County Teachers Attend Conference in New Bern

The vocational home economics teachers of Carteret County, Mrs. David Beveridge of Beaufort, Mrs. Margaret Gibson of Atlantic, and Mrs. D. Cordova of Morehead City, attended a conference of home economics teachers from five counties at New Bern High School Saturday.

A discussion on how Future Homemakers could obtain a state degree was led by Mrs. Mabel Hall of East Carolina College. Mrs. Nancy Paul of Aurora told about the techniques and materials used in adult education courses.

After lunch in the home economics rooms, Miss Mamie Miller of New Bern told the Christmas story illustrating each symbol of Christmas with something one could make, and explaining the meaning of each symbol.

Among the articles she exhibited were trees of various materials, wreaths, packages wrapped with last year's paper, cards and ribbon, handmade gifts, arrangements of dried and other materials, a table covered with a red cloth with Santa, his sleigh and reindeer as the motif for a family dinner with children.

Door hangings as welcome to visitors at the Christmas season were made of corn husks to symbolize that Christ was born in a manger. Last she showed the manger scene with the Holy family and others.

Vocational home economics teachers were present from Beaufort, Carteret, Hyde, Pamlico and Craven counties.

No wonder the swing is to FORD for '59!

Ford beauty pays you extra dividends in comfort

Plenty of leg room... There's plenty of stretch-out room, in both front and rear seats—even for long-legged six-footers.
New head room—over hat room... Ford is spacious. Unlike the major competitor you can wear your hat, front seat or back.
6 Passengers, not just 4, ride in comfort... Ford's seats are softer, thicker. And the man in the middle doesn't "bottom out" on bumpy roads as in many other cars.
