

Theatre Manager Says Fans Influence Movies

By O. J. MORROW

Quite frequently I am asked if we can get certain pictures back to play at the Morehead and City Theatres. The answer is yes. We can get pictures back if they are still in release—that is if the film company located in Charlotte has that print on hand.

We have brought numerous pictures back to play a second time, and people who did not get a chance to see them the first time have had an opportunity to see them, and those who did get a chance to see them the first time have seen them again.

Maybe you have a favorite picture that you would like to see again. If so, why not drop a card in the mail, addressed to the theatre, and we'll see if we can get it back.

The policy of any theatre in any community is to play pictures that the public wants to see just as any other merchant has in his store what people want to buy.

This is the only gauge that the merchant has in buying what the people want. If an item sells, then the merchant buys in larger quantities. The same holds true in any business, including the theatre.

Attendance at the boxoffice determines the type of picture the public will see. If the trend of the public is toward the western type of movie, then we will play westerns. If it is toward musicals, then we try to play musicals. We always have tried and will continue to try to play whatever the public wants to see.

I have been asked by several people to try to get the picture From Here to Eternity back for a second time. I'm happy to announce that we have been able to obtain this picture, and it is booked for early in December.

Keeping our promise to present the biggest and the very best for your entertainment, the Morehead Theatre proudly presents The Big Country starring Gregory Peck, Jean Simmons, Charlton Heston, Burl Ives, Charles Bickford and a host of other stars. The Big Country will start Sunday and play for seven days. The Big Country is a big picture.

It has something for everybody. Gregory Peck, a retired sea captain arrives in a western territory to claim his bride-to-be, Carroll Baker, daughter of a rich cattle baron. Peck finds things in the west quite different than the things on the sea, and what he is used to, and finds that he has to fight for the things he believes in. You'll find good entertainment in this picture about the giants who bridled the untamed West. This is not just another western.

Opening Sunday and playing through Tuesday at the City Theatre is Party Girl, another big picture with big entertainment value, starring Robert Taylor and Cyd Charisse with other roles played by Lee J. Cobb and John Ireland.

Laid in the Chicago underworld of the thirties, the film tells the story of the love affair between an ailing showgirl and a lawyer who attempts to make a break from the racketeers he has been defending.

Although Cyd Charisse plays her first big dramatic role in Party Girl, the story gives her an opportunity for two dance numbers.

Playing mid-week for three days Wednesday, Thursday, Friday at the City Theatre is Queen of Outer Space, starring Zsa Zsa Gabor. Gorgeous girls abound and excitement runs high on the planet Venus. This bit of celluloidal probing into life on another planet a good number of years hence will bring rich entertainment to those who see it.

Ending up the week at the City Saturday only is a big Double Feature—Last Of The Badmen starring George Montgomery and also on the same bill, the story that will shake every home in town, Young and Dangerous.

There is some good entertainment in store for everyone this week... So Why not Get More Out of Life... Go see a good movie.

Solution to Tuesday's Puzzle

The Pirate Junior Class Will Give Play at Atlantic Tonight

By EVELYN HARRIS

Hi, I'm back after being absent last week. I have a lot to catch up with so stick close.

Our first basketball games at home ended with these scores: Smyrna girls 67 and Atlantic girls 53. We were disappointed with our girls but the boys came to the rescue with a score of 60 over the Smyrna boys to their 42 points. High scorer for the boys game was Roger Harris scoring 21 points. High scorer for the girls was Rita Gilgo with 32 points.

Tonight at 7 o'clock in the Atlantic high school auditorium the junior class will present their play, Where's Laurie? This play is produced by special arrangement with Row Peterson and a d Company, Evanston and New York.

The entire action of the play takes place in the recreation room of the Radcliffe Country Club, the scene of the fall prom. A comedy of 3 acts.

The cast of characters are Laurie Williams, a pretty charmer—Evelyn Harris; Jinx Taylor, energetic and clever editor of school paper—Brenda Salter; Katie Foster, naive, natural, and likable—Linda Taylor; Susan Snow, small and pretty, not very bright—Mary Sue Salter.

Grace Phillips, tall and pretty—Eleanor Sue Taylor; Mady Baker, the athletic, vigorous type, cheerleader—Faye Goodwin; Hope Graham, president of the senior class—Kara Mason; Mrs. Ruth Barnes, class sponsor—Brenda Lupton. Miss Sally McKenna, newspaper reporter—Susan Lewis; Carl Filipposke, huge, slow-moving, blank-faced—Aubrey Harvey; Eddie Fowler, affable, nice-looking, a trifle shy—David Hammer.

George Bates, tall, handsome, self-centered—Bruce Mason; Bud Taylor, chubby and open-faced—Van McIntosh; Sheriff Roy Logan—Roger Harris.

Nadine's Beauty Shop is offering a ten dollar door prize to the lucky lady of the house.

Won't you all come? It's really going to be good.

Last Thursday night, if you were anywhere in Atlantic you could have heard the cheerleaders. We had a very nice pep rally, our head cheerleader Mary Sue Salter was in charge of the rally. She did a very good job. Why don't all of you start coming to the basketball games and support our cheerleaders and ball club?

4-H Club Meetings
The Senior 4-H club met Nov. 13 in the school auditorium. The meeting was called to order by the president. We all stood and said our 4-H club pledge, and then the pledge to the American Flag. Our song was God Bless America which was sung by the group.

Devotional was a Short Story by Pat Fulcher. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary. Mrs. Garner and Mr. Venters talked on health and safety.

Scout Explorer Plan Emphasizes 'Specialties'

A new feature of the Exploring program launched by the Boy Scouts of America for all high school age boys whether or not they have been Boy Scouts, is the "post specialty."

This is a special interest area which the unit adopts on a long-term basis or a short-term span. It can change with the interest of the boys. Flexibility has been found to be extremely important in program planning for boys in this age group. A unit may follow more than one special interest at a time.

The range of interests are almost limitless. They include such subjects as science, dramatics, conservation, photography, ham radio, seamanship, aeronautics, automobile, business, emergency service, agriculture, animal care, publishing, and horsemanship.

Interest in a particular field makes possible the assistance of experts and the use of necessary equipment and facilities.

These specialties offer vocational exploration and information. Members of posts organized by industrial and other groups share the particular interests of the organizers.

There is one Explorer post with in the Carteret district at Newport and one being organized at Beaufort.

Eighteen Explorers at La Canada, Calif., sponsored by a Parent-Teachers Association, go in for scientific subjects in a bag way. Their advisor is a jet pilot and research scientist who conducts seminars on weather, radio, electricity, photography, chemistry, mechanics, and aviation.

The Explorers have made a miniature flying saucer operated by remote control and currently are making midget autos with lawn mower motors, constructing and flying model planes, conducting rocket fuel experiments, reconstructing autos, making an avion with a six-foot wing span, and a display of rocket history.

Their first project, still in operation, is a weather station and its weather records are faithfully reported in the community's weekly newspaper.

Specialties currently holding the attention of other Explorer units include emergency service, mechanics, rockets, animal husbandry, aviation, ham radio, trampolin, photography, Indian lore, retail merchandising, tailoring, skin diving, automobiles, hot rods, and science.
