State Prepares To Build Bridge Approaches

Army Engineers Asked For Dredging Permit

Bridge Planned for 60 Feet North of RR Span

The state highway commission has applied to Army engineers for permission to dredge up embankments which would form the foundation for approaches to the proposed new Morehead City bridge between Beaufort and Morehead City.

The state proposes to locate the fixed span bridge, across Newport river, approximately 60 feet north of the present railroad bridge. Representatives of the state bridge department and highway right-ofway department have been in town this week.

J. H. Burruss, resident engineer with the highway commission, said yesterday that the approaches are being staked out, probably with a view to acquiring right-of-ways.

Army engineers state that any objection to the proposed dredging, from the standpoint of navigation, will be accepted at the district office, 308 Customhouse, Wilmington, until Monday, Jan. 8. Removal of 400,000 cubic yards of material is planned.

The dredging will be done in Calico creek, Newport river and Gallants channel, according to Army engineers.

Plans for the work may be seen at the postoffices in Beaufort and

Morehead City. Col. R. P. Davidson, district engineer, says that a permit for dredging expresses assent of the Corps of Engineers so far as public rights of navigation are concerned. He adds, ". . . as a matter of policy, permits are not usually issued in cases where state or local authorities disapprove the propos-ed work in the public interest."

The proposed width of the bridge poundage rose from 46,292,000,000 bridge. The proposed 140-foot chan-

Highway Patrolmen Cite Nine Drivers Saturday

Nine arrests were made Saturday night when the state highway patrol concentrated its enforcement efforts on highways 24 and 70, west of Morehead City, for a distance of ten miles.

Sgt. R. H. Nutt of the New Bern patrol office said the violations included no operator's license, improper registration, drunk driving, public drunkenness on the highway, improper passing and speeding. The arrests were made be-tween 7 and 11 p.m.
