

Children Visit Air Base

Children from the Odd Fellows Home, Goldsboro, who are entertained in Carteret homes over the Christmas holidays, visited Cherry Point Marine Air base last Christmas season. This picture was taken there then. The children will again be entertained by the Marines at Cherry Point this year, on Dec. 23, next Tuesday.

The traditional "Star of Bethlehem" program—the version which depicts the shepherds and other distinguished people acclaimed from 1949-55—will be presented at the Morehead Planetarium, Chapel Hill, this year, it was announced today by Manager A. F. Jenzano. The tribute to Christmas opened Tuesday, Nov. 25, and will continue through Jan. 5.

"We will return to our original version this year," Jenzano said, "in keeping with our objective to present during 1958-59 the Morehead Planetarium's popular programs during our Tenth Anniversary Year."

The traditional program's first part is devoted to the appearance of the heavens almost 2,000 years ago, of "the Star", and to astronomical events known to have occurred in the years about the time of the birth of Jesus.

Only in the Planetarium is it possible to turn back time 20 centuries and present heavenly phenomena which, if seen by the Wise Men, would have seemed a very potent sign of some great event.

Performances will be given nightly at 8:30 and at matinees on Saturdays at 11 a.m., 3 and 4 p.m., and on Sundays at 2, 3 and 4 p.m. There will be 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. performances daily for school children to which the public will be admitted after all children with reservations have been seated.

Tickets or reservations may be obtained in advance by either mail or telephone, and special shows will be presented for the convenience of large religious, civic or industrial groups any day on request.

Admission to the Morehead Planetarium at all times is 35 cents for children in grades through six, 50 cents for grades 7 through college and military personnel, and 75 cents for adults. Clergymen are admitted free at all times, and one chaperone is admitted free with each 10 children or students in attendance.

Make it a White Christmas—

GIVE BETTER. Electrically!

There's a happy homemaker with holiday in her heart and the modern magic of a new electric servant in her home. You can do the same for the lady in your life with the snowy whiteness of an electric dishwasher, dryer, water heater, or the gleaming modernity of an electric range. You'll brighten and lighten her work-a-day world for years to come. This year, make her Christmas the brightest, whitest ever. Give her a major electric appliance.
