

Travel Host School Will Begin Monday

The county health department and the Greater Morehead City chamber of commerce will sponsor a Travel Host school at the recreation building, Morehead City, Monday through Friday.

Waitresses of this area are invited to enroll. Courses will be given in food handling, courtesy, and tourist information applicable to this area.

The classes will be in the west clubroom from 9 to 11 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m. daily.

Speaking on tourist information of this area will be Grayden Paul, Beaufort, and Joe DuBois, Morehead City. Other instructors will be M. M. Melvin and Mrs. Joan K. Smith of the Department of Public Instruction and Jesse Canady of the State Health department.

Films to be shown are the following: An outbreak of Staphylococcus Infection, Safe Food Service, Hash Slinging to Food Handling, and Company is Coming.

A. D. Fulford, county sanitarian, will be the presiding official.

There is no charge for the instruction. This will be the fourth Travel Host school to be conducted here. The board of Conservation and Development, State Travel council and other tourist-promotion agencies strongly urge that restaurants, drive-ins and other places serving the public enroll their employees in the school.

Certificates will be given those who successfully complete the course.

Case Returned To Lower Court

In a case remanded from superior court to Morehead City recorder's court, James T. Brown, Morehead City, was given a six-month suspended jail sentence Monday for no operator's license and drunk driving.

Brown originally was tried in Morehead recorder's court April 17 on the charges and drew a sentence of six months, suspended on payment of $250 and court costs. He appealed the verdict.

The court issued an order for a Wilson man, W. G. Carr Jr., to be brought in to stand trial in three weeks. Carr was called Monday but failed to appear to answer a charge of issuing a worthless check.

Robert Franklin Mader, Morehead City, charged with running a red light, forfeited bond while Donald C. Flood, Cherry Point, paid costs for a similar offense.

Five cases were continued until later terms of court. Judge Herbert Phillips presided.

Donations Still Being Taken for Red Cross

Garland Scruggs, Morehead City, chairman of the county Red Cross chapter, says contributions are still being accepted in the Red Cross drive.

Soliciting in Morehead City has been very lax, he said. Total contributions in the drive to date are only slightly more than $1,000. The goal was $4,500.

Boy Improves

Therman Godette, 9-year-old Adams Creek boy suffering from lockjaw, continues to improve slowly at Morehead City hospital. His 15-year-old brother, Dennis, entered the hospital this week with an arm infection, but was discharged yesterday. NEWS-TIMES readers have contributed, to date, $206.25 to help the Godette family.

Sub-Committees Go Along With Food Tax Proposals

At 15 minutes before midnight Wednesday the House sub-finance committee, which is charged with the responsibility of deciding how to raise money for Governor Sanford's education program, hammered out a proposal.

The House subcommittee went along with the Senate sub-committee in recommending a 3 per cent sales tax on food. Eliminated from the governor's proposals was the taxing of counties, cities and towns.

The House sub-committee generally went along with the Senate sub-committee. The $90 tax limit on passenger autos was taken off, which means that this tax may now exceed $80. The tax limit on trucks and airplanes is raised from $80 to $120, according to House sub-committee recommendations.

Both sub-committees agree that prescription medicine, commercial fertilizer, lime, livestock, poultry,

Radish Hits Super-Size

Mrs. Carrie Bedsworth, Morehead City, displays a 1 1/4-pound radish grown on the Alice Laughton farm, Crab Point. It really is a radish, not a turnip. Those who tasted it said it was hot. The top had gone to seed before it was pulled.

Recommendations Would Sharpen Teeth of Fisheries Regulations

If recommendations of the sports-commercial fishing committee are carried out, there will be sharper teeth in commercial fishing regulations and $30,000 will be given the fisheries for research that would lead to better management of marine resources.

The committee had its final meeting Wednesday at the commercial fisheries building, Morehead City, and came up with nine recommendations.

The advisory fisheries committee, headed by A. W. Daniels, Cedar Island and Charlotte, will sift through them. Then they will be presented to the commercial fisheries committee itself, and finally get to the Board of Conservation and Development.

Whether they arrive at the top the same way they started out at the bottom, remains to be seen.

The recommendations follow:

1. Request the present general assembly to appropriate $30,000, previously requested by C&D, for research affecting commercial and sports fisheries.
2. Authorize C. G. Holland, commercial fisheries commissioner to go through present fishing regulations, indicate those he thinks are unenforceable, then turn all regulations over to the Institute of Government to be codified.
3. Officers enforcing fisheries regulations should be required to attend courses in regulation and law enforcement at the Institute of Government, Chapel Hill.
4. The commercial fisheries division should be given sufficient personnel to enforce fishing regulations.
5. Catching of trash or undersized fish solely for selling to animal food plants or for other industrial purposes should be outlawed. But these fish, if caught in the normal process of legal fishing operation, may be sold to processing plants.
6. Trawlers, outboard motorboats, and partyboats should not go within 1,000 feet on either side of fishing piers. Fishing piers should not extend more than 2,000 feet from high water mark on beach. At present boats may come within 300 feet of piers.

7. Action deferred on changing name of commercial fisheries division to Marine Coastal Fisheries. Commercial fishermen felt this should be delayed until further study is made.

8. Governor should give sports fishermen, pier fishing operators and party boatmen representation on the new advisory fisheries commission he will name.

9. Effort should be made to govern operation of sports fishing boats in areas worked by commercial fishing boats. The committee observed that there are apparently no regulations regarding this in existence now.

Members of the committee, formed in January to iron out differences between sports and commercial fishermen, are the following:

Charles Davis, Beaufort, and Turner Battle, Rocky Mount, co-chairmen; Garland Fulcher, Oriental; James Howard, Wrightsville Beach; Gordon Willis, Davis; Kenneth Sprunt, Wilmington; Bill Robinson, Kure Beach; Lonnie Small, Holden's Beach.

Wednesday's meeting was the third and last of the special committee.

Two Lines to Use Marine Railroad

The Interstate Commerce Commission has ruled that two railroad lines, both the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line, may operate on the Camp Lejeune road between Lejeune and Cherry Point.

The 36-mile line has been "chopped up" as to operation privileges. Southern will have exclusive right to operate on 27.1 miles of the road, ACL will operate on 5.65 miles, and a 3.24 section will be open to both lines.

The ICC has been considering proposals for private operation of the Marine Corps railroad for 18 months. Southern had been hoping to be given the privilege of operating the entire road.

The ICC rejected the proposal last year and agreed to consider a proposal for joint operation.

Howard Hill has been working the midnight to 8 a. m. shift in the Beaufort police department, in the absence of officer Maxwell Wade, who has been ill.

Cabbage Growers Unhappy With Prices This Spring

Cabbage growers of the county have been extremely disappointed in the prices received this spring.

L. D. Springle, a Russells Creek grower, said the price has stayed rigid at 90 cents a hundred pounds. Cost of a crate in which the cabbage is packed is 43 to 44 cents. Cost of cutting is 15 cents, which leaves 41 cents to meet the cost of cabbage plants, fertilizer and labor involved in growing the cabbage.

R. M. Williams, county agricultural agent, says most growers produced 10 or more tons of cabbage per acre. At one time the price went up to $1.25 for a short period. Most of the cabbage has been harvested.

Late frost cut back the tops of Irish potatoes and harvest has been delayed 10 days to two weeks. Potato digging is expected to start between June 10 and 15, Mr. Williams said.

The late spring crop of potatoes in this country, which includes potatoes grown in Carteret, is expected to total 2 1/4 million hundredweight, according to the state Crop Reporting Service.

Wins Three Offices

H. J. Williamson, manager of the Biltmore hotel, Morehead City, was recently elected to three offices in the Hotel Greeters association.

Mr. Williamson has been named a director of the international association, vice-president of the southeastern regional association of Hotel Greeters, and president of the North Carolina Hotel Greeters association.

The southeastern region covers West Virginia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mr. Williamson's holding three offices at one time is reported to be unprecedented in the association's history.

Hospital Committee Gives Report to Trustees Monday

The Carteret Memorial hospital board of trustees heard a committee report Monday night at the courthouse, recommending that as soon as the way is clear for hospital construction an administrator shall be employed.

The report was made by committee members appointed to investigate the matter, Gerald Hill, Mrs. Clayton Fulcher Jr. and Roger Jones. A letter from William Henderson, executive secretary of the Medical Care commission also advised early employment of the administrator.

The hospital building committee and doctors' committee will meet tonight with George Watts Carr, architect.

Luther Hamilton Jr., county attorney, briefed the trustees on the case that went before the supreme court Tuesday relative to Carteret's proposed hospital.

He said that a decision from the supreme court may not be forthcoming for two to three weeks. The trustees decided that they would not meet again until after the court decision is known.

Bud Dixon, hospital board chairman, presided.

Republican Top Executives Will Convene Here

The senior executive committee of North Carolina Republican party, in conjunction with North Carolina Federation of Young Republicans will be guests of the Carteret Republican club on Saturday, June 10, at the Biltmore hotel, Morehead City.

Meetings will be held jointly from 3 'til 5 p. m., followed by a coffee hour sponsored by the Carteret Republican club from 5 'til 6 p. m. "Due to the enthusiasm shown by this club since the national elections, these executive groups have taken a great deal of interest in the east and hope to create a closer tie with the state organization," said E. D. Willis, club president.

These meetings will bring together leading Republicans from Manteo to Murphy who will continue to plan political strategy for the entire state, he continued. At the last meeting of these groups in Durham in February, such leaders as congressman Charles R. Jonas, Robert L. Gavin, William E. Ostenen, and other members of the General Assembly were present.

These in addition to others throughout the state are expected to attend the June meeting. The public is invited and Carteret Republican club members are urged to attend, Mr. Willis concluded.

Two Arrested In Check Fraud

Will Owens, employee at a Beaufort fish factory, was charged Tuesday afternoon with stealing a $124 check from Edna Warren, N. 12th St., Morehead City.

Dora Mann, Morehead City, was charged with forging the check and Owens with aiding and abetting in the forgery. Sheriff Hugh Salter said yesterday that Owens got the check out of the mailbox, then he and Dora went to the Mansfield Superette where she forged Edna Warren's name on the back of it in the presence of a store employee.

The Mann woman turned the money over to Owens, the sheriff said, and he in turn gave her $30 for her part in the deal. Each was released from the county jail Wednesday under $300 bond.

Chamber Adds Two Committees

Skinner Chalk, president of the Greater Morehead City chamber of commerce, has named two more committees. They are safety and fire prevention and public health.

On the safety and fire prevention committee are Moses Howard, Newport, chairman; Vernon Guthrie, D. J. Hall, Kib Guthrie and Clyde Blanchard, all of Morehead City; James Wheatley, Grady Davis, Davis; Mitchell Taylor, Atlantic; and Claude Brown, Marshallberg.

Chairman of the public health committee is Dr. M. T. Lewis, Beaufort. Members are Dr. L. W. Moore, Dr. John Morris, Dr. S. W. Hatcher and Dr. Ben Royal.

Ray Ransom and Glenn Adair, Beaufort, have also been appointed to the industrial development committee, H. S. Gibbs Jr., chairman.

Commencement At Newport Will Begin at 8 Monday

Newport high school seniors will graduate Monday night at 8, announces E. B. Comer, Newport principal. The commencement address will be given by Dr. Amos Abrams, editor of North Carolina Education magazine.

The Rev. Ralph Fleming Jr., pastor of St. James Methodist church, Newport, will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday night at 8. Both exercises will be held in the school auditorium.

Eighth grade promotion exercises will begin Tuesday morning at 9 at the school.

Parents and friends of the students are invited to all the events, Mr. Comer said.

Hearing Set for 7:45 In School Lunchroom

Place of the hearing on annexing an area on the outskirts of Newport, toward Cherry Point, has been changed to the school lunch room. The hearing will begin at 7:45 p. m. Monday. The town plans to annex the area by ordinance, not by vote of people in the area.

Change of the place from the town hall to the lunch room was made to accommodate the large crowd expected. Mayor Leon Mann has requested retiring and incoming officials to attend.

In a letter inviting residents of the area to attend the hearing, R. K. Montague, who is a resident of that area, said, "I have been advised that the reason the town officials favor this annexation is that 'close in' areas are basically homogeneous to the incorporated areas. Out-of-town dwellers in the fringe areas normally receive many benefits from the town and pay for little, if any, of the services."

"Incorporated municipalities have more legal authority than counties. Thus in town, citizens have more recourse legally on such matters as zoning, public nuisances, traffic control, public libraries, et cetera.

"Adequate police protection, fire protection, water, sewage, mosquito control, street lighting, recreation; are impossible outside of corporate areas. Finally, incorporation affords people a voice in their local affairs not otherwise possible."

NOTICE: George Ball, town attorney for Newport, said yesterday the hearing will have to comply with the legal notice. If there is too large a crowd to be accommodated in the town hall, the group will then move to the school lunch room.

Drunk Drivers Pay Stiff Fines In County Court

Three drunk driving offenders appeared before county recorder's court judge Lambert R. Morris Tuesday and were handed stiff fines. They were Marvin Elwood Kirkman, Frederick Carrol Raymond and Lloyd E. Greene.

The warrant on Raymond was amended to read careless and reckless driving. He and Greene were each fined $100 and court costs. Kirkman, also charged with speeding, was fined $110 and costs.

J. E. Morris appeared to answer non-support charges and was given a six-month jail sentence, suspended on payment of costs and the condition that he provide adequate support for his wife and minor children.

Speeding violators numbered 24. Nine of the defendants, Richard Arlen Lewis, Charles T. Henderson, Junior John Wilson, Edgar M. Smith, William T. Jenkins, W. P. Baker, Dewitt C. McConter, Herman W. Ireland, and Charles Dawson Mason, were ordered to pay court costs and three others, Gerry Theodore Smith, Oscar Hoyle Loney and John Sandlin Hargett, failed to appear and forfeited bond.

Three-Day Bridge Tourney Opens Today at Beach Hotel

The County Bridge league will sponsor its annual three-day tournament this weekend at the Atlantic Beach hotel. The tournament opens at 2 p. m. today with women's pair and men's pair games. Mixed pairs will be played tonight.

Tomorrow afternoon's play will be devoted to eliminations in open pair competition. At the evening session open pair play will continue and the consolation game will be held.

Both the afternoon and evening sessions on Sunday will be devoted to teams-of-four games.

The Bonner trophy will be awarded the winner of the men's pair games and silver prizes will be awarded the winner of each event. Serving on the rules committee are Mrs. D. J. Lewis of New Bern, Al Dewey and Harry Saunders of Beaufort, Harold Hamrick of Kinston and S. Bryan Broadford of Wilmington. Richard Goldberg, representative of the American Contract Bridge League, will direct the tournament.

Officers of the county league are Mrs. B. O. Ketter, president; Calvin Jones, vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Chadwick, secretary; and Mrs. James Rumley, treasurer.

Boating Class To Dine June 5

Those who completed the Cape Lookout Power squadron boating course at Morehead City recently will attend a banquet at the Biltmore hotel, Morehead City, Monday night, June 5.

Date of the banquet was announced at a recent meeting of the squadron at the Hotel Fort Macon, Morehead City.

William Ippock and Jim Lombard said cruises have been scheduled for June 10 to Clubfoot creek and for July 8 and 9 to Cape Lookout.

New officers of the squadron who were installed recently are John Donnelly, Cherry Point, commander; Henry Phillips, Beaufort, lieutenant commander, and Lt. Joel Anderson, New Bern, first lieutenant. Robert Darden, New Bern, is filling the unexpired term of Royal LaBree as secretary.

Cape Lookout squadron is comprised of members from New Bern, Cherry Point, Morehead City and Beaufort. The squadron plans another boating course to be held in Morehead City, beginning Jan. 15, 1962.

Youth Sternly Reprimanded For Trying Offshore Swim

A Havelock youth, Tommy Tew, Tuesday afternoon decided to swim into the Gulf Stream from the Pavilion on Atlantic Beach—only he didn't make it. Tew and an Atlantic Beach life guard were picked up about 3,000 feet from the beach by a Coast Guard cutter.

Witnesses said that Tew was sitting in the Pavilion when he announced that he was going to swim "outside" (outside is a term generally used to refer to waters beyond the surf).

Despite warnings not to try it, Tew entered the water and began swimming. Life guards called him back but Tew ignored their pleas. Finally lifeguard Sam Yeomans started out to retrieve Tew and the Coast Guard was summoned.

The Fort Macon 40-footer arrived on the scene in about ten minutes and picked up Yeomans but Tew refused to get aboard. The cutter escorted the swimming Tew back to the beach where he was taken in custody by Atlantic Beach police officers. He was taken to Five speeders drew fines of $5 and court costs. They were Carl Sidney Rapp, Michael Davis Collins, Grover Wilson Jones, Robert Roy Casey Jr., and Alan Roger Hall. Patrick Lawley Jr. and Don Edward Auten drew $2 fines and court costs for speeding and Macy Fitzgerald was fined $4 and costs.

James Gordon Willis was given a 30-day jail sentence, suspended on payment of $10 and costs for exceeding the speed limit and Donald Roy Edick, Arthur Kennedy Lewis were also fined $10 and costs. The speeding case of Charles Edward Alfred was not prosecuted.

Other defendants, their charges and the findings of the court were as follows:

Tina Mae Smith, having no operator's license, costs.

Hezekiah Nolan, having improper registration, costs.

T. A. Taylor, violating fishing laws, bond forfeited.

Norman Arthur Grady, having an improper muffler, bond forfeited.

Moulton Hamilton Jr., no operator's license, costs.

Francis Fishon, careless and reckless driving, $10 and costs.

Clem Gaskill, no operator's license, $25 and costs.

Jerry Brown, careless and reckless driving, $50 and costs.

Richard Tamor Greene, failing to dim lights, costs.

Earl Klutz Fisher Jr., failing to stop for a stop sign, bond forfeited.

Florence Jacob Taylor, an expired operator's license, costs.

Joe and Edgar Lewis, trespassing, not prosecuted.

Judy Parrish, assault, $11 and costs.

Guy Taylor, no operator's license and no license plates on trailer. The defendant was not prosecuted on the first charge and he forfeited bond on the second.

Leland Theodore Rogers, failing to stop for a stop sign, $10 and costs.

Franklin Dupree Brock, having no license plates on trailer, bond forfeited.

James Gordon Bason, failing to stop for a stop sign, $10 and costs.

Kenneth T. Ferry and Daniel P. Daly, attempted larceny, $25 and one-half court costs to each defendant.

Ottis Cannady Jones, having an expired operator's license, costs.

William Taft Connon, driving in the wrong lane, costs.

J. M. Bridges, using profane and vulgar language in public, not prosecuted.

James C. Moore, issuing a worthless check. The court ordered the defendant to honor the check and pay $9 of the court costs.

Twenty-one new cases were transferred to later terms of court.

A couch in the living room of the Andrew Davis apartments, 105 S. 10th St., Morehead City, burned at 11:30 Sunday night. Fire chief Lindsey Guthrie says the fire probably started from a cigarette.
