

45 of 61 Cases Heard in County Court Involve Traffic Violations

Traffic violators again made up the major portion of business Tuesday in county court. Forty-five of the 61 cases heard were traffic offenses.

Nils Sandmark was convicted of careless and reckless driving and fined $50 and court costs. The defendant appealed and his case was transferred to the next term of superior court.

Bond for Sandmark was set at $100. Sandmark was also convicted of passing at an intersection. On this count he paid costs.

Six defendants charged with speeding were taxed with court costs and eight others paid $10 and costs. Paying court costs were Stephen Arthur Cornelison, Willard Maley Guthrie, Edward Lee Lewis, William Howard Willis, Barnett Oliver Adler and Adrian Scott Warren.

The eight paying $10 and costs were Donald Carson Bortz, Raymond William Brazie, Glenn Alan Sullivan, John Cerna, William A. Ohn, Lawrence McDonald Fountain, David Liddon Beveridge, and Robert Marion Williams.

John Jones, Negro worker in the Stella section, charged with breaking, entering and larceny, waived preliminary hearing. His case was bound over to the next term of Superior court. Jones was placed under $500 bond.

Other defendants, charges and the findings of the court were as follows:

Claud Gillikin—Violation sanitation laws, 60 days in jail suspended on the condition that the defendant comply with all sanitation laws within 30 days and pay court costs. Gillikin also paid costs for having an improper operator's license.

William Otis Willis—Improper brakes, one-half costs. Thebert George Gillikin—Driving drunk, amended to careless and reckless driving, $100 and costs.

L. V. Jones—Issuing a worthless check, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of costs and the check. Leo Lawrence—Having a still set up with raw material at the still, $300 and costs.

Sonny Sykes—Abandonment and non-support, not prosecuted. Kermit Maxwell Lawrence—Speeding, racing, careless and reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the road and failing to stop for a stop sign. Six months in jail suspended on condition that defendant remain on good behavior for three years and pay $100 and court costs.

Shelby Fulcher—Violation fishing laws, bond forfeited. Gilles Jack Valhies—Increasing speed while being passed and speeding, 30 days in jail suspended on payment of $50 and court costs.

Elmer William Jones—Speeding, bond forfeited. George Jones—Assault. Six months in jail, suspended on the condition that defendant remain sober and on good behavior for three years and pay $25 and court costs.

FHA Officials Convene

M. C. Holland, district FHA supervisor, left, Horace J. Isenhower, state FHA director, and I. M. Robbins, right, county FHA supervisor, attended this week the state FHA training at Morehead City.

Horace J. Isenhower, state FHA director, who attended the two-day state FHA training program Tuesday and Wednesday at Morehead City, termed the FHA housing loan with its new characteristics one of the most important loan programs FHA offers.

Any family can obtain this type of loan if they produce at least $400 in farm products either for sale or home use. The value of the products is based on 1944 prices.

Until recently, the person applying for such a loan had to get a substantial portion of his income from farm products.

I. M. Robbins, county FHA supervisor, said several farmers in Carteret now have these loans. The money is lent at 4 per cent interest and the borrower can take as long as 33 years to pay. FHA does not require a first mortgage on the loan.

Marion C. Holland, district FHA supervisor, said farmers wanting to store corn may want to take advantage of this type of loan during the next few months. Since the money can be used for any type of farm or home building, it can finance the building of grain storage bins. The funds can be used for new buildings, repairing, enlarging or renovating.

The large corn crop in eastern Carolina this year will necessitate building of quite a few storage bins, Mr. Holland observed.

One hundred thirty-five FHA supervisors attended the meeting this week.

Twirlers Win First Place

Blackie Chambers, right, of Atlantic Beach and Durham, and Janet Brown, left, Durham, won first place in the North Carolina duet baton championships at New Bern Saturday.

They placed fourth in the open baton competition in which girls from North and South Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Alabama and Louisiana competed.

Miss Chambers, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Chambers. Miss Brown, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown. Both will be seniors at Durham high this year, where they are head majorettes.

Miss Chambers appeared in the parade in Beaufort during the town's 251st anniversary celebration in July.

At New Bern Saturday she won second place in strutting, fifth in twirling in the open competition, and fourth in state twirling.

The meet was sponsored by the National Baton Twirling association. Three hundred girls entered the open competition and 200 the state.

Club Sees Movie on Rescue Breathing Tuesday Night

Members of the Carteret Business and Professional Women's club saw a film on rescue (mouth-to-mouth) breathing Tuesday night at their meeting in Morehead City.

The film was shown by C. T. Denham, Cherry Point. The sound-color movie pointed out that 30 persons die daily of suffocation in the United States.

It showed how mouth-to-mouth resuscitation revives persons who have nearly drowned, have been overcome with gas fumes, electric shock, are strangling or have suffered any type of injury which prevents their breathing for themselves.

The method brings persons back to life where other resuscitation methods fail. It is highly favored, because the procedure is simple and even a child can administer "rescue breathing."

The steps: 1. Lay victim down with head tilted back.

2. With thumb in corner of victim's mouth, pull the lower jaw forward. This keeps the tongue from flopping back and blocking the air passage to the lungs.

3. With other hand, pinch victim's nostrils shut, to prevent leakage of air through the nose.

4. Seal victim's mouth with yours and exhale your breath into him.

6. Breathe into victim about once every four or five seconds. When your head is lifted to inhale, breathe deeply. Speed of breathing into victim is not as important as breathing regularly. Watch victim's chest. It will rise when you breathe into victim and fall when your mouth is lifted from his.

"The film pointed out that the 'germs,' if any, that may be contracted in this process are inconsequential when compared to saving a life. Although the breath exhaled by an individual contains carbon dioxide, it also contains sufficient oxygen to help a person who is dying from suffocation.

Miss Aida Willis was in charge of the program. During the business session, Mrs. Juanita Moore, Beaufort, was voted in as a new club member.

A letter from Mrs. Joyce Fulford was read. It thanked the club for entering a float in the Beaufort anniversary parade. Prior to the meeting, the hostess, Mrs. Clein Johnson, served a barbecued chicken supper.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. R. Morrill. The executive board and the committee for National Business Women's Week will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Miss Ruth Peeling.

Coast Guard Refloats Cabin Cruiser Monday

A 33-foot cabin cruiser ran aground in Bogue Sound Monday afternoon and needed Coast Guard assistance to be refloated.

The Fort Macon station received a call at 2:50 Monday that the boat was on bottom near buoy number seven. The 30-footer was dispatched and had the cabin cruiser refloated within 30 minutes. The boat was owned by J. T. Edwards of Saluda, S. C.

The crew aboard the 30-footer was J. M. Gilgo, BM-3 and P. A. Warner, SA.

rather regularly, the last time being last week.

Herbert Phillips III, 3201 Arendell St., reports that the truck has been by his house a few times, and that mosquitoes are not as bad as they have been.

Among the folks who have seen the truck once or twice this summer are P. H. Geer Sr., 3207 Evans St.; Mrs. Bobby Willis, 1411 Shepherd St.; and Mrs. Thomas Noe, Yaupon Terrace. Mrs. Dom Femia, 2003 Arendell, said she had not seen the truck, but had smelled the fog which probably had been sprayed in her neighborhood.

Mrs. Reginald Bland, 2208 Bridges St., reports that she has not seen the truck at all this summer. Neither has Miss Carolyn Laine, who lives at 1100 Arendell St., although Miss Laine said she is not always at home.

Others who have yet to lay eyes on the truck are a resident in the 2000 block of Fisher Street, Mrs. E. C. Willis, 1401 Arendell St., and Mrs. Ethan Davis, 604 Bridges St.

In Beaufort seven persons in various parts of town were contacted and all seven replied that their area is sprayed.

Mrs. H. F. Frytherch, 610 Ann St., said the truck comes by her house at least once a week, sometimes oftener. Mrs. Sam Chadwick, 514 Pollock St., said it seems that her street is visited almost every time the truck is out.

Mrs. C. E. Sharp, 215 Ann St., says her street is sprayed fairly regularly and Mrs. C. M. Winstead, 414 Turner St., reports that the truck sprays her neighborhood occasionally.

Mrs. Dan Darling, 412 Turner St., says she has seen the truck three

The matter was deferred until a meeting later this year which will be called by Mr. Rodgers.

Mr. Rodgers said it might be necessary to limit use of "heavy gear" by trawlers, operating in the sounds, to protect bottoms and certain species of fish. Governor Hodges, who was present, concurred with Mr. Rodgers.

George Eastman, Beaufort, in a written report presented his views on how to correct certain problems in the commercial fishing industry. Mr. Rodgers referred the report to the subcommittee on the processing and packaging of food products.

It was agreed to request Mr. Eastman to attend a commercial fisheries meeting and have him present his views in person.

Mr. Eastman, when contacted yesterday by THE NEWS-TIMES, said he could not reveal the contents of his report, adding that he was a member of a "committee" that had been asked to look into commercial fishing.

Other matters before the commercial fisheries committee:

1. Horace Hooper, Stumpy Point, asked that night shrimping be stopped. No action was taken.

2. Wayland Baum, Wanchese, requested a closed season on shad. Mr. Baum and Mr. Hooper were told that if they wanted a public hearing on their requests to get petitions, each signed by five persons.

3. Dr. W. W. Harvey, Manteo, said his area is interested in establishing artificial reefs in the sounds. Steps to obtain approval were outlined for him.

4. Committee approved establishment of an artificial reef in the Southport area, providing it complied with certain specifications. Also approved was a request to allow crab pots the year around in Hyde county waters between West Bluff shoals and Long Shoal river within two miles of shore. (Both were later okayed by the C&D board.)

5. Wayland Baum, Wanchese, said purse nets were threatening gamefish, especially rock fish (striped bass) and were increasing in number. The committee promised to discuss Mr. Baum's remarks at a later meeting.

6. The Institute of Government will be asked to bring up to date regulations and laws affecting commercial fishermen.

7. Oyster leases to the following were approved: Charles L. Westcott, Wanchese; T. B. Smith, Davis; W. P. Freeman and John E. Seitter, Morehead City.

or four times and Mrs. Ruth Davis, 121 Front St., says its trips by her house are fairly frequent.

Mrs. Cecil Peterson, 630 Broad St., said the truck visited her neighborhood every night for a while, but has slackened up now.

Extent of mosquito infestation usually dictates the frequency of spraying. In addition to the town and county programs, residents themselves are urged to keep down the mosquito population by getting rid of standing water, putting oil-soaked sawdust bags in low areas where water ponds after rains, and if possible, operating their own spray equipment in the vicinity of their homes.

R. D. Shinkle, certified lay speaker of Cherry Point and associate lay leader of the New Bern district, will preach at the morning worship service Sunday in Bethlehem Methodist church, Bogue. The pastor is the Rev. John Casey.
