the county has held a deed since 1844. The property will be advertised and sold to the highest bidder.

Formerly in the name of Paul Jones, Beaufort, the land has taxes for 1940 and 1941 owing on it, amounting to $13.98.

The board approved applications for beer licenses by C. R. Dixon, Aubrey Mason and Leamon Junior Corbett. Rejected was the application of Lila Mary Bennett.

Commissioner Skinner Chalk pointed out that the board has no choice but to approve application for beer licenses if the reputation and character of the applicant is considered good.

Approved were expenses of $39.42 for the past month for the Civil Defense director, John Valentine. Mr. Valentine also requests $80 a month for operation of the CD office, funds for a car and for a communications set-up.

The clerk, Odell Merrill, was requested to write Mr. Valentine and explain that major expenditures cannot be made for Civil Defense since no provision was made for them in the current budget.
