FTA Meets, History Classes Visit Grave of Otway Burns

By ANN SANDERSON

The FTA had a business meeting after school last Friday. The president, Virginia Thompson, called the meeting to order and Sue Bordeaux gave the secretary's report.

The business session was then opened with a discussion of club membership and dues. Two new members were enlisted and the club decided to have 45 cents dues each semester.

The members discussed helping a needy family as their Christmas project, and decided to assign a committee to carry out the plans.

Mrs. Phillips explained to the club the requirements for their FTA pins. Each member must give an oral and written report on some phase of education.

After deciding to meet at least every three weeks, the meeting was adjourned.

Mrs. Z. Phillips' US history classes have been visiting the grave of Otway Burns.

The study of his life was reviewed in connection with the War of 1812. Before visiting the grave, each student handed in a report on his life.

The Library Club had its meeting last Tuesday. The president, Clarence Styron, called the meeting to order and Mike Lewis gave the devotions.

The president made a rule that members who do not come to two consecutive meetings and do not have an excuse will be automatically expelled from the club.

A constitutional committee was assigned, consisting of Mike Lewis, Ashley Jarman, and Portia Salter, to discuss with Miss Boomer whether to have the new or keep the old constitution. This would then be voted on at the next meeting.

The social committee reported that the annual Christmas party would be Dec. 15. The meeting was then closed.

Judy Cooper is a quiet senior girl with loads of friends. She has brown hair, big blue eyes and is about 5 foot 3.

Judy has been a majorette for two years and has been a good one.

Her high school routine has included the FBLA, Tri-Hi-Y, and the annual staff.

Her choices are song, Hideaway; singer, Johnny Mathis; food, hot dogs; and her steady, Guy.

Her pet peeve is bad drivers. True to the saying "still waters run deep", she has no favorite saying, she just says what's appropriate.

She is a loyal member of the First Methodist Church and says she "loves" to sing.

Judy would like to go to St. Mary's and her ambition is to be an artist.

These are the reasons we have chosen Judy Cooper as Miss Senior of the Week.

Slides of Renaissance Art Seen by Literary, Art Group

The Literary and Art Department of the Woman's Club met for their Christmas meeting Wednesday afternoon at the civic center. Mrs. Milton Roush, chairman, presided and welcomed Miss Eve Wynne, a new member.

Mrs. Gus Davis, program chairman, introduced Mrs. A. B. Roberts and Mrs. Josiah Bailey, who presented the program, the Christmas story as depicted in Renaissance art.

Mrs. Roberts narrated color slides from the National Art Gallery in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Bailey sang carols pertaining to some of the slides. She was accompanied by Mrs. Louis Norris.

Among the slides were The Annunciation by Giovanni di Paolo, Visitation with two Saints by Piero di Cosimo, The Nativity by Petrus Christus, Annunciation to Shepherds by Jacopo Bassano, Flight into Egypt by Bellini.

Mrs. Bailey sang What Child is This, Ave Maria, Angels We Have Heard of High, O Holy Night, Hark, the Herald Angels Sing, Away in a Manger and We Three Kings.

The program was closed with the slide Rest on Flight to Egypt while Mrs. Bailey sang Joy to the World. The group joined in singing Silent Night.

Refreshments of open faced sandwiches, nuts, petit fours and coffee were served by Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. W. L. Brady, Mrs. Jack Burruss, Mrs. G. D. Gamble and Mrs. Vernon Paul.

Lanier Book Club Hears Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Webb

The Lanier Book Club met at the civic center Tuesday evening with Miss Amie Klein as hostess. Mrs. J. F. Herbert, president, presided.
