

Messiah to be Sung First Time in Beaufort Dec. 19

The performance of Handel's Messiah Dec. 19 will be the first time this oratorio has been presented in Beaufort.

Mrs. Charles Hassell, director, says, "Frankly, I have never been so excited over the prospects of any program. The choir has been enthusiastic from the first and has come from all over the county every week for rehearsals. I believe it will be the most outstanding musical event we have produced locally."

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Beaufort School auditorium. The sponsor is Ann Street Methodist Church. The Rev. John Cline will give the invocation and pronounce the benediction. Head ushers from the church will be Charles Noy and Odell Merrill.

The organ for the performance has been loaned by Bob Slater. Mrs. Hassell will play the organ accompaniment. Piano accompaniment will be Rachel Mundine, Newport, and Robert Morris, Atlantic and Chapel Hill.

The Messiah is the story of Christ's life set to music. George Frederick Handel wrote the vocal score and orchestral accompaniment for 40 or 50 singers. Today choirs of a thousand voices with orchestras of a hundred instruments perform the oratorio.

A late king of England, upon hearing the first performance of the Messiah rose to his feet after the first few bars of the Hallelujah chorus and remained standing throughout the entire number. This has now become a universal custom.

One critic has said, "Never has there been and I doubt if there ever will be a more perfect unity of text and music as is found in the great and glorious panorama of Handel's Messiah. The words sing and the music speaks in complete and simple beauty."

"All people feel the tenderness of the Good Shepherd; they thrill with joy at the tidings, 'Unto us a Child is born'; they suffer with the lament, 'Behold the Lamb of God'; and 'Surely, He has borne our griefs'; and they exult with 'Hallelujah, the Lord God omnipotent Reigneth, forever and ever.'"

Following the performance, the choir will be entertained at a coffee hour by the WSCS in the Eure building.

Smyrna PTA Meets Monday

Mrs. Elmer D. Willis, president, presided at the meeting of the Smyrna PTA Monday night. The Rev. James Womble, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Davis, read from the fourth chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke and talked on Maturity Through Character and Spiritual Education.

Mrs. Edward Moore, treasurer, reported a balance of $446.85 which does not include proceeds from the clambake. Annie Willis, chairman of the ways and means committee, said no definite figure was available as to the profit from the clambake but it was estimated at $400.

He thanked all the communities for their help and donations. Mrs. Elmer Willis, especially thanked the men from Otway who worked so diligently Friday night and Saturday.

Banners of attendance were won by Mrs. Alligood's second grade and Mrs. Jones' tenth grade.

The program was turned over to the Davis community. Mrs. Alligood read a poem that she had written, entitled "Poor Bill". The choir from the Free Will Baptist Church under the direction of the Rev. Henry Van Kluyve, pastor, presented three songs — Silent Night, If Your Heart Keeps Right, and How Great Thou Art. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Rosa Murphy and Miss Iris Davis.

The meeting adjourned to the luncheon where pie and coffee were served.

Mrs. Everette Golden, Publicity Chairman

Gloucester Club Elects Officers

The Gloucester Community Club re-elected its officers at the meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hubbard.

The club planned its carol sing for Christmas eve at 6:30 at the community park. All residents of neighboring communities are urged to come. Coffee and cookies will be served. The tree in the park will be lighted the week before and week after Christmas.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Hubbard served refreshments.

Bright Future

in Beaufort and would love to see development here and east of Beaufort. Any traffic generated has to flow over the A&EC," Mr. Darden remarked. He commented that Southern and the Beaufort and Morehead railroad, which operates between Morehead City and Beaufort, are working together.

Citing the $700,000 invested in improvements over the A&EC, the speaker said this has meant a 25 per cent increase in value of A&EC common stock. "Southern would not have spent that money," Mr. Darden continued, "if we did not have abiding faith in the future of this area."

Recent equalization of freight rates with Wilmington has meant sizable savings to the shipper of cement, coal, fish scrap, as well as many other items, Mr. Darden said.

"Maybe you folks are tired of being called 'quaint' and I admire you for trying to get somewhere," he added.

He remarked that the business of attracting industry is usually much better handled by a development corporation than a chamber of commerce. He suggested that a chamber of commerce covering the entire county may be a good thing.

Relative to rivalry, he cited Smithfield and Selma as an example of cooperating towns that once were bitter rivals. Together, they bought an abandoned cotton mill, and today a furniture manufacturer is in it, providing a substantial payroll for the area.

There are 7,000 community development corporations in the country, the speaker commented, and the hounds may outnumber the foxes, yet each community has something special to offer, he pointed out.

Mr. Darden reminded his listeners that "undercover work" is going on all the time — men seeking sites for their plants look a town over and no one knows who they are or where they come from. The town, he said, is constantly on display.

The speaker remarked that other representatives of Southern could not attend the meeting because they are at the hearing before the ICC at Washington relative to Southern's acquisition of the Marine railroad.

During the business session, Braxton Adair reported on his industry-seeking tour to Philadelphia with the governor's caravan. Norwood Young gave a report on his recent appearance before the State Highway Commission. The corporation requested the secretary to write a letter to the Taylor brothers thanking them for deciding to put a ferry between Ocracoke and Cedar Island.

W. H. Potter, president, read a letter to the group which he has written to the county commissioners declining his appointment to the Beaufort and Morehead Airport Authority. He said that he would not serve on the board until the county put up enough money to run the airport properly.

He also commented in the letter that he was appointed by the county to a commission to develop county resources and there has yet to be a meeting called by the chairman.

Relative to the community development corporation, Mr. Potter said it will have a major role to play in the future development of this area, including the interest in extending a major railway system into Beaufort.

The president expressed disgust with the number at the meeting. He said if other so-called members don't attend meetings, they will be requested to disassociate themselves.

Present, in addition to those mentioned, were Dr. David Farrior, secretary; Gene Smith, J. O. Barbour Jr., the Rev. John Cline, George Lewis, Ralph Thomas, H. D. Paul, Clarence Starnop.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 12 at the courthouse.

Schools

This would mean each student would have additional facilities to work with in the combined department. This is not only true in Home Economics, Business Education, Agriculture, Shop and Science, but is true in English, Social Studies, Mathematics and the Languages. Not only will better equipment and teaching aids be available, but good teachers will become better teachers, because they can give their time to teaching in their own field of training and not have to fill in with the work of another subject.

The class load can be more evenly distributed. The library will be larger and hold more reference material to enrich the regular assignment of subject matter for those pupils who will avail themselves of the opportunity.

There will be a saving on the use of kitchen equipment in our lunchrooms and boiler equipment in our heating plants. All this means not only better opportunities for our boys and girls in the learning process, but it means saving of the taxpayer's dollar in avoiding duplication of needed school facilities.

It is to be regretted that the distance from Atlantic prohibits their joining in with the consolidation, that those high school pupils might also have the richer opportunities.

The taxpayer is interested in the tax rate of the county should the bond issue be voted on favorably.

Mr. W. E. Easterling, secretary of the Local Government Commission, has furnished a schedule on a 2 1/2 million-dollar bond issue and stated that 10 cents added to the present 65 cents now used for debt service would probably, under normal conditions, meet the need but to be sure he would recommend 15 cents, thus making a total of 80 cents for debt service. Since the present tax rate for the county is $1.35 the new rate would be $1.50, unless the county commissioners found it necessary to raise the rate for operational expense.

Theatre Hears Financial Report on Play, Papa is All

Proceeds from the Carteret Community Theatre play, Papa is All, totaled $81, according to the report by the treasurer, Mrs. Larry Barrette, at the theatre meeting Wednesday night at the recreation building. After royalty and other expenses were paid, profit was $21.

Miss Patsy Holt was appointed refreshment chairman for the remainder of the year and the secretary, Miss Gunhilde Gunnerson, was requested to write a letter of appreciation to the Morehead City recreation commission for its cooperation with the theatre during the past year.

A pre-production committee to study the historical pageant, Bonnie Blue Sweetheart, was appointed.
