

Queen Street Pupils Like Newly-Painted Classrooms

Repairs being made at Queen Street High School were completed during the past week. In the elementary building, classrooms were painted in yellow and rose pink. The principal's office was also repaired and painted a sun yellow with white ceiling.

To correspond with the new seats that were placed in the auditorium this school term, the auditorium was painted a light green with matching ceiling and floor.

The students and entire faculty are grateful for the repairs and additions that have been made to our school.

Class News

Pupils in Grades 1B and 2A are decorating their classroom for the holiday season. On our bulletin board, we have the manger scene. The background for this scene is blue and white. As you enter our room, you will find poinsettias and holly leaves painted on our door. Our windows represent fallen snow and sprigs of holly. Merry Christmas greetings are on display on our reading table. These cards were made by members of the class and will be exchanged along with gifts from each pupil.

We are now making plans for our Christmas tree. Sandra Nolen, Gloria Godette, Ketina Pasteur, Dannie Oden, Gary Smith and Robert Shepherd will help with the decoration.

Everyone in grades 2B, 3A are full of holiday spirit. We have tried to decorate our room to create a holiday atmosphere.

We have window and door decorations made from aluminum foil and small red bells. We also have snow sprayed on them.

On the front board border we have the story in pictures of "Night Before Christmas" and a Santa wishing a Merry Christmas. On the side border we have a winter scene of Our Community, since we are studying Community Helpers. The buildings are cut from styrofoam and painted.

On two small bulletin boards we have a Christmas poster which is a picture of Santa opening his mail. There is a short story under it. The Christmas cards the class made are displayed also. There is no Christmas unless you have a tree, so we have a small decorated tree.

We will have our Christmas party and exchange gifts Friday, Dec. 19.

We wish you the best for a Happy Holiday.

—Mrs. Vivian S. Collins and Students of Grades 2B, 3A

The classes 2C, 3B presented their second chapel program Tuesday.

The title of the Christmas play was the Friendly Beast, a Christmas play based on the legend that animals have the power to speak and kneel to pray on Christmas morning.

The pupils cut pictures of animals and painted. We all worked together in decorating our classroom. There were paintings and drawings of Christmas greetings, candles, decorations for windows, door, and the Christmas tree.

We also had pictures of the manger scene and the "Night Before Christmas".

The children enjoyed writing letters to Santa.

—Mrs. V. E. Stanley, Grades 2C-3B

In decorating our classroom this year we tried to carry out the real meaning of Christmas. We thought this might help make it a little more meaningful.

On the tops of our chalkboards

We have the Bethlehem scene, and on one we have cherubs singing and playing Christmas carols. On our large bulletin board we have the story of Christmas in pictures. The background of this board is covered with green paper, and has a white edging around it. The pictures are mounted on red construction paper.

Our door is decorated with pictures of holly and snow. These along with "Seasons Greetings" are painted on the panes of glass. A wreath made from a pine limb, pine cones and a piece of red ribbon is used on the door, also.

The bells on our windows were made from styrofoam that we covered with different colors of glitter and strung with red ribbon and a big red bow. These with a background of snow make our windows very pretty.

Our Christmas tree is very small. We hope to get a larger one. It is mounted on a table along with cardboard models of the manger scene, and a visit from St. Nick.

We've made Christmas cards for our friends and families, too. We would like to take this opportunity to wish all of our families, friends, classmates, school mates, and everyone, a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

—Mrs. M. H. Godette, Grades 3C-4A

We are happy to know that soon we will have a short vacation from school to celebrate the birth of our Savior "who was born on Christmas Day. We have read the story the birth of Jesus" and in our classrooms our bulletin board has a lovely scene of the nativity, where we see Mary the mother of Jesus holding the Christ child with the kings and wise men offering their gifts to him.

The bells on our windows represent the joy that was felt by all people after the Christ Child's birth was told.

Now—a Musical Version Of Captain Applejack

New York (AP)—A musical version is being prepared of "Captain Applejack," which Broadway saw in farce form in 1917.

The original Walter Hackett lampoon of cops-and-robbers drama has been changed into a song and dance show by Jonathan Edwards, with lyrics by Bert Pollock and music by Shura Devorine.
